MEETING #25
JANUARY 17, 1990

MINUTES

- I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.
- II. Pleas Shorts was absent.
- III. The agenda was approved as amended.
- IV. The minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

- A. President: Dave had no report at this time.
- B. Advisors: Bob had no report at this time.

Ronda reported that the first day of registration was today and everyone is wearing their new turquoise shirts. There is also a home basketball game on Saturday Jan. 20th. Matt mentioned that we had a lot of ASB members sign up today and Dave mentioned that Executive Cabinet should really take time to work the table and encourage membership. Ronda also mentioned that the return rate on emergency loans has been very low, but she will get back to us with a full report on this issue.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

- A. ASBOOTM: It was decided to choose Sue Paul as ASBOOTM for the month of November and Mave Brown as ASBOOTM for the month of December.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Speakers: Dave mentioned that Linda Zimmerman talked to him about the $70 repair charge for the two AS speakers she had rented for $64. Linda requested that Executive Cabinet allocate money to pay for the rental fee of the speakers.

It was moved to allocate up to $64, out of Designated Surplus, to pay for the rental fee of the Associated Students' speakers.

M/S/C

B. Leadership Day Menu/Budget: The Executive Cabinet looked over a menu/budget schedule for Leadership Day, provided by the chair of the committee, Michael Dolin.

It was moved to allocate $380, out of Skill Development, for Leadership Day meals.

M/S/C

C. Parking Forum: E.C. mentioned that he has met with John Hamblin, transportation commissioner, Lamont Royer, Terry Stewart, April Chaney, and Curt Groniga and they decided to have the Parking Forum on Monday, Feb. 5th, from 12:00-1:30pm, in the Pioneer Hall Assembly Room. Dave will M.C. instead of E.C. and Mark will sit on the panel.

D. Forensics: Dave mentioned that Susan Stathas is planning on taking 14 people to the Nationals during Spring Break, and that they want to put their reservations in soon in order to receive a discount. Mark added that he feels that a formal copy of the budget is necessary before Executive Cabinet makes a decision and he also mentioned that the administration really supports the Forensics team and it seems as though they would be happy to fund the trip. It was decided to ask Susan for a further cost breakdown and a reason why the department chair will not go to the the administration.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Press Democrat Sponsorship: The Press Democrat is requesting sponsorship so that they can come on campus and offer student discounts on subscriptions.

It was moved to sponsor The Press Democrat to come on campus and distribute information on student discounts for subscriptions.

M/S/C

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Executive Cabinet: It was decided not to have a meeting next week.

B. Facilities Planning Committee: Bob passed out a copy of the latest minutes from the Facilities Planning Committee.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 4:20.

MINUTES

- I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.
- II. Absent were: E.C. Gregory, Jeff Rebischung, Ed Mugge, Molly Mrowka, Greg Pirak, Ben Wyly, Sara Dose, and Patraya Miller.
- III. The agenda was aproved as amended.
- IV. The minutes were approved as amened.

V. REPORTS

A. PRESIDENT: Dave reported that the Martin Luther King Jr. Program was really impressive today and we all gave Pleas a round of applause. Dave also wished us luck on our finals and he recapped events through this past semester, and thanked everyone for all of their hard work. Then he passed out CSA pins to all the members and mentioned some of their achievements for the past semester.

B. ADVISORS: Bob reported that today's MLK Jr. program was excellent and a great accomplishment for SRJC and the student body, as well as the Associated Students. He also thanked Ronda for the great job she has done this semester. Bob added that he really has enjoyed working with us this last semester and thanked us for all of our hard work. In addition, he thanked Dave for his terrific dedication to the student government here at SRJC.

Ronda thanked Bob for helping her out in her first semester as Activities Advisor and she also thanked CSA for helping out. She also thanked those who worked ticket crew for the Khris Kringle Classic Tournament. Ronda added too that CSA needs to volunteer to work the ASB table during arena registration to advertize and inform students about out organization.

C. MLK Jr. : Pleas reported that this was the best MLK Jr. program he has ever seen he thanked many CSA members who helped with the publicity and organization, and for attending the program today.

D. Holiday Dance: Mave reported that the dance went great, although we did not have the turnout we had expected. But everyone that did attend had a great time. He also thanked all of those who put in the long hours to help decorate.

E. Faculty Profile: Dan Nirdlinger reported that Faculty Profile was sent to the printers, but because of a little delay in printing, he was unable to show us a copy today. However, it will be available by arena registration for the low price of $.50. He also thanked his committee: Pleas Shorts, Jim Garcia, Matt Zumstein, John Hamblin, and Kevin Tracey.

F. ASB Today: Jim Garcia reported that ASB Today is almost done and will be out by arena registration.

G. Thank You CSA: Scott Stickel and Charles Smyth thanked CSA for giving them the chance to join CSA. And Liz Russell thanked CSA for all of the memories that she will take to Berkeley with her.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. Publicity Committee: Sue Paul passed around a sign-up sheet for anyone interested in joining the publicity committee for the spring semester.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. There was no old business at this time.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. 1989-90 Budget: It was moved to augment $1385.61 to Assemblies, $1301.35 to Leadership Retreat, and $210.34 to Office Supplies. The total being - $2897.30 to be augmented to ASB card sales.

M/S/C

There was one abstention.

Mave Brown stressed the fact that we need to really push ASB membership during arena registration in order to make much needed funds.

B. Herold Mahoney: Dave mentioned that Herold Mahoney is retiring from his position on the Board of Trustees and that it was brought up in Executive Cabinet to get him a gift.

It was moved to allocate, out of Designated Surplus, $50 for a plaque and $250 for a donation to a scholarship fund of Herold Mahoney's choice, or to a scholarship that may be initiated on his behalf.

M/S/C

C. CSA Banquet: It was moved to allocate up to $300, out of Designated Surplus, for the end of the semester CSA Banquet.

M/S/C

There was one abstention.

D. National Condom Week: Carol mentioned that National Condom Week is coming up in February and that a committee should start getting together soon.

Sister City — USSR offers trip scholarships

Sister City — USSR is offering $500 scholarship grants at six Sonoma County high schools and Santa Rosa Junior College for a two-week trip to the Soviet Union in April.

A highlight of the visit will be home stays in Cherkassy, Santa Rosa's unofficial sister city in the Soviet Union.

Officials say it will be the fifth annual trip of county residents to Cherkassy.

Eligible students attend Cloverdale, El Molino, Healdsburg, Montgomery, Piner and Santa Rosa high schools. The scholarships have been provided by businesses, service clubs and community organizations.

Grant funds still are being sought. The donation deadline is Jan. 3. Information is available at each school or by calling 829-3213.

Date auction needs a few good persons

"Bid for Bachelors" has become the "KZST Fantasy Date Auction," with date packages by bachelorettes on the block along with those of bachelors.

Forty of each, over 21 and legally single, are needed to complete the March 9 programme. Assistants will be available to help in creating fantasy dates, professional photos and gentlemen's formal wear will be provided.

Proceeds from the auction will benefit the homeless of Sonoma County. Applications are due by Friday. For further information, call Singularity Benefit Events, 578-4707.

Other stuff

We are looking for a turtle here. Not a Teen-age Mutant Ninja Turtle. A Mock Turtle. And Molly Boice didn't sound real hopeful when she called. "I'm sure you get calls like this all the time," she said deprecatingly, preceding her story about how SRJC's theater arts department had lost its Mock Turtle on Santa Rosa Avenue on Sunday afternoon.

"We were coming back from the Holiday Inn where we did 'Alice in Wonderland' for some abused children, and the Mock Turtle bounced out of the back of the pickup," said Boice. "So if someone finds this turtle, 3 or 4 feet around made of green shiny material with dots, with leg holes and a head hole, could they return it please by Thursday? That's the next performance."

Sure, Molly. We must get 10 calls a day from people looking for lost Mock Turtles. Had two just before you called.

And good luck.

Classical music festival Feb. at SRJC

Music teachers are beginning to prepare their students to participate in a Festival of Classical Music starting at 1 p.m. Feb. 4 at Newman Auditorium at Santa Rosa Junior College.

The program is sponsored by the Sonoma County Branch of the Music Teachers of California. Teachers, however, do not have to be affiliated with the music organization to have students participate.

The festival is open to elementary through high school students from Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino counties with hour-long segments planned. Student performances will be limited to eight minutes. The program is free to public attendance.

Students are required to perform instrumental, vocal solos or ensembles from the Classical Period, 1750-1820, or to perform music composed in the Classical style. A registration fee of $5 is charged for each soloist or ensemble.

Information or registration is available by calling 539-3697 or 538-7438.

HEY EVERYBODY!

The ASB Today is coming out this week. You can pick one up wherever you get your BEAR FACTS. The ASB today is loaded with information about past, present and future events, Exec. Cab. member profiles, a letter from BIG DAVE, and the benefits of being a member.

In addition to informing y'all about the ASB Today itself, I would also like to take the time to give recognition to those who contributed their time and talent to this project, Cheryl De La Cruz, Mary Giovando, and Sue Paul.

As you know, if you were here last semester, the production of the ASB Today was one of the goals set forth at THE RETREAT.

And now, to those hard working people, I give my most sincere thanks, and appreciation.

Bondage tale gives new meaning to 'safe sex'

Dear Ann Landers: After reading your recent column on how bondage enhances people's sex lives, I knew I had to share this true story.

It seems a couple sitting on their back porch enjoying a lovely summer evening were startled by blood-curdling screams for help coming from their neighbors' home.

After dialing 911 and arming themselves with a baseball bat, the couple proceeded to their neighbors' house to assist in any way they could. As luck would have it, the front door was unlocked so they walked right in. They followed the frantic calls for help to an upstairs bedroom, where they found the neighbor lady stark naked and tied hand and foot to her bed. On the floor lay her husband, unconscious, wearing a batman cape and mask.

It became apparent the couple was into both bondage and fantasies. Mr. Batman had attempted to leap from the dresser onto the bed. In the process he bumped his head on the ceiling fan and went out like a light.

The couple untied Mrs. Batman, revived Mr. Batman and took him to the hospital, where he was treated for a superficial head injury and released.

This little episode certainly gives new meaning to the term "safe sex." — A Minnesota Reader

ANN LANDERS

Dear Min: It sure does. Thanks for my laugh of the day.

Dear Ann Landers: I cannot rest until I respond to the New York woman whose boyfriend keeps encouraging her to gain weight. Since his former wife was a slender bride who had become quite heavy, N.Y. wondered if perhaps her boyfriend is trying to relive his marriage.

This kind of psychoanalytic gobbledygook is a good example of the extent to which people have become brainwashed in this age when "thin is in." Had the opposite been true and the guy insisted she lose weight, no one would have thought a thing about it, much less assigned hidden motives. My own guess is the gent (like many others) simply prefers women who have a little meat on their bones.

It's incredible how difficult it is to convince people it is quite possible for a man to prefer plump to petite. I should know, Ann, because I have had this preference all my life. I've told my family and friends repeatedly that heavy women are fine with me, but they insist on fixing me up with hollow-cheeked females who are flat as a board both in front and in back.

No one bats an eye at a preference for blond over brunette, or olive skin over fair, but as soon as someone prefers chubby over skinny, it's time to invoke Freud. Considering how many of the Old Masters painted women with voluptuous bosoms, heavy thighs and buxom backsides, it's difficult to understand today's worship of the bag of bones and the hank of hair. MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda #1 and #2 were approved.

IV. Minutes #25 and #1 were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that everyone is doing good and he reminded Executive Cabinet to return their blue schedule cards ASAP. Dave also made sure that we all received a copy of his letter to Susan Stathas concerning the funding of the Forensics Team's trip to National competition. Executive Cabinet decided to hold a special meeting on Mon. Feb. 5th, at 2:00 to take care of this business.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that ASB registration numbers are at 3,998 - 122 less than last year at this time. Also, the Associated Students are giving out book loans at this time. In addition, Bob mentioned that for Leadership Day on Saturday, Michael Dolin (chariman of the event) is going to try and set up in the lounge on Friday afternoon, and Bob has also received the Meyers Brigg Test for Saturday. Bob added that we must publicize the Parking Forum on Monday, Feb. 5th, right away, in order for it to be successful.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. ASBOOTM: It was moved to appoint John Hamblin as ASBOOTM for the month of January.

M/S/C

B. Select Commissioners: It was moved to appoint Sue Paul as Publicity Commissioner, Ed Muegge as Enabling Commissioner, and Panida Lachman as Ethnic Minorities Commissioner.

M/S/C

It was moved to appoint Lucky Carillo as Arts and Lectures Commissioner.

IV. The minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. PRESIDENT: Dave welcomed everyone back to our first week of the Spring semester. He reported that we donated $250.00 to Herold Mahony. He has retired from the Board of Trustees. This donation is for a scholarship fund or for a donation of his choice. He also mentioned that we got our new laser printer in. He also mentioned to be very careful when printing because each print is very expensive. Dave then introduced himself to those who did not know him. He then asked everyone to introduce themselves. He also mentioned that if your name was not called you need to pick up an application after the meeting.

B. ADVISERS: Bob Welcomed everyone back. He handed out some handouts and the first one was information about the summer employment internship at Hewlett Packard. M. Scott gave some information on the program and asked if you have any questions you can come and see him. The next one was information about the unit available in CSA. The next handout was information on Pol SI 50. He explained what the class was about and encouraged members to sign-up for this class. The last handout was some interesting clippings from different newspapers.

Ronda introduced herself and mentioned that she has enjoyed being associated with SRJC for 10 years. Ronda announced that book loans will be available this Wednesday from 2:30 - 4:15 and 5:30 - 7:15. If you are interested in helping out please see her. Ronda also mentioned that Club Days are coming soon and will be on February 14th and 15th. She welcomed the new members to CSA.

C. ICC : M. Scott explained that as chair to ICC he reports back to CSA. On Tuesday the 9th ICC had a banquet. Baptist Student Ministries are having a table in the coop during registration to distribute information. SAM is sponcering a table in the coop to petition for animal rights. Irish Club is haveing a St. Patrick's Day dinner on March 10, from 7-10 cost is $12.50. The best club award was given to GAIA.

D. Parking Forum: John Hamblin reported that on Monday, Febuary 5th we will be having a Parking Forum here from 12 - 1:30. He encouraged everyone who can make it to attend this event. The panel will consist of four people, Kurt Groniga Terry Stewartt, Lamont Royer, and April Chaney.

E. Club Days: M. Scott reported that Club Days will be on Febuary 14th, and 15th. He explained what Club Days is about and passed around a sign-up list for set-up and breakdown. He also passed around a sign-up sheet for the CSA Booth.

F. Leadership Day : Michael Dolin explained the details of what we will be doing on Leadership Day. He passed out a menu of the different activities we will be doing and explained some activities. This event will be on Saturday Feb. 3rd from 8:30 - 5:00 in the S.R.J.C. Student Lounge. Michael expressed the importance of this day and that it will be a very fun and useful workshop for all who attend. He passed around a sign up sheet and encouraged everyone to attend. He thanked Ally, C. King, Sara, Trish, Bob, and Dave for all their help on this event. Bob added that this day will be very helpful for CSA. Dave added that this will be a great opportunity to get to know people.

G. Macintosh: Sue asked everyone to please check their files and throw out anything you do not need. Dave announced that the drive will crash sooner or later and if you do not back up all your documents they will crash. He also asked if everyone could stay away from using Application disks because these increase the possibility of viruses. Ronda emphasized that the laser writer is very expensive to use so be very careful when printing and use print preview. We will soon be hooking up the old printer.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. Publicity Comm: Sue Paul passed around a sign-up sheet for those who are interested in participating on the Publicity Comm. No action taken.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. There was no old business at this time.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. National Condom Week: E.C. apologized because this committee was not established before the break and he has already done some committee work. E. C. explained what this committee will do and that they will have a booth at Club Days.

It was moved to have a National Condom Week Committee with E.C. as chair and he will approve the members at his discretion.

M/S/C

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. ASB Today: Jim Garcia the chair of ASB Today explained what ASB Today is and that it will be out this week. He thanked Sue, Mary and Cheryl for all their hard work on this committee. Dave mentioned that this was one of our goal that has been accomplished very successfully.

B. Leadership Day: Michael Dolin reminded everyone to sign-up for Leadership Day.

C. Pleas announced that the Faculty Profile is out and can be purchased for .50 at the front desk.

D. Dave reminded everyone who did not turn in an application to fill one out.

E. Dave announced that Matthew Zumstien has resigned from the position of freshman rep. This position is now available. Turn in your applications by Wednesday.

F. Dave announced that on Monday there will be elections for Sophomore and Freshman reps. to Executive Cabinet.

G. John announced that the Parking Forum will be Monday Feb. 5th 12 - 1:30.

H. Charles announced that he just got back from Europe and if you are interested or have any questions you can talk to him.

I. M.V.G reminded everyone that they have a mailbox.

J. M.V.G announced the Jan. and Feb. birthdays: Pleas, M.Scott, Matthew, Kevin, Rick, Kelly, Trish , Robert, Cheryl, and Michael.

K. M. Scott expressed the importance of the Leadership Day.

L. E.C. reminded everyone to sign up for the Condom Week Booth.

M. Jim asked if anyone was interested in working on A.S.B Today they are welcome.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn at 4:22.

Re: supplementary allocation for Forensics

Executive Summary

The Forensics Team needs $4000 more to complete the planned season and attend the National Championships in Kansas City. The short fall in budget is caused by 1) a team 50% larger than expected, and 2) a very successful season which has qualified more students than expected for the national championships.

The Problem of Success

This year the Forensics Team has been both larger and more successful than usual. For example, the latest national debate rankings we were first in the United States among junior colleges and 22nd among four year schools. We have taken a sweepstakes award at every tournament we have attended, and have regularly taken 17-23 students to each tournament. Thirty-three students have represented SRJC this year. Our program and budget were set up for a maximum of 24. We did not expect this to happen. As a result, if we are to remain this competitive for the rest of the season, we need more money. About $4000 (~~$3,855.92~~ to be precise). From somebody. ($4,036.00)

We have prepared this memo for our Department Chair, the District and the ASB to explain our need. It is our hope that between these three sources, and any others that we can find, our needs can be met.

Budget Background.

At the start of the year our budget was $24,518 from the District plus $1350 from the Associated Students. This funding division is typical of recent years, although until five years ago the ASB traditionally provided about one third of the total. The Forensics Staff has always felt that the program is a joint effort of the District and the Associated Students and that both could claim credit for it. The best (largest and most consistent) source of funding available is to get money from the State based on the contact hours involved in the activity. This money, of course, comes through the District, which then supplements this amount to make up most of the budget. Because we know the enormous demands made on ASB, we have in recent years relied primarily on District funding.

Our remaining balance is $12,975.78 in our District account and $1000 in our ASB account. To date we have attended eight tournaments. We have six more tournaments remaining, including the National Championships in Kansas City. Our planned budget would have been adequate if we did not have so many qualified students. Of course, the more students the better we do competitively.

Typical Expenses

Forensics expenses come from four major areas:

- 1- tournament registration fees set by each tournament. Typically each entry at a tournament costs $7.00. At a given tournament we commonly have 20 students entering three events each. At the most recent tournament we paid $425. This cost is beyond our control.
- 2- travel costs. We use district vehicles for all tournaments except Nationals (in Kansas City). District vehicles cost 24 cents a mile. We need three vehicles. One recent Sacramento tournament cost $154.80. Air fare to Kansas City will be $238.00 per person.
- 3- motel/housing. Typically we stay four to a room at Motel 6's or similar accommodation. A Motel 6 room now costs about $48 a night with tax. Rooms at Nationals must be in the convention site hotel, at $69.30 per room per night.
- 4 - food. Students are usually given $10/day for food at a tournament. Most students simply could not afford to go to tournaments if every two weeks they had to buy their own food on the road.

A typical tournament lasts three days and two nights. Competition starts at 8AM and ends at 9PM. Students are normally giving speeches all day long, and grabbing food on the run. Food thus cost about $30/student, a quarter of a motel room is $12/night x 2 ($24). Registration is about $21 per student. Thus it typically costs $75 per student per tournament, plus group transportation. A recent tournament in Sacramento cost us $2507.56 for four coaches and 17 students.

Remaining schedule and projected expenses

There are five local tournaments and the National Championships remaining on our schedule.

Modesto (Feb. 9, 10, 11)	$2500
Western State Regionals, Sacramento, (Feb. 16, 17, 18)	1200
Debate tournament only. Small delegation.
Hayward State (March 2, 3, 4)	2200
State (March 23, 24, 25, 26) at El Rancho Tropicana	800
"Spring Fling", May 5, probably at Solano	500 a novice end of year tournament preparing new students for competition in the Fall semester. Roughly equivalent to spring football.
Nationals	10,811
Total projected expense	$18,011

Projected short fall $4036

Nationals Costs

Nationals this year is very expensive because:

- 1) its out of state and we have to fly,
- 2) it's at a convention hotel, not on a campus,
- 3) it's in a major city, not in Modesto, and
- 4) we are sure that for the first time we will have 14 students qualified to go. (Fourteen is the maximum entry allowed for any one college).
- 5) it's long. It lasts a week.

The projected costs for nationals are as follows:

Delegation: 14 students plus four coaches. (The full four coaches are needed to cover our judging commitment). At the Hyatt Hotel in Kansas City, Kansas:

Transportation: air fare $238 x 18 =	$4284
ground transportation $10 x 14 =	180
Hotel (the Hyatt): 7 rooms, at $69.30 for 7 nights	3395
Food: Coaches: $26/day x 4 x 8 days	832
Students: $10/day x 14 x 8 days	1120
Fees: approximately	1000
Total	$10,811

Alternatives

Fund raising. We do it now. We are hosting two speech tournaments this year (the 22nd Santa Rosa Invitational last October and State Champs in April). These tournaments consume vast amounts of extra staff time and team effort. If we did not host these tournaments we would have to go somewhere else to attend similar tournaments at great expense. We have learned over the years that hosting tournaments is by far the most efficient way of supplementing our budget.

In some past years we have approached local businesses for support. For whatever reason, we have never been able to raise significant amount in this way.

Fewer tournaments or fewer students. Obviously we can go to fewer tournaments and take fewer students. Also, obviously, this means we win less. In the opinion of the coaching staff, this would seriously jeopardize our chances in State and National sweepstakes competition.

We are, of course, open to other suggestions.

If I can be of any further help or provide any more information please contact me at my office (527-4217) or leave a message on the Department answering machine (527-4238).

From: Bev Smith - Intern Instructor/Coordinator Bev

Subject: Legislative Internships

Would you please announce to your class(es) that there are student intern positions available this Spring at the following local legislative offices:

Congressman Doug Bosco

State Assemblywoman Bev Hansen

State Assemblyman Dan Hauser

All of the positions are similar, in that the student intern would be involved in constituent casework, research, order and track bills, identifying, clipping and maintaining files on key issues in the district, and routine office procedures.

Any interested student must have a minimum GPA of 2.50, and must be available to work at least 8 hours per week. Students can earn from 1-4 units for these exciting opportunities in the local legislative offices.

Please ask students to see me first for screening and referral to the local offices.

Thanks for your continued support of the Intern Program.

Timothy Haidinger
President, Board of Governors
California Community Colleges
January 18, 1990

I thought in this first meeting it would be appropriate for me to make some comments of a general nature to provide perspective on the directions I hope our board will move in the coming year. This is an exciting time to be involved in community college work. It is the start of a new decade and also the start of a new era for our colleges.

We have now constituted ourselves as a system – one which recognizes the vital contribution of local involvement in district operations, and also of strong focused representation in Sacramento. Most people believed we could not accomplish what was done in AB 1725 and related legislation because they thought we would not have the degree of trust and cooperation such a huge endeavor required.

We succeeded because we had our eye on a single basic objective – to provide the best educational system for California citizens. As long as we keep this aim in mind the exciting times ahead will be fruitful, and we will leave our system better than we found it.

Two conditions have come together in a fortuitous way. First, all parties acknowledge the need for dramatic change in how we organize and operate, and second, adequate funding is available to support these changes. We now have a wonderful opportunity to improve community colleges, but also an awesome responsibility to do it correctly.

In thinking how we can best capitalize on this opportunity, several thoughts come to mind. I would like to share these with you.

First, I think we must address the issue of racial diversity in new and better ways. We are at the cutting edge of minority student opportunity and we need to show imaginative leadership in our policies.

Opportunity is an important issue to me personally. My father grew up in a German-Irish ghetto in New Jersey, and never finished high school. My mother was raised in an orphanage in Los Angeles. They were able to provide me with a better life because they found the American dream.

To me this dream says that within a generation a dedicated family can expect to be a full participant in all the wonderful aspects of American life, regardless of how poor, how badly educated, or otherwise disadvantaged it may start. We are the conduit to that dream for millions of our students, and we see its success in the faces of those who graduate from EOPS, Puente, and other such programs.

But this is a troubling issue because we are not doing the job when it comes to sending qualified students on to the Universities. Our entering students reflect well the makeup of their communities; our graduates do not. Of particular concern are black males, who represent an insignificant proportion of the 15% of our graduates who transfer to four-year institutions.

The answer to this problem will not come from the Chancellor's Office. It needs the kind of creativity that must come from local districts which are daily trying new techniques for motivating and retaining our students. But we can provide additional encouragement and funds, and spread the word when successful new techniques are found.

We have a further problem improving the diversity of our faculty. Our minority students need role models, and these must be successful teachers with backgrounds similar to the students. Unfortunately, we are not alone in trying to find these role models.

It was interesting to read a recent copy of Black Issues. It contained 88 pages of which 55 were dedicated to paid display ads from colleges across the country trying their best to hire minority faculty and administrators. Our full-page ad was prominent, but we will not increase our faculty diversity by increasing the competition for a limited pool of available candidates. What we need to do is to increase the size of the pool.

We must take a long-term view of selling the merits of a teaching career to our students and those at the four-year institutions. We offer status, very competitive salaries, and outstanding working conditions. If we cannot sell these, we should shoot the messenger, not change the message. I would like us to experiment with new financial inducements perhaps along the lines of armed services scholarships, and to try other ways of thinking about the problem.

Next, let me turn to the quality of work performed by our Chancellor's Office. As chairman of our Finance Committee I was critical when I felt that presentations were not up to the ability of the presenter, or when an inappropriate philosophical approach was being used. We should all make such criticism when we feel these conditions occur.

But our staff consists of capable and highly motivated individuals in whom we can all have confidence. Each of the Chancellor's new hires makes this statement even more true. Staff work is excellent, and when we become impatient with a presentation, it is often because we have inadequately explained what we expect to receive.

I look forward to working with these colleagues and believe that our efforts together will further enhance their fine reputation among the districts we serve, and with the legislature and executive branch which provide our resources and guidance.

Now I would like to address the role of local governing boards. These boards consist of individuals who have had the courage and initiative to stand for election – something we have not been obliged nor offered to do.

It is my view that they represent the most under-utilized resource of the community college system. We have the leaders of 71 districts looking for ways to better serve their voters. We need to find new approaches to working with them to explain community colleges to Californians. I believe they would welcome a cooperative effort with ourselves and our Foundation, and look forward to exploring this idea with them.

Adequate funding is always an important Community College issue. Fortunately the Governor and Legislature recognize our needs and have been responsive to our requests.

A particular financial concern is our need to finance growth over the artificial 2% cap now in place. The time may be appropriate for us to suggest a more flexible way to manage college growth – one which would let us better meet the huge demand for our services. I hope we can open this dialogue with the administration, and believe we should do so in a collaborative and a carefully measured way.

The emergence of community colleges as a system has brought with it many advantages, but let me suggest a concern. If not careful, we on this board could impose so many new programs and activities on local districts that we could distract attention from classroom teaching.

The concern with the 50% law may be symptomatic of an administrative overload. While some would unfortunately use this law simply to force salary increases, it does support the notion that teaching, not administering, is our primary role.

A philosopher long forgotten said that any organization with over 1000 employees need have no contact with the outside world. It is capable of creating enough internal procedures and programs to keep everyone fully occupied. Let's hope that we do not fall into this trap.

A major portion of our resources is devoted to training or re-training the workers who will lead us to success in a world of international competition. Our efforts to remain close to private employers through contract education and other economic development activities will assure that we are teaching relevant subjects and techniques, and will give us entrees to place our graduates in top paying jobs. I sense a great deal of excitement throughout the system about the success of vocational education, an excitement which I know we all share.

Transfer education deserves a special comment. We now transfer some 70,000 students per year to four-year institutions. Transfer guarantees, transfer centers, and other such programs should greatly increase this number. I hope we will be hearing also about efforts to increase the academic rigor of many of our courses, and an expansion of the honors curriculums now in place in some of our colleges.

If we can greatly increase transfer, we will have effected a dramatic change in the fundamental economics of college education. Consider the many families whose average to good student qualifies for a four-year institution but does not qualify for substantial financial aid. These families are faced with a total cost of $20,000 per year at a private residential institution, or $10,000 at a public one.

If instead the student attends a community college for two years, and lives at home, the increased cost to the family is negligible. This approach provides a solution to the upward spiral of college costs which has not been fully appreciated.

Not only is the cost to the family low, but the cost to the State is greatly reduced as well. Education costs $9,000 per year at the University of California, $6,000 in the State University system, and under $3,000 at community colleges. The differences reflect additional facilities and services required at the four-year institutions. We can educate students as well or better, at reduced cost to the student and the State, if they attend their first two years at a community college.

Lastly, let me turn to the operation of our Board. I would like to pay my compliments to those of you who have preceded me as President. Your leadership has made possible the opportunities facing us today and I thank you on behalf of our Board, and of our system.

I believe that at this time in our evolution we need to find ways to involve individual Board members more deeply in important discussions that take place outside of our meetings. This is not intended in any way to bypass the Chancellor, but simply to give us a vehicle to better understand the subtleties behind issues which come to us.

Chancellor Mertes has often expressed his concern that volunteers such as ourselves can be burned out if they are asked to do too much. This is true, but equally great is the risk that people will lose interest if they do not have a way to be involved in meaningful activity. I believe this is the greater danger to us now.

Tomorrow, with the Board's concurrence, I will assign individual members to committees and to act as liaison to various groups or to attend selected meetings. I hope this will be productive and request your informal input today.

In closing, if I had to summarize in one word my view of community colleges, that one word would be pride. Pride in our students, pride in ourselves, and pride in our system. Community colleges work, and so do our students!

I look forward in the coming year to working with you and all who care about our colleges, and thank you for honoring me with the opportunity to serve as your president.

ON-CAMPUS DANCE SUBSIDATION POLICY & APPLICATION

In an effort to support more campus activities which promote a controlled and Alcohol Free Environment, the SRJC Associated Students are encouraging on-campus clubs to sponsor more dances and like events on the SRJC campus. This encouragement will take the form of a $200.00 grant, designed to subsidize sponsoring club in order to create a break-even or money making situation.

All Clubs will be eligible to apply to Executive Cabinet. The approval criteria will be based on overall club organization, event organization, and the realistic possibilities of success. This actual award will be given after the event has taken place. The club must apply no less than 3 weeks prior to the scheduled event.

PROCEDURE

- 1 - Applications available at the Student Activities Office.
- 2 - Submit completed application and budget to Jamie Stamer, Student Activities Office.
- 3 - Plan to give presentation to Executive Cabinet 3 weeks prior to event. Executive Cabinet meets every Wednesday 3-5 pm.

IV. The minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. PRESIDENT: Dave emphasized the importance of turning in your blue cards. This will help committees know your schedule. Dave reported that the turnout at the Parking Forum was a little disappointing, but the discussion was very informative. They had a great panel. Dave congratulated John on a good job. If anyone is interested in taking Astron 12 with Jerry Waxman he is offering another class if enough people are interested. He needs a minimum of 18 people. Dave passed around a sign-up list.

B. ADVISERS: Bob expressed how great of a job Michael and his committee did and that this was the largest turnout in years. Dave's leadership skills were exceptional, he did an excellent job. Bob reminded everyone to sign-up for a unit of Pol. Sci 51 and if you are interested in learning more about Parliamentary Procedures we need a few more people to take Pol. Sci. 50 . It meets from 2-3 on Wed. This is a very helpful and interesting class. Bob passed out a letter from Bev Smith concerning Legislative internships. He also passed out the billing on our public phone to show how well utilized it is, and a letter from Timothy Haidinger, President , Board of Governors California Community Colleges. Bob mentioned that this letter has some interesting information on how community colleges can deal with certain issues. Bob then thanked the new people for getting involved and thanked those people who have stayed with CSA.

Ronda reported that this Wed. night is the last home game. Ronda reminded everyone that they need to check out the red CSA binders again so please bring them to her.

C. ICC : M. Scott reported that the 4th Wall changed dates for some film showings. "On Water Front" March 31st, 8-9, in Newman, " Gold Rush Feb. 24th, 8-10pm, in Newman, " Alphabet Soup " May 11th & 12th. A.S.B. Today

January thru March 1990

Volume 1 Number 1

"Welcome!"

Hi, my name is David Fuelle (pronounced like duet, but with an F instead of a D). I am currently your A.S.B. president until June 1990. Of course that can quickly change due to assassination, impeachment or a sorry G.P.A. We have had a great semester in the making with many things already starting to roll.

Many of the upcoming events we are looking at are National Condom Week, AIDS Awareness Week and numerous other events the Associated Students sponsors every semester. We are also looking forward to our most bodacious annual Boat Dance.

As Student Advocates, we are faced with several important issues which affect the entire student population. The issue of parking fee increases will come under further scrutiny by students and staff at S.R.J.C. The Early Calendar (one that puts finals before Christmas) will need further fine tuning. We hope to create a few issues of our own that are long overdue on this campus, such as recycling. As always, I have an open door policy and appreciate your input on matters of concern.

Finally, I want to reflect back to September of 1989, when College Student Assembly held its annual retreat at Camp Malala and created 11 goals to accomplish this year. What you are reading is the accomplishment of one of those goals—A.S.B. Today. The Association owes many thanks for the dedication and hard work of the A.S.B. Today committee. A myriad of thanks.

David Fuelle, ASB President

Associated Student Benefits

Joining the Associated Students gives you many benefits and also helps support many programs at the Santa Rosa Junior College. Entertainment and the arts, athletics, and other intercollegiate competition activities are just a few of the programs you will help support by joining the Associated Students. The benefits you will receive include a $7 discount on parking permits, free admission to theatre arts productions, home football and basketball games and 5-40% discount from local merchants. For a complete list of these merchants and other benefits available to you as an Associated Student member, please contact the Student Activities Office in Pioneer Hall.

Semester Highlights

WESTERN WELCOME DAY, Sept. 15th: ASB passed out 500 hotdogs to ASB members. They all went fast.

WELCOME DANCE, Sept. 15th: About 400 students came to this free dance on the Coop lawn. The music was great and everyone had a good time.

CLUB DAYS, Sept. 20th-21st: All the clubs were set up at information booths on the Coop Lawn to tell people about their clubs and recruit members.

LOST AND FOUND AUCTION, Oct. 4th: ASB auctioned off clothes, sun glasses, sporting equipment, and accessories for very low prices. This event took place in the Coop Patio at lunchtime and proved to be a great success.

TAILGATE PARTY, Oct. 13th: Associated Students organized a tailgate party before the Bear Cubs' football game. There was a barbecue, games of skill, a prize drawing, and KHTT broadcasted live with Adam Smasher.

USED BOOK FAIRE, Oct. 18th: ASB sponsored a Used Book Faire that lasted all day in the Coop. There was everything from novels, to school books, to periodicals. The books sold fast and again, it was a great success.

HOLIDAY RECEPTION, Dec. 13th: ASB sponsored a reception for all the SRJC students to get acquainted with student government leaders, faculty, and administrators. This event was held in the student lounge and snacks were available. There was a good turn out and many people enjoyed the chance to express their views.

HIP HOP HAPPENIN' HOLIDAY HOOPLA, Dec. 15th: ASB sponsored a holiday dance in the cafeteria with music by Crossfire. Many came to celebrate the holiday season.

In the months to come, ASB is planning many bigger and better events for the SRJC student body to get involved in, so pick up a copy of the ASB TODAY- we will keep you posted.

Student Issues

Earthquake Relief

After the tragedy of the Bay Area Earthquake on October 17, 1989, SRJC's Associated Students donated $500 to the Heart of the Bay Earthquake Relief Fund. A.S.B. also sponsored an earthquake relief food and supplies drive. Many students supported the effort and donated whatever they could. This donation was given to the Salvation Army for distribution to the Bay and Santa Cruz areas.

Student Issues...

Condoms

In May of last year, the Associated Students initiated an AIDS Resolution. This resolution was ratified by the Board of Trustees allowing the distribution of condoms on campus. Due to limited logistical distribution factors, the condom machines were delayed until November 29. These machines are located in both the Doyle Student Lounge restrooms and in the Health Services restroom.

Flex Calendar

Having an early schedule, one that allows the student to finish finals before Christmas, has been a goal of the College Student Assembly for many years. The College Wide Calendar Committee proposed an early calendar, with many revisions since its beginning, to the College Council (SRJC's legislative process). After the revised calendar passed through the College Council, it went before the Board of Trustees on November 13, 1989. Finally, after at least eleven years, the early College Calendar was approved. It will be in affect for the 1991-92 school year.

Faculty Profile

The Faculty Profile is a unique communication tool for students to preview many instructors' teaching philosophies, expectations, and techniques. This insight will give students the opportunity to choose the instructor that best suits their needs. The Faculty Profile will be published in the form of a booklet and will be available to the SRJC student body beginning at the time of arena registration. Students will be able to purchase these booklets for the low price of just fifty cents an issue. The Associated Students and the Faculty Profile Committee are working hard to get the student body the information they need in order to plan their future classes.

Executive Cabinet

David Fuelle is the President of Executive Cabinet and his job duties include: carrying out provisions of the Associated Students Constitution; presiding as the chairperson of College Student Assembly and Executive Cabinet; performing as Chief Executive Officer of the Association; directing and coordinating all policies of the Association; representing the Association and coordinating matters of mutual concern with the faculty, administration and community; and appointing commissioners with the approval of Executive Cabinet. Dave believes that the role of student government is to participate in the campus governance process and that those who participate develop highly valuable leadership skills. He also believes that student government provides the opportunity to interact with many different types of people and further develop social skills. This year Dave hopes to accomplish many things, but foremost he would like to further increase the amount of student participation in the governance process on campus.

Mary Giovando is the Corresponding Secretary a job in which she is the official recorder at the Executive Cabinet meetings. Mary emphasizes that our motto in CSA is: "We Make It Happen," that is, we make it happen for the students at SRJC and we need their participation in our sponsored events to make them successful. This year Mary hopes to help create better correspondence between the student government and the general student body at SRJC. She also hopes to promote student involvement by helping CSA plan ASB events for the Spring semester and to greatly publicize these events. In addition, Mary encourages students that have any questions or just want some more information about CSA to come visit us at the Student Activities Office. "We're here to help."

Bob Flores is the Director of Student Activities and he is also the advisor to the Associated Students, the administrator in charge of the Student Activities Office and the Doyle Student Center complex, as well as being involved in campus programming. Bob feels that the students are the most appropriate and most accurate voices in regard to providing input that helps maintain a pluralistic viewpoint in the college decision-making process. This year Bob hopes to assist the Associated Students in maintaining their role in campus governance issues, particularly during this year of significant transition.

E.C. Gregory is the Program Chair person which is an appointed position that allows him to be on the Executive Cabinet, but without a vote. He also coordinates all of the events that ASB put on. E.C. feels that student government is the only viable way to make a significant change in the best interest of the student body. This year E.C. hopes to heighten the community's awareness about pressing health issues.

Mark Van Gorder is the Sophomore Representative to Executive Cabinet so he represents all of the sophomores enrolled at SRJC. Mark encourages students to get involved, but don't let your involvement get in the way of your education, and keep the commitments that you make to help the college continue to be the best. This year Mark hopes to get the flex (early) calendar passed so that students can complete their finals before Christmas break. He would also like to see the parking fee increase issue handled in such a way that the students are not charged for a facility that the Board of Trustees has decided to implement. In addition, Mark encourages any student that has a question to come to the Student Activities Office and leave a note in his box.

Angela Taylor is the newly appointed Treasurer and her job duties include foreseeing all ASB financial transactions, as well as giving a monthly budget report to CSA. Angela feels that student government is not just a time of business, but a time to meet and work with wonderful people. This year Angela hopes to make the monthly budget report somewhat more exciting for CSA. She also hopes to bring the SRJC population closer into student government and more involved in activities.

M. Scott Moore is the Vice President and his job duties include chairing the Inter Club Council and being a student representative on the College Council. Scott feels that student government is an integral part of campus governance, designed to advocate the students' needs and wishes by going through the proper channels and working with the various constituent groups on campus. This year Scott wants to help build and encourage a strong system of clubs on campus, maintain a constant representation of students on college-wide committees, advocate the flex (early) calendar so students can complete finals before Christmas, and help promote leadership development programs on campus.

Cheryl De La Cruz is the Recording Secretary, which means that she is the official recorder of the College Student Assembly. Cheryl feels that student government is a great place to meet and work with many interesting people and is a great opportunity to make a difference on campus. "We make it happen!" This year Cheryl wants to keep the student body aware of the events planned by the College Student Assembly and to have as many of these events as possible. In addition, Cheryl encourages each and everyone of you to get involved and make a difference on your campus.

Pleas Shorts is the Executive Vice President and his job duties include chairing the Faculty Profile Committee and the Student Project/ Film Grants Committee. Pleas has been involved in student government since the fall of 1986 and he feels that our campus' student government, along with our advisor, Bob Flores, is the best around. This year Pleas would like to see the 3rd edition of the Faculty Profile put together before the spring semester.

Matthew D. Zumstein is the Freshman Representative to Executive Cabinet so he represents the voice of all the freshmen enrolled in SRJC. Matt feels that student government is there for all students to experience and those who don't participate are truly being left out. This year Matt wants to come away from this college with a clear, concise, and capable understanding of student government and how it operates within a school system.

Ronda Lewman is the Student Activities Advisor and being new to this position since August, she has enjoyed building the beginnings of a strong foundation of trust and dependability between herself and the student leaders. She also feels that a strong foundation in these areas will enable her to best advise and guide the student leaders of SRJC as they address student issues and plan student functions together. In addition, Ronda stresses that participation in student government is an opportunity for students to supplement their formal education, expand their horizons, develop their talents in areas such as social awareness, responsibility, and the political process, and to plan and implement short and long-term goals.

A.S.B. Officer of The Month

A.S.B.O.O.T.M.

Jim Garcia was the ASB Officer Of The Month for October. He is the Athletics Commissioner, an officer that handles all the things that have to do with athletics. In addition to his regular duties as Athletics Commissioner, Jim chairs the A.S.B. Today Committee, he is on the Faculty Profile Committee, the Steering committee and the Bigger Events Research Committee. This award says a lot about how hard Jim has worked. Congratulations Jim!

Sean Kaslar was the ASB Officer Of The Month for September. He is the Entertainment Commissioner, which is the person in charge of getting bands to play here during the noon hour. He also helps get DJ's and other acts to perform for special events. Sean has been consistent in his job, which isn't easy, keeping in mind that many weeks there two bands playing, not just one. The office of Entertainment Commissioner is very time consuming. Good work, Sean!

'Strong field' of candidates for SRJC post

By BOB NORBERG
Staff Writer

Two Santa Rosa Junior College administrators and a former dean reportedly are among the applicants to succeed SRJC Superintendent Roy Mikalson, the long-time head of the 32,000-student college.

Meanwhile, Mendocino Community College trustees are expected on Wednesday to authorize a search to replace Leroy Lowery, who has been president of the college for 10 years. Lowery, 59, recently announced his retirement. He was making $90,000 annually to head the 4,500-student district.

Santa Rosa Junior and Mendocino Community colleges are among nine community colleges in California that have openings for president this year. Nine is an unusually large number of openings among the 70 California community colleges. One official called it the passing of a generation of superintendents.

More than 50 people have applied for the post of superintendent-president at Santa Rosa Junior College.

"We have a good, strong field," said Ken Holback, dean of student services and head of the search committee. "I think it looks good, considering the number of positions open around the state."

Holback said the post of president of SRJC, which has a national reputation as a model community college, is a "plum" that has drawn applications from administrators who might not apply to other colleges.

The search committee is screening applications and the board will probably begin interviews next month. A new superintendent could be chosen in April and on the campus in July, Holback said.

Holback said the list of candidates is being kept confidential since most are now top administrators at other community colleges. The identities of the final contenders may be made public when the board begins visiting those campuses, though.

According to campus sources, the list of candidates includes David Wolf, vice president for academic affairs; Curt Groninga, dean of administrative services; and Ernie Martinez, president of Cerritos College in Norwalk and formerly SRJC dean for liberal arts.

None of the three would confirm they were candidates, however.

Groninga said, however, that he expected SRJC to draw a large number of applications because of it is a large district with a central campus, a long history of stability, good faculty and a Doyle Scholarship program that awards hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarships a year.

More Freshmen Willing to Work for Social Change and Environmental Issues, New Survey Finds

After 15-year climb, number of students planning business careers decreased for second straight year

By SUSAN DODGE

An increasing number of college freshmen are concerned about improving the environment and are willing to work for that and a variety of other social changes, a wide-ranging survey of freshmen has found.

The survey, which is in its 24th year, was conducted jointly last fall by the Higher Education Research Institute at the University of California at Los Angeles and by the American Council on Education. It questioned more than 200,000 students enrolled in colleges and universities in the United States.

Of the freshmen respondents, 63 per cent reported attitudes toward environmental issues that were more positive than in the year before they entered college.

The proportion of freshmen who reported being active in environmental issues increased from 15.9 per cent in 1974 to 36.7 per cent last fall. And 86 per cent of those who reported being active in the late 1960's, according to the survey. A greater proportion of freshmen—6.3 per cent this academic year—said there was a "very good chance" that they would participate in protests while in college.

"These trends show not only that most students want more governmental action in the environmental field, but that increasing numbers of them are willing to become personally involved in the effort," said Alexander W. Astin, professor of higher education at U.C.L.A.'s Graduate School of Education and director of the survey.

A record number of freshmen, 44.1 per cent, said influencing "social values" was very important to them. In addition, almost one-quarter of the freshmen said par-

EUGENE, ORE.

As a boy, B. Trevor Dick wandered through the Umatilla National Forest in eastern Oregon with his father, marveling at the 250-foot Douglas firs. Over the years, however, he began noticing that the forests were disappearing. Timber companies were cutting down the prized trees.

"It takes 1,000 years for trees to grow that size, and 15 minutes for man to cut them down," says Mr. Dick, now a senior at the University of Oregon here. "We have no right to be destroying such a precious resource."

For the last three years, Mr. Dick has been working at the Survival Center—a student-run environmental-protection group—to stop the cutting of large, old trees. This academic year, he says, an unprecedented number of students have come by to help at the center, which was formed in 1969.

"They're finally realizing that the planet is going to die if they don't do something," says Matthew P. Snider, a senior at the university who is a co-director of the center.

While many critics dismissed college students of the 1980's as greedy, materialistic, and apathetic, students themselves say they are changing. They say student activism in the 1990's will be stronger than in recent decades, and will have a different face.

Learning About the 60's

The parents of today's students came of age in the turbulent 1960's, and many have told their children about that decade's protests and rallies. But their children—the students of the 1990's—are more likely to negotiate and collaborate than to demonstrate, say faculty members and administrators. They add that students now are quick to enlist the aid of legislators and are savvy about attracting press attention. Raised in an age of explosive creation of electronic gizmos, many student activists employ

Boyer Sees Lower Quality of Campus Life, Erosion of Sense of Community

WASHINGTON

An anything-goes moral code among students and a breakdown in their traditional relationship with faculty members have combined with mounting racial tensions to diminish the quality of campus life and erode the sense of community at many institutions.

Ernest L. Boyer, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, delivered that message last week to about 900 college presidents and other officials gathered here for the annual meeting of the American Council on Education.

Mr. Boyer described today's campuses as places where students drink to excess and become so unruly that they sometimes commit violent crimes; where undergraduates are more intent on earning good grades than on learning for learning's sake; and where most students are so busy working to pay their tuition that they have no time for campus activities. He described campuses where presidents worry that racial tensions are ready to explode, and where students feel their personal problems are of little interest to faculty members.

"We are providing the services and credentials to students and, of course, there is education going on," Mr. Boyer said of colleges and universities. "But there is this feeling that what holds it all together, that the inspired sense of what an institution is "Student apathy, alcohol abuse, and even racial and ethnic divisions and acts of incivility weaken the integrity of many institutions."

in an integrated way, is losing ground. Student apathy, alcohol abuse, and even racial and ethnic divisions and acts of incivility weaken the integrity of many institutions and limit their ability to function as vital communities of learning."

Mr. Boyer based his speech, and a lengthier text that accompanied it, on a year-long study by the Carnegie Foundation. A report on the study, entitled "Campus Life: In Search of Community," is to be released in March.

500 Presidents Surveyed

The study included a survey, administered by the American Council on Education, of 500 college presidents. According to Mr. Boyer, more than 90 per cent of the college presidents surveyed said strengthening the sense of community at their institutions was important. The presidents ranked students' unwillingness to participate in campus activities as their institutions' No. 1 problem. About 65 per cent of the presidents said more interaction between faculty members and students would improve campus life.

In addition, about two-thirds of the presidents said alcohol abuse by students was a serious problem. Among presidents of the nation's largest institutions, 66 per cent said theft was a concern. About 85 per cent of the presidents of large universities said a new statement on civility and respect for Students taking a course in "The American Census" at Carnegie Mellon University will get a first look at the 1990 census as participants.

It is still unclear what role the census will play in the census, which starts this spring. But census officials say they may use homeless people, help size the census, or serve as enumerators in Pittsburgh neighborhoods. Enumerators walk door to door or use the phone to reach people who fail to return their census forms by mail.

g through," says Karen L. Pennington, associate dean of student affairs at the university. "They are frightened by the newness of going to college, and the older students can help them by introducing them to new people and taking them to dinner and other activities."

Ms. Pennington says homesick students generally cry a lot, stay in their rooms, and try to arrange frequent trips home. Some eventually leave college. "They are not making the break home to college," says Ms. Pennington. The 15 homesick students who participated in the counseling program last spring, only two decided to leave New Paltz.

Although Rapel has been used in Canada, it is being tested in the United States for the first time, said Victoria Eckman, the California distributor. She said college students are an important potential market.

More Freshmen Willing to Work for Social Change

Participation in community-action programs was very important.

Increasing percentages of students also said "helping to promote racial understanding" and "influencing the political structure" were important.

End of a 15-Year Climb

At the same time, fewer freshmen this academic year said they were interested in careers in business. After a 15-year climb, the number of students planning business careers decreased for the second straight year, to 21.8 per cent of last fall's freshmen.

The proportion of students who said it was "very important" or "essential" for them to "be successful in my own business" also declined, as did the percentage of students selecting business as an academic major. Those who said being "very well off financially" was important dropped slightly in this academic year—to 73.4 per cent, from 75.4 per cent in 1988.

The increasing interest in social issues and the slight decline in those planning on business careers could signal a departure from the "me generation," some college officials say. For most of the 1980's, college administrators and faculty members complained that students were too concerned with choosing majors that would help them secure high-paying jobs and purchase expensive homes and cars.

Some administrators, however, say it is not yet clear that a shift is under way, and they do not report a perceptible change in attitudes among students. "There has not been a decrease in the number of students who come in and say they want to get a job and try to make a lot of money," says Moses Turner,

"There has not been a decrease in the number of students who come in and say they want to get a job and try to make a lot of money."

vice-president for student affairs at Michigan State University.

Some administrators say the declining interest in business could be the result of the strict academic standards that many colleges set for undergraduate business majors and for those attending graduate business school. The decline in the number of business majors might also simply be part of a natural leveling-off, they say.

In other measures of student attitudes, the survey found that the freshmen's support of abortion rights had increased dramatically. Nearly 65 per cent of those questioned said they supported a woman's right to choose an abortion, up from 57 per cent the year before.

Mr. Astin said the "abrupt change" in just one year might have reflected students' concerns about recent action taken by the Supreme Court, which last year decided to allow states to determine whether to limit abortion.

The freshmen appeared to be willing to have lawmakers and other authorities step in when it comes to issues such as crime and drug use. In response to a question asked for the first time last fall, 78.2 per cent of the students said they favored increased government efforts to control handgun use. And fewer students than in previous years said they opposed the death penalty.

'Leave Me Alone'

The survey also found that an increasing proportion of students thought "employers should be allowed to require drug testing of employees and job applicants." In addition, the proportion of students who said "marijuana should be legalized" reached an all-time low 16.7 per cent.

"They're saying, 'Leave alone' on the one hand, and they don't want to be governed so tightly," Mr. Turner says of student feelings about abortion rights. "But, on other issues, they expect the government to be intrusive."

Following are other findings of the survey:

- The number of freshmen who said they had drunk beer in the year dropped to 60.3 per cent, down from 65.3 per cent in 1987 and 75.2 per cent in 1981. Freshmen who said they had drunk wine or liquor dropped to 60.7 per cent, down from 66.7 per cent in 1988.

- The proportion of freshmen who reported feeling overwhelmed during the past year declined slightly—to 19.2 per cent, from 21.5 per cent the year before. The percentage of students who said they felt depressed during the year also dropped.

- A record-high proportion of students—26.5 per cent—predicted that they would need remedial work in mathematics.

- The proportion of students who said they had visited a museum or art gallery in the previous year fell to 54.9 per cent, down from 71.4 per cent in 1987.

- A record-high proportion of students—59.6 per cent—said they planned to go to graduate or professional schools to earn advanced degrees, up from 48.8 per cent in 1980.

others would help improve the campus community.

Mr. Boyer said campus life had changed dramatically since the 1960's, when colleges responded to student protests by throwing out strict rules governing student behavior. He urged institutions to develop new frameworks on which administrators could base decisions about students' conduct.

"There was a time when college leaders felt responsible not only for the nurturing of the students' intellectual life, but for the guardianship of their morality as well," said Mr. Boyer. "The problem today is that while rigid rule making has been abolished, no theory of campus governance has been discovered to replace it. What we do need is a new theory of campus governance—a set of agreed-upon standards to guide the conduct of all members of the community and give direction to the institution over all."

Mr. Boyer recommended that colleges establish orientation programs that encourage undergraduates to focus less on required courses and good grades and more on developing "a coherent view of knowledge and a more integrated view of life."

He also suggested that institutions sponsor campuswide discussions on a variety of topics and link students with faculty advisers on a long-term basis. He said students should be encouraged to "relate their learning to the realities of life" by participating in community-service programs.

'A Lot of Competition'

College presidents and other campus officials generally concurred with Mr. Boyer's findings, and they acknowledged that it would be difficult to mend their campuses.

"Students today are bent on being successful—collecting their green stamps for a diploma to get a job," said James J. Whalen, president of Ithaca College. "In the process, there is not civility or concern. There is a lot of competition."

Students' values are usually established before they reach college, Mr. Whalen said. "By the time students get to college, we're into remediation in terms of character structure, and I think it's very late in the game to be making changes," he said.

David W. Breneman, who from 1983 until last year was president of Kalamazoo College, said the widening gap between students and faculty members had become a primary problem on campuses.

"There is a real distance between students and faculty that I don't remember from my days in college," said Mr. Breneman, who is now writing a book on the future of private liberal-arts colleges.

"The adults have abandoned the kids," he said. "Very few colleges have genuine adults serving as dorm or resident advisers. And I think you can be on a typical college campus on a weekend and have no adult presence."

Chester E. Finn, Jr., professor of education and public policy at Vanderbilt University, said he agreed with Mr. Boyer's assessment of the quality of campus life. But he said dramatic steps would be needed to improve conditions.

'Incentives and Obligations'

Universities that want faculty members to be more accessible to undergraduates, Mr. Finn said, could require faculty members to live within 10 miles of their campuses. He also suggested that universities reduce tuition for students who participate in on-campus activities, and that students be able to earn extra credit for community service.

"I increasingly believe that if you wish to alter institutional and individual behavior, you have to deal with institutional and individual incentives, requirements, and obligations," said Mr. Finn. "People don't very often change because it would be good if they were different."

The Student Activists of the 1990's Are Adopting a New Approach: 'Pragmatic Idealism'

latest technology to further causes.

Despite the increase in activism on campuses, not all students are becoming involved. Many are concerned about doing well academically and have little time for anything but studying. Others hold down part-time jobs to earn money for college.

For those who do become involved, they are increasingly interested in issues that affect their communities and directly influence their lives, college officials say. They are focusing on such issues as environmental protection, abortion, the cost of higher education, diversifying the student population on their campuses, and improving housing and financial aid for low-income people in rural areas.

While the students of the 1990's may still burn rallies, college officials say they will be more than willing to roll up their sleeves to join a cleanup effort or tutor sixth grad-

Connected to Social Causes

Students are practicing pragmatic idealism," says Julia Scatena, executive director of the Campus Outreach Opportunity League (COOL), a Minneapolis-based organization that coordinates community service by students throughout the country. "They are concerned about finding good jobs and decent grades. But they are looking for ways to involve themselves in their communities."

A huge rock concert that benched homeless people, farmers, and mine victims in the 80's attracted many students to social causes, students say. "The star of music groups like U2 put the message that it's cool to be socially conscious," says Tom Burke, a member of the steering committee of the National Student Network. The network organizes student activism on social and political issues nationwide. Mr. Burke is a graduate with 125 at the 1985 meeting. Some 480 student representatives attended the annual meeting of the National Student Campaign Against Hunger and Homelessness last fall, compared with 127 in 1987. And work by Campus Compact, a group that organizes student volunteers, has spread from 12 campuses in 1985 to 225 today.

In 1989, students spoke out against tuition hikes at public universities in several states. At Howard University, students last year

"This is such a personal issue because it affects so many women our age," says Lynn M. Veitzer, who took a year off from Cornell University to work as one of the organizers of a pro-choice group in New York called Students Organizing Students.

Black Students' Voices

The abortion debate has only recently become a hot issue on campuses. But college officials expect other causes that have long been of importance to students to become even more prominent in the 1990's.

In particular, many expect some of the most insistent voices heard on college campuses to be those of black students fighting discrimination and pressuring colleges to include the views of people of color in curricula.

"What we're seeing is persistent racism, more virulent than in the 60's," says Ronald W. Walters, a professor of political science at Howard University. "And black students are fighting back and grabbing for powerful symbols like Malcolm X and Louis Farrakhan. There is a high level of black political consciousness, as you see students wearing medallions and T-shirts expressing racial pride. It is translating into a higher level of political activism."

Students also are expressing renewed interest in the environment, an issue that hasn't been prominent on campuses since the early 1970's. Alarmed by warnings of global warming and by pictures of oil-covered otters in the wake of the Exxon oil spill in Alaska, students are volunteering their time and energy to environmental organizations. Last fall, 1,700 gathered at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for a conference called Threshold, one of the largest student meetings on environmental issues held in the last decade.

Students say environmental problems that may only have been distant threats in the past seem like imminent disasters to people coming of age in the 1990's. At the University of North Carolina, the Student Environmental Coalition has persuaded the university to stop using Styrofoam, which is not biodegradable. The university also sponsors aluminum- and newspaper-recycling projects.

Helping Adults to Read

Many students are choosing to work for change in the communities that border their campuses. By working in the community—with families or youngsters, for instance—students can see the direct results of their actions, college officials say.

"As an African-American student, I feel very fortunate, and I want to give something back to the community," says Sean M. DeCatur, a senior at Swarthmore College who is a volunteer for a program that helps adults learn to read. Mr. DeCatur says he has also taken part in anti-drug demonstrations in a community near the college.

Other students, frustrated by the inability of many poor and minority people to find affordable housing and decent schools, are fanning out by the score to inner-city and rural communities to help tutor children and build shelters. "I get students who say, 'It's not my style to take over buildings, it's not my style to demonstrate. But it is my style to be a big brother to an inner-city youngster," says Kathleen L. Rice, leadership-development coordinator at the University of Minnesota's Twin Cities campus.

Not only are students becoming more involved, but their campaigns are better orchestrated. Last year, students at the University of New Mexico tried for weeks to persuade the state board of regents to enact tuition increases that were more modest than the board had planned. When the students felt their concerns had not been heard, they took over the university president's office. They brought along word processors and facsimile machines to communicate with university officials and printed a daily newsletter to keep students and administrators informed of their activities. The students also arranged to have their meals brought in.

Not Looking for Confrontation

"These are sophisticated, professional student politicians, schooled in the latest technology," says Margaret E. Montoya, special adviser to the president at New Mexico. "Unlike the 60's, these students aren't interested in confrontation. They are interested in working within the system to change things."

Nina L. DiNatale, a junior at Bard College who helped organize students who attended an abortion-rights rally in Washington in October, concludes that it is difficult these days for students to overlook society's problems.

"We're moving into a time period when it isn't enough to disagree," she says. "You have to get off your butt and do something."

There is evidence that the system is not meeting its potential, and students are moving from a period of conservatism to a period of social activism."

ment at the University of Illinois-Chicago. The widening gap between rich and poor has roused apathetic students in a way no other social issue has in the past few years, say faculty members. And it is an increase in the proportion of students who are getting into college who are getting into college professors and students

There were promises of affluence in the early 1980's, says R. Allen, professor of sociology at the University of California at Los Angeles. "But now we see the economics of depression. There is evidence that the system is not meeting its full potential. Students are moving from a period of conservatism to a period of social activism."

A number of students who are looking for change appears to be attending at the 1989 meeting of COOL, for example, about 1,200, compared

West German governments to finance new doctoral programs

many's federal and governments have decided to fund doctoral programs to supplement traditional graduates at the country's universities. The program, which has already been implemented at several institutions, encourages teamwork and prevents narrow specializations. Experts say the program's emphasis on concentration and research will also shorten the time to complete the studies.

The programs are also meant to reach a consensus among educators in West Germany. The country needs to restore its focus on education and encourage gifted students.

Some 50 programs are expected to be introduced this year at an estimated cost of $235,000.

The program will enable up to 100 doctoral candidates to work toward their degrees. Half the students will receive scholarships from the German Research Society, which is setting up the programs. The federal government will provide 65 percent of the funds and the states will provide 35 percent.

—WANDA MENKE-GLÜCKERT

A left-wing student group at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem has been suspended for two months and three of its members are to be brought before a disciplinary committee following a violent confrontation last week between left- and right-wing students on the campus.

The clash occurred as members of Ometz, a student faction that opposes Israel's occupation of the West Bank and Gaza Strip, were preparing a public memorial ceremony for the Palestinians and Jews who have died during the uprising in the territories. The ceremony had not received advance approval from the dean of students, as university regulations require.

A university spokeswoman, Ra-kefet Mosek, said the institution also planned to take disciplinary action against an associate professor of history, Martin Van Creveld, who allegedly slandered Israeli Army Chief of Staff Dan Shomron in a lecture.

Students said Mr. Van Creveld, a military historian, had used epithets to describe Mr. Shomron's handling of the Palestinian uprising and accused him of not caring for his soldiers.

Mr. Van Creveld could not be reached for comment.

Avad Yechezkel, a spokesman for the right-wing student faction known as Gilad, said political tensions at the university had increased significantly in recent weeks, especially in the wake of elections to the university's Arab Student Committee. In the elections, an extreme nationalist faction defeated the Communists who had controlled the committee for the previous decade.

Canadian University Hopes to Settle Controversy Over Reforms

The university of Mexico, commonly known as UNAM, began to attract thousands of working-class students, who for the first time attended a tuition-free university education as a viable option. Despite attempts to redirect many students to other institutions, UNAM has seen its enrollment rise from about 55,000 in 1960 to 300,000 today.

A primary reason for the long delay in holding a congress has been a long dispute over its pro-structure.

Initially agreed to by 52 members, a 64-member University Organizing Commission, the congress will have 1,848 delegates. Fifty-three will be appointed by the administration, and the rest—all elected—will consist of 318 student representatives, 106 professors, and 53 non-academic members.

Sarukhán says he is confident that the congress will be led so much by one group as by others refuse to participate. To the administration delegates sought to structure the congress in a way that did not favor the Student University Council.

When he took over from Mr. Carpizo about a year ago, Mr. Sarukhán added a dimension to the debate over creating a congress. He said it should be "centered,

A primary reason for the long delay in holding a congress has been a continuing dispute over its proposed makeup.

though not exclusively, on the opinion of academic personnel."

Ultimately, the new rector maintained, "how good or how bad an institution is depends not so much on the students it has as on the professors it has. Academic personnel are those who know where the university should be headed."

Mr. Imaz, the student commissioner, took issue with that notion, saying that the rector's position reflected a "top-down" view of the university. But even Mr. Imaz calls the representation of students and instructors in the congress fair.

Most important, he says, is that the delegates be "democratically elected" so as to insure a "grass-roots reform." That is the only way to break with a system in which elite groups "have always tried to run this university and this country," he says.

In Mr. Imaz's view, old-guard elements at UNAM—including some within STUNAM, the non-academic workers' union—believe in "the sharing of power from the top," rather than in change initiated by the university's larger community.

Accordingly, some students on the commission struggled against administration efforts to develop an assembly that, in Mr. Imaz's words, would have left it in the hands of "corporative groups."

But as the commission worked out its formula for representation in the congress, other students favored a compromise. Because of the already protracted delay, they sensed that the congress might never be held unless an agreement could be reached soon.

A university labor leader and COCU delegate, Adrian Pedrozo, put it this way: "If we can't hold the congress this spring—when all the faculties, colleges, and preparatory schools are in session at the same time—then the congress will never be held."

In the end, a compromise was reached through the intervention of a group headed by Axel Didriksson, a COCU delegate and chief of planning at UNAM's Center for Educational Research and Services.

Mr. Imaz says the university may face renewed student protests if the congress fails to work out a program of reform.

"The possibility that the student community could become mobilized once again will always be our bargaining chip," he says. ■

Limits on Student Activities Adopted at Universities in Uganda, Zimbabwe

By STEVE ASKIN

Two African universities that were closed in the midst of student protests last year—Makerere University in Uganda and the University of Zimbabwe—have announced new restrictions on student activity.

At Makerere, which was closed in November after a 12-day student strike over austerity measures, officials said the institution would open this week. However, government officials said students would be readmitted only if they promised to abstain from protest activities and presented letters from their parents and government authorities in their home areas that supported the students' pledges.

Ugandan officials also announced the removal of the vice-chancellor of Makerere, B. George Kirya, and said they would not restore grants to students—including allowances for textbooks and transportation—whose elimination sparked last year's demonstrations.

Action in Zimbabwe

In Harare, Zimbabwe, officials at that country's only university announced the ouster of all leaders of the Student Representative Council, whom they blamed for disturbances last fall.

The officials said a new, closely supervised student council would be elected after a new term begins in April.

The start-up will come a month later than normal. Officials cited logistical reasons, but some students and faculty members said the government, which is run by the Zimbabwe African National Union, wanted to keep the University of Zimbabwe closed until after national elections are held, probably in March.

Closed in October

The university was closed for two and a half weeks in October after violent clashes between students and the police. Protesting left-wing students accused the nominally Marxist government of President Robert Mugabe of moving toward corruption and capitalism.

University officials have now said that students suspected of "aiding, abetting, or inciting" alleged rioting in October would be brought before a disciplinary board. The officials made no mention of student charges, supported by the university's faculty association and independent human-rights groups, that the violence had been provoked by the police.

The university council also said it had found no evidence that academic freedom had been breached at the institution, as has been claimed by the faculty group. ■

CANADA NOTES

Alberta approves 15-pct. increase in tuition

Fire destroys medical collection at McGill

Alberta's government has approved tuition increases of up to 15 per cent in 1990-91, a move that will allow academic officials to raise annual charges to as much as $1,150 (Canadian) at universities and about $615 at public colleges and technical institutes.

Alberta thus became the second Canadian province to announce a major tuition increase in the past two months.

In December, Quebec said that tuition at its universities, which had been frozen for 21 years, would rise 130 per cent over the next two years.

The action in Alberta was welcomed by its university presidents, who had been lobbying for a phased-in tuition increase of more than 50 per cent. Students in the province, however, began a series of meetings to plan protests against the higher fees.

The increase will exceed a ceiling imposed under an eight-year-old provincial policy that has linked tuition growth to the size of government operating grants for higher education.

That policy has been suspended, however, by John Gogo, Alberta's Minister of Advanced Education, who said the new tuition rates would produce additional revenue of $15-million for higher education next year.

A fire at McGill University has destroyed Canada's largest collection of research on medical ethics.

The blaze gutted a Victorian mansion housing the university's Center for Medicine, Ethics, and the Law, its Pulmonary Research Laboratory, and offices for some 40 researchers. The fire caused $2-million (Canadian) in damage and wiped out most of the ethics center's research documents, including unpublished data on AIDS-related issues, health profiles of asbestos-mine workers and bank employees, and thesis material.

Margaret Somerville, the center's director, said the research material could be reproduced. She said the center would ask people around the world who had been sent copies of the material to send copies back.

Although the fire appeared to have started accidentally, the police said arson was suspected because of a break-in at the Pulmonary Research Laboratory the same morning in which computer equipment worth $10,000 was stolen. —MARK GERSON

Academic Workers Plan Strike in Mexico

The struggle for academic reform at the institution.

The struggle for improved wages for workers is profoundly tied to the struggle going on at your university," Mr. Reyes said in a meeting. "To advance the quest for better wages, we must work with other universities."

University workers are tired of smaller wage increases and are awarded to unionized workers in other fields, Mr. Reyes said that the government's effort offer compares with 14.5-per-cent raises approved for other public employees.

Although STUNAM has lost much of its influence at the National Autonomous University in recent years, its strategy of linking its demands to proposals for university reform advanced by militant students and academic groups has helped it maintain a strong presence.

Students and professors still refuse to cross its picket lines, and STUNAM, which has 22,000 members, continues to work for the creation of a single, nationwide union of university employees.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda was approved.

IV. Minutes #2 and #3 were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave welcomed Mark Van Gorder (Sophomore Rep.) and Michael Dolin (Freshman Rep.) to Executive Cabinet.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that ASB registration is down 132 members to date. He also mentioned that ASB Today looks good and that there is a Board Meeting on Monday Feb. 12th.

Ronda reported that the last home basketball game is tonight at 7:00pm.

C. National Condom Week: E.C. reported that there will be a booth set up in the coop next Tuesday - Friday. The committee also decided to have a Condom Olympics with a variety of games on Friday at lunch. In addition, there will be a condom troop made up of committee members to walk around the campus and hand out condoms.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. Commissioners at Large: It was moved to appoint Nathaniel Witten, Valerie Brickajlik, Brenda Smith, and Amy Lennox to the position of Commissioner at Large, pending that Brenda Smith joins ASB.

M/S/C

It was moved to appoint Lucky Carillo to the position of Commissioner at Large.

M/S/C

B. Select Commissioners: It was moved to appoint Robert Bivin to the position of Kent Hall Representative.

M/S/C

It was moved to appoint Sara Dose to the position of Elections Commissioner.

M/S/C

It was moved to appoint Maria Busbey to the position of Arts and Lectures Commissioner.

M/S/C

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Forensics Team: Dave made sure that all of the members of Executive Cabinet received a copy of the Forensics Team budget for their trip. Dave suggested that Executive Cabinet should draft a letter to the Forensics Team saying that we support the funding of part of their trip.

It was moved that Executive Cabinet ask the chair to draft a letter showing support of the Forensics Team's request to the district.

M/S/C

Executive Cabinet discussed the funding of the Forensics Team trip, but we decided that we cannot act on it until we receive a specific amount.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. National Condom Week: Cheryl mentioned that the Condom Committee wishes to buy t-shirts for National Condom Week for the committee members to wear.

It was moved to allocate $130 for the purchase of thirteen t-shirts for the National Condom Week Committee, with the stipulation that $65 would be paid back.

M/S/C

B. Club Dance: Ronda mentioned that she was in question regarding the "On - Campus Dance Subsidation Policy & Application." Executive Cabinet decided to keep the policy as is.

C. Boat Dance: The Executive Cabinet discussed the amount of people that we expect to attend the annual Boat Dance in May, so that we could decide which boat we should book. It was decided to have action on the Boat Dance at CSA on Monday, Feb. 12th.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Angela's Uncle: Angela's uncle has taken a turn for the worst and needs a heart transplant so she asked us to remember him in our prayers.

B. National Condom Week Meeting: E.C. announced that the next National Condom Week Committee meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 7th, at 9:00am.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 4:45.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda was approved.

IV. Minutes were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave wished everyone a Happy Valentine's Day and he also gave Executive Cabinet some Sees candy. Dave made sure that Executive Cabinet received the accreditation and would like to receive some input on it. In addition, a representative is needed to sit on the selection committee, so he decided to take it up at CSA. Dave added that Jerry Waxman may not have his Astronomy 12 class that was offered to CSA, but he will have a summer session.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that ASB registration is only 58 members down. He also mentioned that he received a copy of the "Instructor's Obligation to the Student" agreement from Ken Holback and Executive Cabinet looked it over. Within the next couple of weeks, Ken Holback would like us to draft a student's obligation to the instructor, agreement. In addition, Bob said National Condom Week looks good and Club Days looks great, and he thanked Ronda and Scott for their great set up.

Ronda thanked those that set up for Club Days and she thanked Angela for helping pick out the colors. She also mentioned that all home basketball games are over and ticket crew checks are available at the front desk.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. There were no appointments at this time.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Day Under the Oaks: Bob mentioned that we need another representative on the Day Under the Oaks committee.

It was moved to appoint Pleas Shorts and Michael Dolin to the Day Under the Oaks committee.

M/S/C

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. French Film Festival: Dave mentioned that the proposed budget for the French Film Festival is $5000 and they are requesting that we co-sponsor with them and allocate $1000 for the festival. As far as Dave knows, they will be offering a discount to ASB members. There was some discussion concerning this issue. It was decided to postpone this item until the next Executive Cabinet meeting, when we can get a more defined budget and additional information. Mark and Scott offered to work on creating a standard form for persons requesting funds to fill out, so that the Executive Cabinet has a format to go by when they come to us.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Project Film Grants: Pleas announced that the Project Film Grants committee met yesterday and Project Film Grants are going to be available beginning Feb. 20th.

B. President's Advisory Committee: The President's Advisory Committee reception is tonight in the student lounge.

C. Elizabeth Russel: M. Scott announced that Elizabeth Russel is doing great at Berkeley and misses everyone.

D. Income Statement: Bob passed out a budget update for Executive Cabinet to look at.

E. Monica Thomas: Bob received a letter from her at USF and he read it to the Accreditation Standard 4 Committee. The letter mentioned that student government involvement does carry on with you after you leave the JC, so keep up the good work.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 4:10.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that his dog got sick again, but is better now. Also, Earth Day is coming up on April 22nd, and GAIA (Global Awareness In Action) has some activities planned, but they are looking for AS support. In addition, the Student Selection Screening Committee is still looking for a student representative. Dave also got a memo from Alan Wintermeyer thanking E.C. and the National Condom Week Committee for their great job last week. Dave added that he met with Dr. Wolf and made some slight changes to Standard 9D.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that ASB registration is 98 members behind last year and he explained that the number of day time students is steady, so we are doing O.K. with our budget. Also, elections are coming up fairly soon and any of us who are thinking about running should let Bob and Ronda know.

Ronda reported that the Club Days booth awards were given out yesterday: 2nd runner-up went to the African American Student Union, 1st runner-up went to the United Native American Council, and 1st place went to International Students Club. This weekend, men's basketball team has a playoff game on Saturday night and ticket crew will need to work the game. Tickets are $3 with ASB and $5 without.

C. Microsoft Word: Microsoft Word has just arrived and Mark is going to spend time on the computer converting everything to Microsoft Word.

D. President Retirement Committee: Pleas attended the President Retirement Committee meeting this morning and he announced that the retirement reception is on May 19th. The cost is $30 a plate and students are invited to attend.

F. AIDS Awareness Week Committee: E.C. reported that the AAWC meeting went well and Cheryl said that the AIDS/Benefit Show Committee will be brought to CSA on Monday.

Fifteen films in five days!

College to Show 15 Movies During French Film Week

A sneak preview of a movie never seen in North America and a showing of "Music Box" with the screenwriter present will be among the 15 films offered during French Film Week, March 19-23, at Santa Rosa Junior College.

Hollywood screenwriter Joe Eszterhaus will be available to answer questions from the audience after the Monday, March 19, screening of "Music Box," which shared top honors at the Berlin Film Festival in February.

Three films a day, a mix of new and classic, will be shown mostly in Newman Auditorium during the Film Week sponsored by the SRJC Foreign Language Department, the Associated Students, the Alliance Francaise, and coordinated by the college's Arts and Lectures Committee. The noon, 3:30 p.m., and Tuesday night movies are free and other evening screenings are $4 ($3 with student body card).

Faculty members will be among those introducing the noon and evening films as part of the college's effort to make the film series special by tying it to the educational program. The 3:30 p.m. screenings will be followed by informal panel discussions that invite the participation of the audience.

The sneak preview of the new film by a major French director will be screened at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 21, at the Raven Theater, 115 North Street, Healdsburg.

A 6 p.m. gourmet reception in Shoffeitt Gourmet Tasting Room, 324 Center St, Healdsburg, will precede the sneak preview. The $20 tickets include select Sonoma County wines and gourmet foods and the film. Limited to 200 people, the reception tickets are available through the SRJC's community services (Tel: 527-4371). Without the reception, the admission is $4.

The political thrillers shown on Monday, March 19, include "Z" (directed by Costa-Gavras) at noon; "La Chinoise" (Godard) at 3:30 p.m; and "Music Box" (Costa-Gavras) at 7:30 p.m., all in Newman Auditorium.

Tuesday will be devoted to French classics: "Les Enfants du Paradis" (Carne) at 12:30 p.m. and "Les Dames du Bois de Boulogne" (Bresson) at 3:30, both in Newman; and "Breathless" (Goddard), shown as a video in Room 1 of Plover Library.

Two films directed by Francois Truffaut will be shown in Newman on Wednesday, "The Last Metro" at noon and "400 Blows" at 3:30. The 8 p.m. screening of the major film yet to be released in the United States is at the Raven Theater in Healdsburg.

The Artist is the theme of the Thursday showings with two films on Picasso at 12:30 and repeated at 3:30 in Plover Library, "Mystery of Picasso" and "Picasso, painter of the century." Viewers will be able to see "Moulin Rouge" (Huston) at 7:30 p.m. in Newman Auditorium.

The series will end Friday with three films featuring troubled youth: "Murmer of the Heart" (Malle) at noon, "Un Mauvais Fils" (Sautet) at 3:30 and "Au Revoir les Enfants" (Malle) at 7:30.

The Hollywood screenwriter Eszterhaus drew from his own experience as an Hungarian refugee to write "Music Box," a film that struck a responsive chord in German audiences when shown in unwallied Berlin during the recent festival. He has done original screenplays for "F.I.S.T.," "Jagged Edge," "Betrayed," "Flashdance" in addition to "Music Box," and has been a reporter for the Cleveland Plain Dealer and Rolling Stone.

Paul Chutkow, a journalist who appears regularly in the New York Times, will introduce the series and "Z" on Monday with a brief talk contrasting French and American attitudes on the cinema.

Sean Daley, French instructor and board member of the Alliance Francaise, will introduce the Truffaut films on Wednesday; Dr. Sara Gill of the art department will speak briefly on Picasso Thursday afternoon and introduce "Moulin Rouge" Thursday evening; Scott Fuller, behavior science instructor, will present "Murmer of the Heart" and "Au Revoir les Enfants" on Friday.

The panels that follow the 3:30 p.m. screenings are composed of faculty members and people from the community interested in French films. The panels are intended to be informal and to encourage participation from the audience.

The college hopes that French Film Week will augment its educational program and expose the community to more international awareness. The idea for Film Week grew from the college-abroad programs SRJC has in London, Paris, and Florence. For more information on the Week, call 527-4371.

C. King's Proposal

Establish a contest for art students, (or anyone) to have their art shown in the student lounge for one semester. ~~Benefits~~ 1. they receive a cash prize, or bookstore certificate. 2. We change environment in Student Lounge on regular basis. 3. It is cheaper than buying a $300.00 painting and the students can get exposure. 3. The art isn't just sitting in someone's closet -people can admire it.

Proposed plan of action:

1. establish a committee
 - talk to Max Hein -Art dept. Chair
 - establish criteria for entering contest
 - establish criteria for art that is chosen to win
2. Create agreement.
 - art will be given back to students at the end of the semester
 - time will be set up so that art doesn't clutter up the office.
3. Should this be an annual event?
4. Should participants be ASB members only?

Suggested information:

This is a new event. It will get more students involved, that the Associated Students might not already cater to. (art students, and such) Right now we do have project film grants. Should we get nice photographs; it was suggested that the Associated Students might want to use these as a resource.

(We can buy selected pictures and such, i.e. $5.00 per photo/slide & negative)

This is only a proposal, if you feel that we (CSA) are already doing too many functions, and activities, or any other idea, you need not agree. (In other words this is an open proposal, please be honest in your decision.)

IV. Minutes were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave had no report at this time.

B. Advisors: Bob passed out a message from Karen Kellam asking if anyone would be interested in giving a tour for junior high students on Friday, March 23. He also passed out an updated flier for the French Film Festival with the Associated Students sponsorship listed at the bottom.

C. Black History Speaker: Pleas reported that Bobbie Cross spoke today at noon in Newman Auditorium, and about 150 people attended.

D. AIDS Awareness Week: E.C. reported that the AAW committee meets every Monday from 2-3. The committee has planned an essay contest, panel discussion, coffee house conversation, testing, and updated literature for the booth etc. Vials of bleach will also be available along with directions in both English and Spanish. E.C. also showed Executive Cabinet a copy of the AAW flier.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. There were no appointments at this time.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. DSL Plants: C. King talked to P.J. in the Doyle Student Lounge and she said that there is not enough room in the green house to store the plants. It was decided to have C. look into the possibility of buying silk plants.

B. Art Contest: C. King passed out a written proposal concerning the possibility of having an art contest in the Student Lounge every semester. It was decided to have C. bring her proposal to the Project Film Grants Committee to have them preview it.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. CFS: Harriet Lewis passed out a copy of a survey concerning a coffee house on campus, and she explained that she would like to use the credit from the money toward obtaining a full-time chef on campus. The majority of the staff receiving the survey replied very positively and she came to us to get some student input.

It was moved to endorse the idea of having a coffee house in the Bear's Den.

M/S/C There was one abstention.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda was approved as amended.

IV. Minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that it has been an educational week, and he hopes that everything is going O.K. in the Student Activities Office.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that it is report card time, and Gina got all A's and one B, and Matt got all A's and a B+. He also thanked us for our cards that we gave him for his broken nose.

Ronda reported that although we had a very small amount of items for the Lost and Found Auction, we made $174.30. She passed out a hand out of how much we have made from the auction for the past three semesters. Ronda also thanked all who helped out, especially Mary and C. King who co-chaired this event.

C. Speech Seminar: Mark looked into holding a speech seminar on Friday, April 13th. Executive Cabinet discussed other possible dates in which to hold the seminar. Mark decided that he would further look into a better date for everyone.

D. AIDS Awareness Week Committee: E.C. showed Executive Cabinet a copy of the advertisement brochure for AAW and he also read off the activities planned for the week.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. There were no appointments at this time.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Parking Committee: Mark mentioned that at the Parking Committee Meeting yesterday, he asked the committee if they could use some of the land we own around the county for mass parking, and then shuttle bus students to school. They suggested the idea of bringing a resolution to the Board of Trustees endorsing the investigation of the Parking Committee by both SRJC and the city of Santa Rosa. Dave suggested that the Parking Committee draft the resolution and then bring it to Executive Cabinet.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Gifts for Computer Personal: Dave mentioned that Dick Mack and Marylin Flowers have really helped us out with our Macintosh, and it would be nice if we returned the favor with some gifts for them.

It was moved to allocate up to $25 a piece, for computer personal, Dick Mack and Marylin Flowers, out of Spring Special Allocations, with the stipulation that Dave would pick out the gifts.

M/S/C

B. Cal SACC Dues: Amy Haddix mentioned that the Cal SACC dues are $150, but there are only three meetings left for this school year so she wanted to know if we would want to pay the dues and attend the last three meetings, or just wait until next year. Cal SACC is a group comprised of junior colleges in the Bay Area, and representatives from each school go to these meetings to have a voice in decisions that go on to the Senate. (Recognized legislative body of combined JC student governments.) We are still invited to the meetings, but the question is if we would like to endorse and invest in the group with $150. Dave recommended to Amy to call the Student Activities Office at Marin City College and Diablo Valley College to obtain some more information, and Executive Cabinet is going to try to attend the last three meetings of the school year.

C. Social Advocates for Youth: The Social Advocates for Youth is honoring Al Maggini at Los Robles Lodge tonight.

It was moved to sponsor the Social Advocates for Youth organization for $100, out of Spring Special Allocations.

M/S/C

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. French Film Festival: Mike announced that he added to the Bear Facts' announcement that the French Film Festival is co-sponsored with the Associated Students.

B. Spring Show: E.C. passed out a copy of the Spring Show budget and also added that the date previously decided on (April 14th) is not a good day to have the show because it is the day before Spring Break starts. He also suggested just having a benefit show.

C. Irish Club Dinner: Pleas announced that he was invited to the Irish Club Dinner on Saturday, March 10th. The cost of the dinner is $10 with student body card and $12 without.

D. OCMC: Bob passed out to Executive Cabinet a copy of our agreement with OCMC.

E. Magazine Subscriptions on Campus: M. Scott announced that last week a man sold magazine subscriptions to students on campus and said that he was representing the Associated Students, so Campus Police was contacted.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 4:40.

MEETING #6
March 12, 1990

MINUTES

- I. The meeting was called to order at 3:12.
- II. Absent were: Sean Kaslar, E.C. Gregory, Ed Muggue, Stephen Gallagher, Nathaniel Witten, Amy Lennox, Kevin Miller, Lucky Carrillo, and Nicole Antiolini.

III. The agenda was approved as amended.

IV. The minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. PRESIDENT: Dave reported that the Board Meeting is tonight and Mark will be giving the report for him.

B. ADVISERS: Bob thanked everyone for the get well card. As everyone can see the nose cast is off. Bob reported that his broken nose was from playing Rugby and not from Racketball. Bob passed around SRJC Associated Student Pens. Bob emphasized that If you are enjoying student government then there are many people who should be running for an elected office. Bob encouraged everyone interested in running to talk to him, Dave or one of the other officers. Bob reminded everyone that the S.A.O Office is a business office and proper conduct should be enforced. The language that should not be used in a business office should not be used in the S.A.O office either.

Ronda reported that we have hired a new poster person and her name is Jill Kelly Moore. Carol is no longer the Poster person.

C. ICC : M. Scott Moore reported that the Aggies club was reactivated on their old constitution. GAIA will be showing environmental movies from April 23rd-27th in RM 1 in the library. The 4th Wall will be showing the Student Film Festival in Lark Hall Rm 2009 from 7-10 April 27-28th. GAIA will be selling bus tickets to attend a lecture in S.F.

D. Lost and Found / Used Book Fair: C. reported that we made $174.00 at the Lost and Found Auction last Wednesday. C. passed around the Used Book Fair sign-up sheet.

E. Elections: Sara the Elections Commissioner encouraged everyone interested to run for office. Sara emphasized the importance of this committee and that we need a good strong committee. If you are not running for office and are interested in helping out on the committee see Sara or Ronda. In the next few CSA meetings the elected officers will be talking about their office duties. Dave thanked Sara and expressed that this is one of the most important things we do all year. Dave talked about his job duties and what responsibilities an ASB President has.

F. Arts and Lectures: Maria reported that the budget for the French Film Week has been changed. Maria explained where our Donation of $1000.00 is being spent. Maria passed out a list of the money that has already been spent for this event. If anyone is interested in hanging up flyers around the area of where they live talk to Maria. You will receive 2 free tickets to the French films. Dave explained that with our sponsorship to the French Film Week we will be receiving 20 tickets to the Gala on March 21st. Dave had everyone who was interested in going to this event sign a sheet.

G. Parking: Mark explained that the residential area N.E of campus, neighbors have appealed to the city to get residential parking permits. If this is approved, which is more than likely, you will need a pass to park in that area. This area at the present time provides SRJC will approximately 500 spaces. When this goes into effect this will impact our parking lots even more. The parking committee is trying to think of ways to alleviate the parking problem for the future. They are going to get together with some major businesses and try to come up with some answers. If you have any ideas bring them to Mark before the next Parking Committee meeting, on the 1st Tuesday of April.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. No appointments at this time.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. No Old Business at this time.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. ASB Today: Jim reported that ASB Today is moving very slowly and we need more help. If you can help by just writing one article it would be a great help. Mary added that some people who are not involved in many things that this would be a great opportunity to get involved. If we do not get more participation with the ASB Today than it will not happen.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Dave announced that the team captains for the Human Race will meet on Wednesday at 8:00.

B. Dave announced that everyone needs to be careful when other people are talking and not laugh or make jokes at what they say or how they say it.

C. Maria thanked all those who helped last week with the A and L Flyers.

D. John announced that the parking Comm. meets tomorrow 1-2.

E. Michael announced that the Typewriter Comm. meets on Thurs. at 12:30.

F. Pleas announced that project Film Comm. meets tomorrow at 2:00.

G. Sara announced if you are interested in being on the election comm. talk to her.

H. Jen announced that the Environmental Comm. meets after CSA.

I. Mary announced that the AIDS Awareness Comm. meets on Thurs. 9:00 and on every Monday 2-3.

J. Angela announced that the boat dance has a quick meeting after CSA.

The HUMAN RACE

Sponsored by the Volunteer Centers of California

A Community Fundraiser

CHEVRON, U.S.A.

Earn money for your favorite organization-75% of the money raised will be donated to the nonprofit agency of your choice, 25% will go to the the Volunteer Centers.

(Sonoma County Human Race Pledge sheet copy)

Join the Human Race

- * Gather donations/pledges for your favorite non-profit organization. Ask friends, family, neighbors, co-workers, to help you support your organization by contributing to the Human Race.
- * Set a goal - if you ask 20 people to each give $20, you will raise $400. Ask a friend to help collect donations and double your support!
- * Tell your donors that they are participating in the largest community fundraiser in our county and that they are helping all the non-profits by lending their support. The Volunteer Center provides all the materials, publicity, and organization for the event and receives 25% of monies collected.
- * Fill out the sponsor form clearly. Write the name of your organization on all pledge sheets. List your sponsors with addresses and the amount of the donation in ink. Checks are to be made out to the Human Race. Try to collect donations at the time of asking.
- * Turn in your donations to your non-profit, or business coordinator. Funds turned in by May 31 will qualify for prizes and awards. Funds may be turned in after May 31, but will not be credited toward prizes.

ON RACE DAY - Get in costume and be ready for prizes!

- * Bring one copy of the sponsor form to the registration area at Slater Junior High and keep one copy for yourself, to collect any outstanding donations.
- * Enjoy the walk or run through beautiful Howarth and Spring Lake Parks and join the fun after at Slater Jr. Hi.
- * T-shirts will be available to all participants who turn in a pledge sheet and all runners who register for the race.

The Human Race - coordinated by the Volunteer Center

The Volunteer Center is the central clearinghouse for volunteer activity in Sonoma County. The Volunteer Center's mission is to provide training and volunteers to strengthen the 450 non-profit organizations we serve.

Sonoma County Putting its Best Foot Forward!

The HUMAN RACE is a 3K and 10K run and 10K walk sponsored by the Volunteer Center as a benefit for other non-profit organizations. Pick up a pledge sheet from your favorite charity or the Volunteer Center and join the effort that raises funds for more than 100 non-profit agencies.

Join a Winning Team

The Volunteer Center would like to thank the Major Human Race sponsors for their generous contributions to the HUMAN RACE: The Press Democrat, Canteen Services, PacificBell, Exchange Bank and Creative Leisure.

Be part of the most successful HUMAN RACE in the state! Sonoma County organizations raised over $225,000 in 1989.

Robert Henry from Face-to-Face raised $7500 in pledge money, and received an all-expense paid trip to Hawaii for his incredible efforts!

Join the Human Race -
be part of Sonoma County's largest community fundraiser!

in 1990!
Saturday, May 12

Walk or run through scenic Howarth and Spring Lake Parks and join the festivities at Slater Jr. High - pancake breakfast, costume judging, and great entertainment.

Call the Volunteer Center to see how you can participate. We will be happy to tell you and your group everything you need to know to be a successful member of the HUMAN RACE!

is for everyone

Individuals, families, and businesses will be collecting pledges and then walking or running on May 12 in support of their favorite community organizations. Come join the HUMAN RACE and put your best foot forward!

Everyone's a winner in the HUMAN RACE!

"Our whole office gets behind the Human Race. We have T-shirts and posters and photos of our winning team! Our patients love the diversion in the office, and we love being able to raise a lot of money for our favorite charity."

"The Hogs"

Canine Companions celebrate raising nearly $10,000.

The HUMAN RACE is a powerful fundraising tool – 40 organizations raised more than $1,000 each and two agencies reached $22,000!

Our goal is to reach 10,000 pledges in 1990!

The HUMAN RACE is an easy and fun way for all of us to get involved.

Volunteers are the heart of the HUMAN RACE

"The HUMAN RACE is our major fundraiser. The Volunteer Center does all the coordinating, and we concentrate on gathering pledge money. We make it a great time for our friends and supporters."

—Face to Face

The HUMAN RACE – Sonoma County's largest cooperative community fundraiser.

The Volunteer Center makes it easy for you to get involved in the HUMAN RACE. We provide training materials, pledge sheets, posters and buttons, and we're available to talk to your organization or business about how to make the HUMAN RACE work for you.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda was approved as amended.

IV. Minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave had no report at this time.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that Raoul Guzman will be coming to Executive Cabinet today to talk about the use of the Multicultural Budget. He also mentioned that the ASB registration is at about 4312 members. In addition, Mark has been working on some things for the French Film Festival and the Associated Students should advertise our discounts for ASB members for the French Film Festival with our own flier. Bob added that the African dancers who performed today were very good.

Ronda reported that next Wednesday is the Used Book Faire and the committee is doing a good job. There are tons of books in the backroom for us to sell.

C. Boat Dance: Angela reported that everything has been put on hold for the Boat Dance until her, Bob, and Ronda meet with the Sonoma State dance committee chairperson on Friday. After the meeting we will decide whether or not we will co-sponsor this event with them. Executive Cabinet discussed this issue.

D. Board Meeting: Mark reported about his report that he gave to the Board of Trustees on Monday, and he mentioned that many administrators praised the Associated Students for the great job they have been doing for the last couple of years.

E. Day Under the Oaks: Mike reported that the Associated Students are not sponsoring anything for the Day Under the Oaks, so we should think about possibly having a booth of some sort. Executive Cabinet discussed some possibilities.

F. AIDS Awareness Week: E.C. presented Executive Cabinet with a finalized version of the AIDS Awareness Week flier. The committee meets every Monday 2-3:00pm and they have decided that one of the speakers, on Wednesday of that week, will be an all-American model (the ex-Marlboro Man), who has contracted AIDS.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. ASBOOTM: It was decided by consensus to have C. King for ASBOOTM for the month of February.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. There was no old business at this time.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Multicultural Budget: Raoul Guzman came before Executive Cabinet to ask if money from the Multicultural Budget could be used to purchase a laser disk, and he explained the functions of this disk. It was noted that this money would not deplete from their up-coming, multicultural events.

It was moved to approve the use of the Multicultural Budget for the purchase of the Inactive Laser Disk for Garcia Marquez.

M/S/C

B. AIDS Awareness Week: E.C. brought up the idea of buying 1000 condoms for $55 to pass out during AIDS Awareness Week.

It was moved to allocate $55 out of Spring Special Allocations for condoms for AIDS Awareness Week.

M/S/C

C. Day Under the Oaks: Executive Cabinet discussed the possibility of selling Fugacia at Day Under the Oaks.

It was moved to have the Associated Students sponsor the sale of Fugacia at Day Under the Oaks.

M/S/C

D. Speech Seminar: Mark found Monday, March 26th, from 12-1:00pm, to be the best day to hold the speech seminar.

It was moved to provide up to $14, out of Designated Surplus, for lunch for the speech seminar speaker and the seminar organizer on Monday, March 26th.

M/S/C

E. Rose Parade Float: Brian Wimms from the Alumni Association talked to Mark about getting a float together for the Rose Parade.

It was decided to have Mark tell Brian Wimms that he should really talk to the Day Under the Oaks committee about getting a float together for the Rose Parade.

M/S/C

F. Giftpax: Bob mentioned that the Giftpax company wants to know if we want to sponsor the distribution of Giftpax at registration.

It was moved to sponsor the Giftpax without the disposable douche or the Vivarin.

M/S/C There was one abstention.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Silk Flowers: Pleas announced that the Project Film Grants committee decided to allocate money for silk plants for the lounge.

B. Golf Tournament: Mike announced that there is a golf tournament for Day Under the Oaks.

C. Mike's friend: Mike announced that a friend of his just died of AIDS, and he asked that we would keep him in our prayers.

D. CSA Meeting: Bob announced that we should think about having CSA meetings at the Windsor or Petaluma Center.

E. Berkeley: Dave announced that he got into Berkeley , but not under his major.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 5:05.

THE ALTERNATIVE

Today we live under an Old Order. It is a sick and degenerate system of rat-race materialism, self-fixation, drugs, pollution, race-mixing, AIDS, filth, chaos and corruption. It is the way of alienation--and Death.

• But there is a better way, a way of Life. That way calls for a rebirth of racial idealism and a reverence for the eternal laws of Nature. It involves a new awareness, a new faith, a new way of life--a New Order. • If you would like to find out more about a great historic movement of white men and women working to build a better future, write today for further information. Cabrillo head accepts offer from SRJC

By BOB NORBERG
Staff Writer

Cabrillo College President Robert S. Agrella is the new superintendent-president at Santa Rosa Junior College.

The announcement was made Tuesday after Agrella notified his staff at Cabrillo, a picturesque college in Aptos with a sweeping view of the Pacific Ocean.

"We're not surprised," said Nancy Matlock, Cabrillo board president. "We've been aware all along he's been in demand. This isn't the first college who has let us know it had their eye on him."

"I'm disappointed. We hate to see him go, but I understand. It's a step up for him," Matlock said.

Agrella, 46, has been president at Cabrillo since 1985. Before that he was an administrator at Pima County Community College in Tucson, Ariz., and president of Mendocino College in the late '70s.

At Santa Rosa Junior College, he follows Roy Mikalson, who was superintendent-president for 19 years, and becomes only the fourth president in the college's 70-year history.

"I'd like this to be my last move," said Agrella, getting into the spirit of longevity Tuesday. "There's no reason why it can't be. This is the pinnacle of my career."

The terms of the contract were not released. SRJC board President Bob Burdo said he would release it after final details are worked out and the contract is signed.

In his last year, Mikalson was making $109,000. At Cabrillo, Agrella's salary was in the $80,000 range, with a 6 percent salary increase granted by the board during an evaluation a month ago.

Agrella was chosen from seven finalists after a screening committee winnowed down a field of 50 applicants. He was offered the job Monday afternoon and called Burdo on Monday night, after meeting with Cabrillo trustees in closed session.

"We had at least 12 who have comparable positions to mine. They are all good people, successful people," Mikalson said. "We wanted to find someone who would fit into this situation, interested in coming to this community. I think it came out very well."

Agrella said he expects to arrive at SRJC in midsummer, after selling his Aptos house and moving his family to Sonoma County. His wife grew up in Santa Rosa and Agrella said for her it will be like coming home.

The attraction of SRJC was its excellent reputation, Agrella said. He also likes the longevity of the board and past presidents, the traditions, and financial stability.

Agrella also said his experience is well-suited to SRJC.

At Pima and Cabrillo, Agrella joined campuses that were in their first years of negotiations in collective bargaining. SRJC faculty has just unionized, being represented by the independent All Faculty Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

Agrella said his first order of business at SRJC is to study the staff, the administration, the tradition and campus. He didn't expect any immediate changes.

Dr. Robert F. Agrella was offered the position of Superintendent/President of Santa Rosa Junior College today by the college's Board of Trustees.

Agrella is currently the Superintendent/President of Cabrillo College in Aptos. Bob Burdo, President of SRJC's Board of Trustees, said the Board decision to make the offer was unanimous.

Dr. Agrella has not yet accepted the offer but is conferring with his family, Burdo said. Although no date for a decision was agreed upon, Burdo felt that the District would have an answer by Wednesday.

If he accepts the offer, the 46-year old Agrella will become the fourth Superintendent/President in the history of the college. Dr. Roy G. Mikalson, the college's third Superintendent/President, will retire August 31, 1990 after 27 years of service to the college.

Burdo said that if Agrella accepts the position, he would expect the new Superintendent/President to be on the job sometime in the summer," suggesting that Agrella might work with Mikalson in a transition period before Mikalson's retirement.

"We haven't decided how long the period of transition will be," Burdo said.

Burdo said the Board felt Agrella was the "most qualified and best choice," of the seven candidates who were interviewed. Agrella's strong points, Burdo said, were his experience with expansion and such topics as collective bargaining.

"He just seemed to be the all around best choice," Burdo said.

A native of Chicago, Agrella holds a B.S. in Mathematics and an M.A. in Mathematics Teaching from Purdue University. He has an Ed.D. in Higher Education from Nova University.

Agrella has served as Superintendent/President of two California Community Colleges: Cabrillo, since 1986 and Mendocino College from 1978-80. He is currently on the Legislation and Finance Commission of the California Association of Community Colleges (CACC) and is a member of the Chancellor's Office Task Force on Management Information Systems (MIS).

Before taking the position at Cabrillo, he was College Provost/Vice President of Academic Affairs at Pima Community College District in Tucson, Arizona. From 1970-78, he served in a variety of capacities at the Pima Community College District including: Executive Dean and Chief Instructional Officer of the Downtown Campus; and Associate Dean/Division Director and faculty member at the West Campus.

From 1976-78 he was a mathematics teacher at Homewood-Flossmoor High School in Flossmoor, Illinois.

Active in the Aptos area, Agrella is a Rotarian and Director of the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Cruz County Cultural Council. He and his wife, Laurel Lorraine, have two children, Christopher and Ryan.

Cabrillo College, founded in 1959, has an enrollment of slightly more than 13,000 students. Santa Rosa Junior College, founded in 1918, has a Spring 1990 enroll

LIVE, INTERACTIVE TELECONFERENCE SPONSORED BY GROSSMONT COLLEGE

MARCH 30, 1990

9:00 - 10:30 AM

ROOM 1 - LIBRARY

AS THE POPULATION OF THE NATION BECOMES MORE DIVERSE, THE NEED TO ACQUIRE DIVERSITY WITHIN OUR COLLEGE STAFF, AND ESPECIALLY AMONG FACULTY, HAS BECOME A MAJOR PRIORITY FOR THE 90'S. IT IS CRITICAL THAT COLLEGE LEADERS SET THE PACE FOR DIVERSIFYING THE CAMPUS ENVIRONMENT IN ORDER TO MEET THE CHALLENGES THAT THESE DEMOGRAPHIC CHANGES BRING. THIS INCLUDES TAKING AN ACTIVE ROLE IN INCORPORATING ALL MEMBERS OF SOCIETY INTO OUR INSTITUTIONS. SPECIFICALLY, THESE DEMOGRAPHIC CHANGES MANDATE THAT ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS PROVIDE ROLE MODELS REFLECTIVE OF THE NATIONAL POPULATION. SIX NATIONAL LEADERS FROM COMMUNITY COLLEGES WILL DESCRIBE THE KINDS OF STRATEGIES NECESSARY TO RECRUIT AND RETAIN SUCH A DIVERSE FACULTY IN A LIVE INTERACTIVE TELECONFERENCE ENTITLED "ACQUIRING STAFF DIVERSITY: WHY AND HOW." THE TELECONFERENCE IS SPONSORED BY GROSSMONT COLLEGE, THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN IN COMMUNITY AND JUNIOR COLLEGES, THE NATIONAL COUNCIL ON BLACK AMERICAN AFFAIRS AND THE NATIONAL COMMUNITY COLLEGE HISPANIC COUNCIL. THIS PROMISES TO BE ONE OF THE MOST EXCITING AND RELEVANT TELECONFERENCES OF THE DECADE. MAKE PLANS NOW TO ATTEND THIS ENLIGHTENING LOOK AT "DIVERSITY."

OPINION

Affirmative Action is for Students

by Robert A. Scott
President, Ramapo College of New Jersey

Robert A. Scott

day's college students, whether they are white, black, Hispanic, Asian, or members of any other minority group, will live in communities that are influenced by international students and include residents of various races and nationalities. In the workplace, they will either be supervised or be supervised by persons of the opposite sex, a different ethnic background, or a different nationality.

Demographics are destiny, Kenneth Boulding said, then the celestial mechanics of population are destined to make us increasingly pluralistic, multicultural society. Into this society college graduates will go to various positions as citizens, professionals, leaders, professional neighbors.

Therefore, it is no wonder that many college presidents and trustees believe that affirmative action is for students, and it is imperative for colleges and universities to develop recruitment and screening procedures to successfully recruit and hire minority faculty scholars and staff members.

It is true that there are a large number of minority people unprepared to become competitive with traditional credentials. For this reason, we must mount aggressive search and screening programs to ensure that students will study with faculty and staff who represent a variety of ethnic and cultural backgrounds.

Four years ago, affirmative action goals were modest, barely met, at Ramapo College in 1985-86, soon after beginning the presidency, I initiated a number of changes in the approach to affirmative action. While results have not been all that we wanted, we have made progress. In the past four and one-half years, 50 percent of all new faculty appointments at Ramapo have been women, and one-third have been minority scholars. In the past year, half of new faculty appointments were female scholars, and two-thirds were minority scholars. How did we do it, and how do we plan to improve on our success?

■ First, I appointed a new affirmative action officer, strengthened her title to senior advisor to the president on affirmative action and employment planning, and added her to my weekly meeting with senior officers to discuss overall college plans and priorities.

■ Second, we developed a format for quarterly reports on affirmative action goals to be submitted to the president and discussed with the board of trustees in a public session.

■ Third, we explicitly included affirmative action as one of the criteria on which managerial performance would be evaluated and salary recommendations would be based.

■ Fourth, we took one open faculty line and made it a permanent position for a visiting minority scholar who would offer one or two courses, several presentations for students, and one or more major public presentations each semester.

■ Fifth, we required each search committee to search actively and screen for minority candidates. Only those committees whose pools included minorities and females would be eligible for travel funds, unless the vice president or president granted an exemption to this requirement based on the aggressiveness of the search process.

■ Sixth, members of the reorganized affirmative action committee were assigned to each search committee.

■ Seventh, searches that did not produce a minority or female candidate in the final pool were often cancelled and required to start over again.

As an extra step, we coordinated with the state's Minority Academic Careers Program to set aside stipends for minority graduate students to present seminars at Ramapo and become familiar with our faculty and students.

With these policies and procedures and strong urging at the twice annual All-College Convocation, we have been able to make substantial progress in recruiting minority and female scholars to serve as role models for all members of our university community.

Cecelia Cortage

We regret to inform you that Cecelia Cortage, English instructor at Santa Rosa Junior College since 1954, died Thursday afternoon at her home.

A native of Oakland, Cortage was a student at SRJC in the early 40's. She received her B.A. degree from UC Berkeley with "highest honors" and her M.A. in the Education of Exceptional Children from San Francisco State.

She taught first and second grades at Wright School in Santa Rosa from 1947-50, at Healdsburg Elementary from 1950-1960 and at the Roseland School District from 1962-63.

At the time of her death, Cortage was teaching two classes in the English Department, "English 73.1 Semantics: "How Not to Be a Damn Fool," and English 73.2 Semantics: "This Course Will Go To Your Head."

Dick Webster, chair of SRJC's English Department, said, "She was only on campus at night, but having developed and taught semantics for the English Department for 36 years, she had become an institution. She lived to teach."

She was an inspiration to many of her students, some of whom wrote letters to the college praising her skills. One such student wrote,

"Seldom has it been my privilege to witness the skilled performance of a professor who seems to dedicate herself to the progress of the student. Individually her students are invited and encouraged to follow the pathway on which her torch is shining. She creates an atmosphere which inspires the sharing of common truths. She is a distinguished, humble, unforgettable teacher who makes each hour a fascinating expedition into the mysteries of the purpose of life."

Cortage was described as a private person. She was reluctant to mention her age, and friends say the age on her medical forms wasn't accurate. "We all knew that Cecelia lied about her age," a friend said.

Several times, since the late 70's Cortage would discuss the possibility of retiring. But when one colleague suggested in the early 80's that she might be "too frail" to continue in the classroom, Cortage wrote him a letter,

"You mention that you are concerned, for the best of reasons, about my physical ability to function in the classroom; although you admit that this does not emerge from any absence of teaching skill in my work, nor in any lack of studious attention from the members of my class.

Liveliness is not the only criterion of good college teaching, Physical robustness is not the most valuable characteristic of a good college teacher, nor is physical strength a requirement. Robust blockheads exist in the classroom as well as lively, dramatic poseurs of the Narcissus variety.

It is a lively mind that should be of foremost value for a college teacher, should it not? I have always had a good mind capable of fancy, mental footwork, and I still have."

A friend and former student who was with Cortage when she died, recalled her first encounter with the teacher.

"I was returning to school after 25 years," she said, remembering that when she first walked into class she was taken aback by the appearance of the frail, obviously older woman in front of the classroom.

"One of the first things she said was 'be careful what you say to yourselves. Remember you are your own best audience,'" Liz Razovich said. "I knew then that this was going to be an important class."

Razovich said Cortage was donating her collection of books on semantics to Santa Rosa Junior College and that funds from her estate would be used to establish a scholarship to benefit students who were "humorous writers."

"Teaching was her whole life," Razovich said, adding that Cortage wanted her tombstone to read, "Cecelia Cortage: Scholar."

As an addendum to a self-evaluation form, Cortage wrote: "My teaching goal is not simply to help my students meet the requirements of the course, but to change their thinking and, consequently, their lives. To help them realize our common humanity; this is the goal of education, isn't it."

MINUTES

- I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.
- II. Angela Taylor and E.C. Gregory were absent.
- III. Agenda was approved as amended.
- IV. Minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave handed out an article to Executive Cabinet titled "New Order."

B. Advisors: Bob reported that there is a Board of Trustee meeting at noon on Monday, March 26th, and a press conference will follow at 1:15. Then there will be a reception for the new president, Dr. Agrella, at 2:00pm in the Student Lounge. He also mentioned that the French Film Festival Gala Event is tonight. In addition, Bob's son won a writing contest at school and he is now going on to county competition tonight. Bob reminded us too, that Friday, March 23rd, we are giving junior high students tours both at 9:00am and at 10:45am.

Ronda reported that election petitions are available tomorrow at 8:00am. She also thanked Mary and C. King for co-chairing the Used Book Faire, and Dave and Mark for helping set up this morning.

C. Boat Dance: Mary reported about the meeting that she attended yesterday with Bob and Ronda, and the dance commissioner and advisor of Sonoma State University, concerning a Boat Dance co-sponsorship.

D. Used Book Faire: Mary reported that the Used Book Faire went great today and we made the most money ever - $233.25. She also thanked Ronda and everyone else who helped make the event such a success.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. There were no appointments at this time.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Boat Dance: Executive Cabinet discussed our options concerning our co-sponsorship for the Boat Dance with Sonoma State University.

B. Parking: Mark mentioned that he has received a lot of input concerning the future loss of the Albany neighborhood parking spaces. Executive Cabinet discussed supporting the students who park in this neighborhood. It was moved to have Executive Cabinet support the issue of not allowing the Albany parking to be taken away from the SRJC students.

M/S/c

It was moved to amend the motion to read: to have the Associated Students support the effort to oppose the Albany resident's parking petition.

M/S/C

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Gift for R. Mikalson: Pleas went to Dr. Mikalson's retirement committee meeting in which they discussed his retirement dinner and student speakers. Executive Cabinet discussed possible gifts for Dr. Mikalson.

B. Adaptive P.E. Budget: Mary mentioned that her and Mark met with Johnny Hazzen~~has~~ yesterday concerning the possibility of using Adaptive P.E. budget money for other activities besides the wheel chair sports, because the interest in this sport has decreased this year. Executive Cabinet decided to have Johnny come back with examples of what activities the money would be used for.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Smoking: M. Scott announced that he has not smoked for three days.

B. Speech Seminar: Mark announced that the speech seminar is Wenesday, April 4th, at noon in the Pioneer Assembly Room.

Managing Your Hard Drive

The recent equipment delivery indicates that many Mac users have hard drives included in their computer package. Hard drives make it so convenient and easy to use; it's fast, it has a large storage capacity, and when you get used to it, you'll never want to use floppies!

CAUTION!!!!!! You can experience crashes and loss of data on a hard drive.

Here are a couple of tips that will help you avoid this.

1. Backups! Save a copy of your data files on floppies regularly.

To determine how many backups you need to do during a work week, you have to consider what is the value you give your work. Here is a formula to help you evaluate an "affordable loss":

$$\frac{\text{[number of hours worked on your Mac per day]}}{6} = \text{number of backups per day}$$

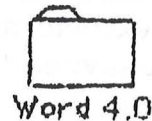

In other words, do a backup every 6 hours or at least once a day.

2. Save data files on floppies, not on the hard drive! This method will give you extra storage capacity for upgrading or adding software to your hard drive, the flexibility of using computers in other locations and the chances of losing data is eliminated.

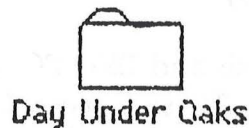

File Management

Organizing your data files on the hard drive will help you find, update, and track your work. Saving them in folders that are appropriate by subject, date, application, etc. can be helpful for this purpose. Here are some examples:

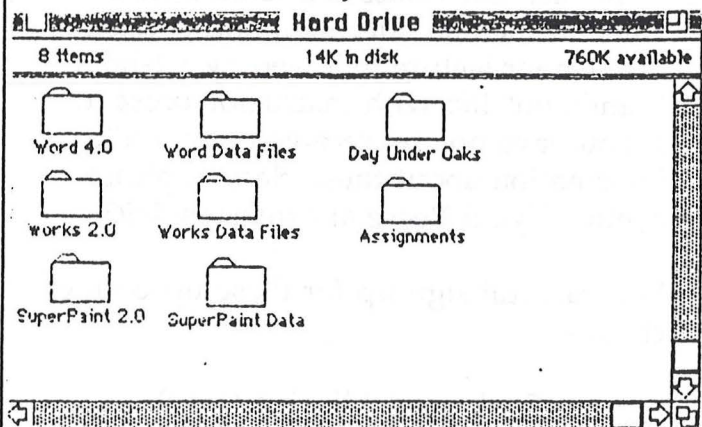

All data files created with Word 4.0 are saved in this folder.

All data files pertaining to a specific project are saved in this folder.

Your hard drive may look like this:

In a work environment where the computer and hard drive are shared, it is important for the users to plan how the software and data files should be organized.

-- Shirley Davis

Interactive Multimedia

Our campus has the opportunity to preview for one month, three interactive multimedia packages, "Election '88," "Martin Luther King, Jr.," and "In the Holy Land," produced by ABC News and Optical Data Corporation. Using the Macintosh computer to interact with the video disk, you can use the images to enrich your curriculum, motivate your students and add excitement to your classroom. You're invited to explore these visual treasure chests. Contact Shirley Davis, X4588, to make an appointment.

1990 BOAT DANCE
SRJC COMMITTEE'S POSITION

SRJC would like to co-sponsor the Boat Dance with SSU.

Ticket Price - $14 w/ASB and $17 w/o, provided that both schools honor each others ASB cards. The three dollar difference is to give ASB members a sufficient discount.

Number of Tickets - SRJC 225 and SSU 75, for the following reasons:

- SRJC does not want to cut out our great number of students who wish to attend.
- This is SRJC's only major money-making venture and we will make more money by selling more tickets at our school because of non-ASB members.

Decorations - SRJC agrees with having simple decorations on the food deck, i.e. festive napkins, etc.

Wrist Bands - SRJC agrees that wrist bands are a good idea in order to designate those students over 21. (Bob Flores will provide the wrist bands.)

Responsible Statement - SRJC agrees with having a responsible statement inserted in the bid at the time of ticket sales.

Dear Fellow Students:

By now you should have heard of SB 507, also known as the Guarantee Transfer Bill. The Guarantee Transfer Bill is currently the most important piece of legislation pending that concerns community college students. However, it needs the support of COMMUNITY COLLEGE STUDENTS.

To date, I am not aware of very many communitiy colleges that have written letters of support to their local Assemblymen or Senators. However, lobbyists for the University of California have mounted a large campaign to defeat this bill. The time has come for Community College Students to make their voices heard at the capitol and around the state.

Enclosed you will find a plethora of information regarding the Guaranteed Transfer Bill. There is a sample letter and addresses for state Assemblymen and Senators. The highlighted names are members of the Education Commitee. The letter writing campaign should focus on your local district representatives, as well as members of the Education Committee. Please send me a copy of any letters you write, so we can monitor our efforts. If you need any further information regarding this Bill please contact your State Senator, Regional Policy Board member, or myself.

There are 1.4 million Community College Students, only if we work together can we assure the passage of the Guaranteed Transfer Bill. So let's get busy and make our voices heard.

Sincerely,

Aija R Halliday
Vice President CAL-SACC

SB507 needs help!

As student leaders most of us want to be remembered as having made a significant contribution to fellow students. Now is your opportunity.

The guaranteed transfer bill (SB507) needs the support of students. This bill will greatly improve the transfer process from a community college to a four-year institution. On top of that, it will remove the guesswork many students now find extremely frustrating.

With SB507, a student can sign a document stating that if designated courses are completed at a designated GPA, he or she will automatically be accepted into the college of choice!

SB507 means success for you and your peers. If successful in getting SB507 passed, this will be something worth being remembered for.

In order to be successful, this bill needs the support of students from all over the state. Get involved let your senators and assemblymen know where you stand.

If you have any further questions, please contact your CalSACC/CSBG regional representatives or any member of the Executive Board. Let's work together to pass this bill.

T-SAM: Together students accomplish more.

U.C. students lobby against SB507: Community college transfer rights

by Jeff Mason
Capitol Correspondent

The University of California Students Organization, a political presentation organization funded by University of California students, has reportedly lobbied heavily against the passage of Senate Bill 507 (Hart-D), the community college transfer bill. If passed, SB507 would give California Community College students guaranteed placement (upon completion of a stipulated transfer program) in the UC or CSU college and major of their choice.

The legislation, which was passed by the Senate with a vote of 7 to 0, has been held up in the Assembly since July 10, 1989. Several organizations sympathetic to the bills' passage (including the California Association of Community Colleges, the California Community College Trustee Association, and the Faculty Association of Community Colleges) have made several attempts at moving the piece of legislation forward for a vote by the full Assembly.

The bill was first introduced to California Community College students by California Community College Chancellor David Mertes during the 1989 CalSACC convention. Since that time, CalSACC has attempted to lobby the legislature for passage of the bill, but has encountered several obstacles to their efforts. The major problem has been CalSACC's financial limitations according to Policy Board Member Julie Reader (Region II). "CalSACC's ability to represent the concerns of community college students has been hindered because of the constraints of our budget. Unfortunately, only a minority of the schools have paid their dues for this year."

After hearing of the UC students' lobbying effort, CalSACC Vice President Aija Halliday asked, "Why are the goals of students enrolled in the University of California more important than those of community college students? It's time we [community college students] began to demand an equal standing in the policies of California higher education."

Halliday plans to use the CalSACC Policy Board meeting planned for Dec. 8-9 to begin new efforts for student lobbying on behalf of the bill.

"Because of CalSACC's financial constraints we are going to have to rely upon a strong showing by individual colleges and students. If community college students don't begin to speak out on behalf of 507, it's very possible that no one else will."

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

BILL NUMBER: SB 507
 LAST AMENDED DATE: 01/12/90

SB 507, as amended, Hart. Public postsecondary education: transfer provisions.

Existing law requires the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, the Regents of the University of California, and the Trustees of the California State University, with appropriate consultation with the Academic Senates of the respective segments, to develop, maintain, and disseminate uniformly a common core curriculum in general education courses for the purposes of transfer. Each person who successfully completes the transfer core curriculum is deemed to have completed all lower-division general education requirements for the University of California and the California State University.

This bill would require the Regents of the University of California, the Trustees of the California State University, and the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to have as a fundamental policy the maintenance of a healthy and expanded student transfer system.

The bill would require the California State University to maintain its per-division enrollment at approximately 60% of total undergraduate enrollment. The bill would require the University of California, commencing with the 1989-90 1990-91 academic year, to increase the percentage that per-division enrollment systemwide is of total undergraduate enrollment by one percentage point each year through the 1994-95 academic year until that percentage reaches approximately 60%. The bill would also require the governing board of each segment to ensure that individual university and college campus enrollment plans include adequate upper-division courses for community college transfer students in all undergraduate colleges or schools, as specified.

The bill would require the University of California, the California State University, and the California Community Colleges to make annual reports to the Legislature concerning the status of the transfer system and related enrollment issues.

This bill would provide that all students who successfully complete the curricula appropriate for transfer curriculum, as specified, at the community college level are guaranteed future enrollment as upper-division students at the University of California or the California State University, as specified in the transfer agreement. The bill would impose a state-mandated local program by requiring that each community college district governing board ensure that its college or colleges maintain student transfer counseling centers or other counseling and student services pending designed and implemented to affirmatively seekout, counsel, advise, and monitor the progress of potential and identified community college transfer students, and by imposing certain duties upon the governing boards of community college districts.

The bill would specify that none of these provisions shall apply to the University of California except to the extent that the Regents of the University of California, by resolution, make that provision applicable.

The bill would require the California Postsecondary Education Commission to advise the Governor and the Legislature biennially

regarding specified matters.

The bill would appropriate $10,000,000 to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for local assistance for purposes of the transfer functions.

The bill also would appropriate $750,000 to the Regents of the University of California and $750,000 to the California State University for purposes of the transfer functions.

The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement, including the creation of a State Mandates Claims Fund to pay the costs of mandates which not exceed $1,000,000 statewide and other procedures for claims whose statewide costs exceed $1,000,000.

This bill would provide that, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this bill contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement for those costs shall be made pursuant to those statutory procedures and, if the statewide cost does not exceed $1,000,000, shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

Vote: 2/3. Appropriation: yes. Fiscal committee: yes. State-mandated local program: yes.

TYPES OF LEGISLATION

Bills can create new state laws and/or repeal or adjust existing state laws. Depending upon the house of origin, they are referred to as Assembly Bills or Senate Bills, followed by a number (for example, AB 13, SB 132). Bill numbers remain the same during the Legislature's two-year, biennial session.

Constitutional amendments, also called "bills," actually are resolutions proposing constitutional changes to the electorate. They require a two-thirds majority in each house to qualify for the ballot and are referred to as SCAs or ACAs.

Concurrent resolutions are used to adopt joint rules, create joint legislative committees, express legislative intent and commend individuals for public service. They are referred to as ACRs and SCRs.

Joint resolutions express legislative opinion on matters pertaining to the federal government and usually urge passage or defeat of legislation pending before Congress. They are referred to as SJRs or AJRs.

DEAR MR LOCKYER

I AM WRITING TO YOU ON BEHALF OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF OHLONE COLLEGE (ASOC). WE WOULD LIKE TO EXPRESS OUR SOLID SUPPORT FOR SB507. THE STUDENTS OF COMMUNITY COLLEGES WILL GREATLY BENEFIT WITH THE PASSAGE OF THIS BILL. AFTER HEARING SOME OF THE NIGHTMARISH STORIES OF TRANSFER STUDENTS, IT IS EASY TO SEE THE NECESSITY OF THIS BILL. I'M SURE IT WILL GREATLY IMPROVE THE TRANSITION FROM COMMUNITY COLLEGES TO THE UC AND STATE SYSTEMS.

IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS FOR THE STUDENTS OF OHLONE COLLEGE, PLEASE CONTACT ME PERSONALLY AT (415)659-6063 OR (415)659-6255.

AIJA HALLIDAY
PRESIDENT - ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF OHLONE COLLEGE

February 20, 1990

TO: State Legislative Representatives of MT. San Antonio
College School District;

Last year Assemblymen Tom Hayden sponsored AB 462, which deals with the California Community College Master Plan. Major provisions covered in this bill include areas of admissions, transfers, campus growth and expansion, equity, accountability, and financial aid.

In addition to AB 462, Senator Gary Hart sponsored SB 507, which includes guaranteed transfer to a University of California or California State University system for community college students.

With the above bills focusing on the betterment of California's Community Colleges, the Associated Students of MT. SAC pledge their support. We feel that these bills are very important to the future of California's Post Secondary Education.

The California Community Colleges and our four year universities must work together on a comprehensive program to give California students the best quality education possible.

We feel these bills form the basis of such cooperation.

Sincerely,

Duane Thompson

Hello, my name is Harry Sachs. I am a student at Palomar College, as well as the Chancellor's office Region X representative for the San Diego County community colleges. I am asking your support for the passage of SB 507 Hart. The bill would mandate that community colleges provide transfer centers on their campuses and maintain articulation agreements with at least 3 U.C. and 5 C.S.U. campuses. SB 507 would also require U.C. and CSU to gradually implement a 60:40 ratio for transfer students, 40% being community college transfer students.

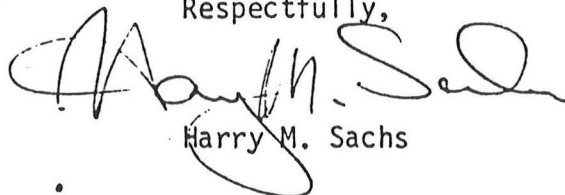

As you may know, Chancellor Dr. David Mertes and the California Postsecondary Education Committee have anticipated that the 1990's will be a period of substantial growth for community colleges. Currently, 1,380,000 students attend 107 community colleges. Increases in student populations are expected to grow by approximately 4 to 7% annually.

Passage of SB 507 would accommodate the expected increase in transfer students into U.C. and CSU schools as well as eliminate the all too frequent guesswork that students encounter when transferring. Based on a Board of Governors study on transfer centers, it was shown that based on taxpayer costs, a student duplicating a course at a U.C. school costs $475.00 SB 507 would drastically reduce course repetition and thus allow taxpayer's money to be used in other ways.

The magnitude of students enjoying the benefits of education in California through the community college system ensures success for the practical application of SB 507 and with its passage lends itself to student success.

I welcome your comments concerning SB 507 and look forward to correspondence with you in the future.

Respectfully,

Harry M. Sachs

STUDY ROOM RESOLUTION

Whereas, currently there are no available rooms for students to study and congregate with food and or drink in Barnett Hall.

Whereas the space available in Lark Hall, Shuhaw Hall, the Doyle Student Lounge, the cafeteria and the library are not adequate due to distance from Barnett Hall, set purpose and other restrictions.

Whereas classes are still being held when other facilities, such as the Doyle Student lounge and the cafeteria, are closed.

Whereas the cafeteria is the only place where food and drink is allowed

Whereas the only place where adequate space is always available is in the library which is located on the North-Eastern portion of campus.

Whereas there is an increased risk of bodily injury during nights and on poor weather days if students have to migrate to an adequate study area.

Let it be resolved that a room should be made available to occupy thirty students in Barnett Hall, during campus hours, for students to study and congregate with food and or drink.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Michael Dolin was absent.

III. Agenda was approved as amended.

IV. Minutes were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that he talked to the College of Marin Associated Students President about CalSACC and she will be at the CSA meeting on Monday, April 2nd, to explain about CalSACC and what it entails.

B. Advisors: Bob passed out a handout listing that the Associated Students made $196 from the On Campus Marketing Corporation sale of student VISA's. He also passed out a count of ASB membership by course classification. In addition, Bob mentioned that the President's Reception for Dr. Agrella went well on Monday, and he was glad to see Dr. Mikalson, Mr. Burdo, and Dr. Agrella attend the CSA meeting that afternoon.

Ronda reported that Maria Bushey is the chair of the Blood Drive on April 11th, and she encouraged Executive Cabinet to sign up to work the booth. She also passed out a Mac Bulletin Users Publication. Ronda added that elections are going well and the closing date is next Tuesday, April 3rd.

C. Boat Dance: Angela told Executive Cabinet that the Boat Dance committee has decided to co-sponsor the Boat Dance with Sonoma State University. This co-sponsorship means that all of the finances will go through SRJC and SSU will take care of publicity in exchange for a share of the tickets to sell on their campus.

D. Alumni Golf Tournament: Bob reported that the Alumni Association is sponsoring a golf tournament the day before Day Under the Oaks - Saturday, May 19th. He also mentioned that George Grijalva approached the Associated Students concerning buying 500 golf balls with SRJC printed on them.

E. Directory: M. Scott reported that such buildings as Emeritus need a directory for students, that would list locations of classrooms. It was decided to have M. Scott talk to John Hamblin - the Associated Students' Facilities/Transportation Representative concerning this issue.

F. AIDS Awareness Week: E.C. reported that Maria Bushey and Nathan Witton are in charge of the booth for AAW and the committee is thinking of having condoms and bleach available for students if asked for.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. Spirit Team Tryouts: Ronda mentioned that Spirit Team Tryouts are Saturday, May 12th, and she needs a student representative to be a judge. It was decided to have Mark and Pleas be judges for the Spirit Team Tryouts.

B. ASBOOTM: It was decided by consensus to approve Maria Bushey as ASBOOTM for March.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Boat Dance: Angela passed out a copy of an updated Boat Dance budget for Executive Cabinet to look over.

It was moved to adopt the new Boat Dance budget as presented.

M/S/C

B. Recycling Proposal: Dave passed out a copy of the Environmental Issues' "Proposal for Recycling" so that Executive Cabinet could proofread it before he brings it in front of College Council on Thursday, March 29th.

C. Adaptive P.E. Funds: Mark mentioned that he has examples of what Johnny Hazzenzahl (Adaptive P.E. instructor) wants to use the funds for, such as Adaptive P.E. swimming.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. There was no new business at this time.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Tour Guides: Pleas announced that anyone interested in giving tours this spring to contact him ASAP.

B. Day Under the Oaks: Pleas passed around a sign-up sheet for Executive Cabinet to work the Student Activities Office front desk on the day of Day Under the Oaks.

C. Protest March: Mark announced that Luz Navarrette has organized a protest march for Saturday, March 31st, at 11:00am. The march is to protest a gang article written by the Press Democrat.

D. Excuses: M. Scott read off some favorite excuses out of the Press Democrat.

E. Budget Requests: Angela announced that the budget requests will be sent out to all of the departments on Monday, April 2nd.

F. Smoking: M. Scott has quit smoking for another three days.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 4:30.

STUDENT LEADERS AND ADVISORS

I would just like to take this time to invite you to attend the 3rd annual Legislative Conference on April 27-29, 1990 at the Santa Clara Marriott. This years conference looks to be exciting and very informative. The planning committee has received many of offers from students to participate in the planning of the conference. We are still looking for workshop presenters. I am certain with the response to the fall conference and the overwhelming response through the mail, this will be the best conference yet. Again it is still not too late to become a workshop presenter, but you must contact me as soon as possible. I hope that if you have any concerns or questions regarding the conference that you will not hesitate to contact me. Good luck in the coming year, make sure that the Conference is in your plans.

Thank you and stay in touch!

re: DUO Alumni Golf Tournament
Possi-ball publicity

As discussed at the last meeting I spoke with George Grijalda about possibly supporting the Alumni Golf Tournament through the purchase of golf balls. The information below is for balls printed at Halls Trophies with a logo and wording, ie: "Associated Students"

Price: $425 per gross (1 gross min.)
$100 set up fee for printing (one time only)
$525 Total cost

Includes: 25% discount on balls and 05% discount on printing

Balls: Pinnacle Gold ($7.00 per sleeve-pro shop) and...our cost = ($10.937 per sleeve-with printing)

Options: 48 sleeves @ $10.00 ea. = $480 $45.00 net loss
@ $12.00 ea = $576 $51.00 net prof

We could sell the balls during the tournament, prior to the tournament, in the bookstore, for the staff Golf Tournament in June and could give some away as gifts to ?. It would be GREAT PUBLICITY for the ASSOCIATED STUDENTS.

This is the info...What do we think?

Dear Friend of the Market:

The Summer of 1989 was the birth of an exciting new tradition in Sonoma County. The Thursday Night Market brought together the best ingredients our county-wide community has to offer. Fourth Street in Santa Rosa was crowded with

- Stalls of fresh produce and colorful flowers
- Musicians, dancers and entertainment for children
- Mouth-watering choices from barbecue and dessert vendors
- Families (of all ages!) meeting old friends and new

Plans are now being formulated for the 1990 season which begins May 3. The City of Santa Rosa has been very supportive in donating city services. The County also has helped with advertising dollars to promote the Sonoma County products available at the Market. Many volunteers have given time in preparation of another wonderful summer -- and many more will work at the Market itself.

We need your help, too!

Please consider making a donation to the 1990 Thursday Night Market. Do you or your business benefit from the Market? Does it help your business to have several thousand residents and visitors come to downtown Santa Rosa on Thursday evenings? Or, perhaps you just enjoyed participating in the event and want to help assure its success again this year.

Your financial support will help guarantee the continued success of the Market's celebration of the best of Sonoma County -- its people and its products.

Yours truly,

Kevin Walbridge, Fund-Raising Chairman

Dear

As Legislative Commissioner, I am writing to you on behalf of the College Student Assembly at Santa Rosa Junior College. I would like to express to you our support for the SB507 bill. This bill would mandate the establishment of transfer centers on community college campuses and would also require U.S. and CSU systems to work towards implementing a 60:40 ratio for transfer students, 40% being community college transfer students.

When considering the fact that there are approximately 1.4 million community college students in California and the main purpose of a community college is to prepare students for a U.C. or C.S.U. system, it seems only logical that community college students should be offered the most feasible transfer system possible. Therefore, your support of this bill would be appreciated, not only by the students at Santa Rosa Junior College, but also by community college students all over California.

Since competition for a position in a U.C. or C.S.U. system is so intense, many community college students feel excluded from this realm of education. This bill would help boost the moral of transferring students and keep them striving for success in the California educational system.

Sincerely,

Amy Haddix
Legislative Commissioner, SRJC

ADAPTIVE PHYSICAL EDUCATION

April 9, 1990

Associated Student Body,
Santa Rosa Junior College

Dear Sirs:

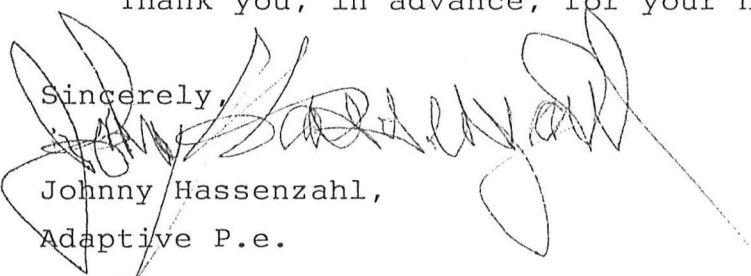

As Coordinator/Instructor of the Adaptive Physical Education Program, I would like to add my full support to Joan McConnell's request for funds to attend the Sports for the Physically Disabled Clinic, scheduled for April 20-21 at Lake Tahoe.

I've spoken to Joan about this conference, and she will most certainly share any information she brings back with her with Enabling Services, Adaptive P.E., and selected physical education instructors in the Santa Rosa schools.

The Adaptive Physical Education Department supports her request wholeheartedly, and I feel confident from past experience that you will fund her request in its entirety.

Thank you, in advance, for your help.

Sincerely,

Johnny Hassenzahl,
Adaptive P.e.

Dear Fellow Students:

By now you should have heard of SB 507, also known as the Guarantee Transfer Bill. The Guarantee Transfer Bill is currently the most important piece of legislation pending that concerns community college students. However, it needs the support of COMMUNITY COLLEGE STUDENTS.

To date, I am not aware of very many communitiy colleges that have written letters of support to their local Assemblymen or Senators. However, lobbyists for the University of California have mounted a large campaign to defeat this bill. The time has come for Community College Students to make their voices heard at the capitol and around the state.

Enclosed you will find a plethora of information regarding the Guaranteed Transfer Bill. There is a sample letter and addresses for state Assemblymen and Senators. The highlighted names are members of the Education Committee. The letter writing campaign should focus on your local district representatives, as well as members of the Education Committee. Please send me a copy of any letters you write, so we can monitor our efforts. If you need any further information regarding this Bill please contact your State Senator, Regional Policy Board member, or myself.

There are 1.4 million Community College Students, only if we work together can we assure the passage of the Guaranteed Transfer Bill. So let's get busy and make our voices heard.

Sincerely,

Aija R Halliday

needs help!

As student leaders most of us want to be remembered as having made a significant contribution to fellow students. Now is your opportunity.

The guaranteed transfer bill (SB507) needs the support of students. This bill will greatly improve the transfer process from a community college to a four-year institution. On top of that, it will remove the guesswork many students now find extremely frustrating.

With SB507, a student can sign a document stating that if designated courses are completed at a designated GPA, he or she will automatically be accepted into the college of choice!

SB507 means success for you and your peers. If successful in getting SB507 passed, this will be something worth being remembered for.

In order to be successful, this bill needs the support of students from all over the state. Get involved let your senators and assemblymen know where you stand.

If you have any further questions, please contact your CalSACC/CSBG regional representatives or any member of the Executive Board. Let's work together to pass this bill.

T-SAM: Together students accomplish more.

U.C. students lobby against SB507: Community college transfer rights

By Jeff Mason
Capitol Correspondent

The University of California Students Organization, a political representation organization funded by University of California students, has reportedly lobbied heavily against the passage of Senate Bill 507 (Hart-D), the community college transfer bill. If passed, SB507 would give California Community College students guaranteed placement (upon completion of a stipulated transfer program) in the UC or CSU college and major of their choice.

The legislation, which was passed by the Senate with a vote of 37 to 0, has been held up in the Assembly since July 10, 1989. Several organizations sympathetic to the bills' passage (including the California Association of Community Colleges, the California Community College Trustee Association, and the Faculty Association of Community Colleges) have made several attempts at moving the piece of legislation forward for a vote by the full Assembly.

The bill was first introduced to California Community College students by California Community College Chancellor David Mertes during the 1989 CalSACC convention. Since that time, CalSACC has attempted to lobby the legislature for passage of the bill, but has encountered several obstacles to their efforts. The major problem has been CalSACC's financial limitations according to Policy Board Member Julie Reader (Region II). "CalSACC's ability to represent the concerns of community college students has been hindered because of the constraints of our budget. Unfortunately, only a minority of the schools have paid

After hearing of the UC students' lobbying effort, CalSACC Vice President Aija Halliday asked, "Why are the goals of students enrolled in the University of California more important than those of community college students? It's time we [community college students] began to demand an equal standing in the policies of California higher education."

Halliday plans to use the CalSACC Policy Board meeting planned for Dec. 8-9 to begin new efforts for student lobbying on behalf of the bill.

"Because of CalSACC's financial constraints we are going to have to rely upon a strong showing by individual colleges and students. If community college students don't begin to speak out on behalf of 507, it's very possible that no one else will."

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

BILL NUMBER: SB 507
LAST AMENDED DATE: 01/12/90

SB 507, as amended, Hart. Public postsecondary education: transfer functions.

Existing law requires the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges, the Regents of the University of California, and the Trustees of the California State University, with appropriate consultation with the Academic Senates of the respective segments, to develop, maintain, and disseminate jointly a common core curriculum in general education courses for the purposes of transfer. Each person who successfully completes the transfer core curriculum is deemed to have completed all lower-division general education requirements for the University of California and the California State University.

This bill would require the Regents of the University of California, the Trustees of the California State University, and the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges to have as a fundamental policy the maintenance of a healthy and expanded student transfer system.

The bill would require the California State University to maintain its upper-division enrollment at approximately 60% of total undergraduate enrollment. The bill would require the University of California, commencing in the 1989-90 1990-91 academic year, to increase the percentage that upper-division enrollment systemwide is of total undergraduate enrollment by one percentage point each year through the 1994-95 academic year until that percentage reaches approximately 60%. The bill would also require the governing board of each segment to ensure that individual university and college campus enrollment plans include adequate upper-division places for community college transfer students in all undergraduate colleges or schools, as specified.

The bill would require the University of California, the California State University, and the California Community Colleges to make annual reports to the Legislature concerning the status of the transfer system and related enrollment issues.

This bill would provide that all students who successfully complete the curricula appropriate for transfer curriculum, as specified, at the community college level are guaranteed future enrollment as upper-division students at the University of California or the California State University, as specified in the transfer agreement. The bill would impose a state-mandated local program by requiring that each community college district governing board ensure that its college or colleges maintain student transfer counseling centers or other counseling and student services intending designed and implemented to affirmatively seekout, counsel, advise, and monitor the progress of potential and identified community college transfer students, and by imposing certain duties upon the governing boards of community college districts.

The bill would specify that none of these provisions shall apply to the University of California except to the extent that the Regents of the University of California, by resolution, make that provision applicable.

The bill would require the California Postsecondary Education Commission to advise the Governor and the Legislature biennially regarding specified matters.

The bill would appropriate $10,000,000 to the Board of Governors of the California Community Colleges for local assistance for purposes of the transfer functions.

The bill also would appropriate $750,000 to the Regents of the University of California and $750,000 to the California State University for purposes of the transfer functions.

The California Constitution requires the state to reimburse local agencies and school districts for certain costs mandated by the state. Statutory provisions establish procedures for making that reimbursement, including the creation of a State Mandates Claims Fund to pay the costs of mandates which do not exceed $1,000,000 statewide and other procedures for claims whose statewide costs exceed $1,000,000.

This bill would provide that, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this bill contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement for those costs shall be made pursuant to those statutory procedures and, if the statewide cost does not exceed $1,000,000, shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund.

Vote: 2/3. Appropriation: yes. Fiscal committee: yes. State-mandated local program: yes.

TYPES OF LEGISLATION

Bills can create new state laws and/or repeal or adjust existing state laws. Depending upon the house of origin, they are referred to as Assembly Bills or Senate Bills, followed by a number (for example, AB 13, SB 132). Bill numbers remain the same during the Legislature's two-year, biennial session.

Constitutional amendments, also called "bills," actually are resolutions proposing constitutional changes to the electorate. They require a two-thirds majority in each house to qualify for the ballot and are referred to as SCAs or ACAs.

Concurrent resolutions are used to adopt joint rules, create joint legislative committees, express legislative intent and commend individuals for public service. They are referred to as ACRs and SCRs.

Joint resolutions express legislative opinion on matters pertaining to the federal government and usually urge passage or defeat of legislation pending before Congress. They are referred to as SJRs or AJRs.

DEAR MR LOCKYER

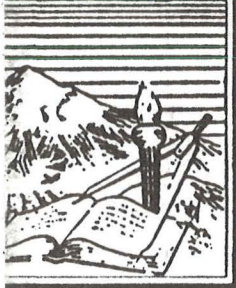

I AM WRITING TO YOU ON BEHALF OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF OHLONE COLLEGE (ASOC). WE WOULD LIKE TO EXPRESS OUR SOLID SUPPORT FOR SB507. THE STUDENTS OF COMMUNITY COLLEGES WILL GREATLY BENEFIT WITH THE PASSAGE OF THIS BILL. AFTER HEARING SOME OF THE NIGHTMARISH STORIES OF TRANSFER STUDENTS, IT IS EASY TO SEE THE NECESSITY OF THIS BILL. I'M SURE IT WILL GREATLY IMPROVE THE TRANSITION FROM COMMUNITY COLLEGES TO THE UC AND STATE SYSTEMS.

IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS FOR THE STUDENTS OF OHLONE COLLEGE, PLEASE CONTACT ME PERSONALLY AT (415)659-6063 OR (415)659-6255.

AIJA HALLIDAY
PRESIDENT - ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF OHLONE COLLEGE

February 20, 1990

TO: State Legislative Representatives of MT. San Antonio
College School District;

Last year Assemblymen Tom Hayden sponsored AB 462, which deals with the California Community College Master Plan. Major provisions covered in this bill include areas of admissions, transfers, campus growth and expansion, equity, accountability, and financial aid.

In addition to AB 462, Senator Gary Hart sponsored SB 507, which includes guaranteed transfer to a University of California or California State University system for community college students.

With the above bills focusing on the betterment of California's Community Colleges, the Associated Students of MT. SAC pledge their support. We feel that these bills are very important to the future of California's Post Secondary Education.

The California Community Colleges and our four year universities must work together on a comprehensive program to give California students the best quality education possible.

We feel these bills form the basis of such cooperation.

Sincerely,

Duane Thompson

Hello, my name is Harry Sachs. I am a student at Palomar College, as well as the Chancellor's office Region X representative for the San Diego County community colleges. I am asking your support for the passage of SB 507 Hart. The bill would mandate that community colleges provide transfer centers on their campuses and maintain articulation agreements with at least 3 U.C. and 5 C.S.U. campuses. SB 507 would also require U.C. and CSU to gradually implement a 60:40 ratio for transfer students, 40% being community college transfer students.

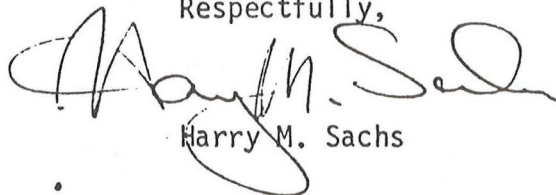

As you may know, Chancellor Dr. David Mertes and the California Postsecondary Education Committee have anticipated that the 1990's will be a period of substantial growth for community colleges. Currently, 1,380,000 students attend 107 community colleges. Increases in student populations are expected to grow by approximately 4 to 7% annually.

Passage of SB 507 would accommodate the expected increase in transfer students into U.C. and CSU schools as well as eliminate the all to frequent guesswork that students encounter when transferring. Based on a Board of Governors study on transfer centers, it was shown that based on taxpayer costs, a student duplicating a course at a U.C. school costs $475.00 SB 507 would drastically reduce course repetition and thus allow taxpayer's money to be used in other ways.

The magnitude of students enjoying the benefits of education in California through the community college system ensures success for the practical application of SB 507 and with its passage lends itself to student success.

I welcome your comments concerning SB 507 and look forward to correspondence with you in the future.

Respectfully,

Harry M. Sachs

Sidetracks

Bosco's got his hands full

by John B. Burns

Since 1982, when North Coast Congressman and former Assemblyman Doug Bosco was first elected by beating veteran Republican Congressman Don Clausen, the young democrat has enjoyed no plausible threat to his job. Until now, that is.

In the last election, Bosco's principal opposition came from an inarticulate, right-wing neophyte from Lake County and a self-avowed communist from Sonoma County, neither of whom collected more than a token share of the disgruntled vote.

But come November of 1990, Bosco will square off against either Frank Riggs or Mike Leahy, each of whom represent a formidable challenge that he can ill afford to ignore. In the meantime, count on both Republican stalwarts to pick away at Bosco's vulnerabilities which seem to multiply for any Congressman with each succeeding term in office.

Bosco's political honeymoon with the left ended shortly after his first election. During his first term, he lost favor among many in the environmentalist community when he shifted to the center on such issues as offshore oil drilling and timber harvesting. Since then, things have only gotten worse for Bosco, who most recently tried in vain to achieve a difficult balance between environmentalist concerns over the endangered spotted owl and the threatened loss of logging jobs in the north part of the state.

Bosco's voting record, one of the worst in Congress, has also been a subject of frequent criticism and came under fire again this week by challenger Leahy who also noted Bosco's former cozy relationship with the criminals who ran Centennial Savings and Loan into the ground in the mid 1980s. Bosco's relationship with Centennial officials was an unhealthy one from the start, and continues to cast doubts about his judgement throughout the Redwood Empire.

Another issue both opponents are expected to push down Bosco's throat is the fact that he's become more wealthy since attaining office, a fact that, on its face, is no big deal. But it's an opportunity for challengers to sound the "elitist" and "career politician" horns loudly and frequently.

As expected, these issues have, for the opposition, become the opening salvos in what is sure to be a long and bloody battle to Nov. 6, 1990.

In contrast, the respective positions of the two Republican candidates, along with their visions for a better future for North Coast residents, are somewhat less clear. As the months wear on, voters deserve to know more from each of them on how they plan to make a better Congressman than Doug Bosco. Specifically.

comment

Start paying attention to candidates F

Doing some early-bird campaigning in Sonoma Valley recently was Frank Riggs, a Republican candidate for the Congressional seat now held by Doug Bosco.

Riggs is the first candidate for the 1990 election who has called on us and although it is a bit early, our conclusion after his visit was that he's worth listening to.

Riggs, 38, is married, has three young children and runs his own home building and property management business in Santa Rosa.

He has a B.A. in Administration of Justice from Golden Gate University and we first met him when he was a public information officer for the Sonoma County Sheriff's Department.

According to his resume, he has been very active in a variety of public service areas, including a being a Gubernatorial appointee to the State Job Training Coordinating Council for the last four years, and he recently served a four year term as a trustee for the Windsor Union School District.

It is too early to endorse candidates, but we think Riggs is worth watching. For one thing, he says he's not going to Washington to be a career politician. He believes in term limits for elected officials. This view alone is refreshing, especially when one considers the amount of time our representatives spend making sure they get re-elected instead of paying attention to their real job of representing their constituents.

Riggs, while supportive of the Bush anti-drug campaign, places a lot more emphasis than the president on education, prevention and rehabilitation. He favors a limit on campaign contributions by Political Action Committees and fair redistricting. He, like current U.S. Senator Pete Wilson, is "pro-choice" on abortion. We would describe his positions on a variety of current issues as "moderate."

It is time to start paying attention to politics, and if you get a chance, take a look at Riggs. He could give Congressman Bosco something to worry about next summer. (WEL)

DECEMBER 17, 1987

THE PARK

NEW FACES FROM THE GOP

A cross-spectrum challenge to Bosco

ANALYSIS BY TOM ROTH

Six months before the June primary, a trio—perhaps a quartet—of challengers to Congressman Doug Bosco are pouring over position papers, turning their ears to political analysts, and planning itineraries that will take them from Sonoma County to the Oregon border.

With eyes toward Washington, these long-shot from both major parties are hopeful that they can capitalize on the Sebastopol Democrat's controversial timber and offshore-oil stands and personal business deals. The difference in this race is that Bosco's major challenger comes not from the expected left, but from the dead center, and a Republican center at that.

But Doug Bosco, sitting in the catbird seat of a incumbent Democrat in a heavily Democratic district, says he's not worried at all.

"I always have four or five people running against me," says Bosco. "It's a good learning experience for them."

Last time out, Bosco easily outdistanced three Democratic opponents in the primary and easily beat Republican Mark Vanderbilt and Peace and Freedom Party candidate Eric Fried. In coasting to victory in November '88, however, Bosco racked up the worst winning percentage—62 percent—of any incumbent congressman in the state. Bosco's challengers are hoping that erosion of support will continue, and think that they have just the issues to do serious damage to him.

Bosco's challengers span the political spectrum from the conservative Vanderbilt to moderate Republican Frank Riggs to liberal Democrat Lionel Gambill. Still at the edge of the political waters is an undeclared candidate, environmental activist Tom Lynch, aka Manure Man, Guerneville's favorite son, who likes to call himself a "Teddy Roosevelt" Republican.

Lynch, if he decides to run, could add a little mystery and spice to the Republican race. Vanderbilt, 27, running for the second time, has some name recognition, but it is Riggs, a Windsor developer and party activist who has Republican leaders most excited. Says county

FRANK RIGGS

TOM LYNCH

GOP chairman Glenn Smith, "Riggs came out strong initially; he got a lot of funds and a lot of support. Objectively looking at it, he's the strongest."

"There are some Republicans that I would lose sleep about," says Bosco, "but they're not in this race."

The challengers:

■ Frank Riggs, 39, came out swinging

when he declared his candidacy last August, blasting Bosco's poor attendance record in the House (since improved), his votes on key issues, and most ear catching, his ethics. Comparing Bosco to disgraced House Democrats Jim Wright and Tony Coelho, Riggs said that Bosco will leave office "a very rich man. But his wealth has been made possible by the influence of his office—an office that he has dishonored."

Fueled by newspaper reports of Bosco's profitable real estate transactions, and a possible conflict of interest over a planned Santa Rosa subdivision, Bosco's financial affairs promise to play a key role in Riggs' campaign.

Riggs opposes offshore-oil rigs off the California Coast and he opposes "most clearcutting" of redwoods. He says that he would vote for higher expenditures on education, support more funding for drug education and treatment, and find ways to involve the private sector in solving our housing problems. He supports "limited aid" in El Salvador.

Like President Bush, Riggs asks for his lips to be read on taxes. "The government already has enough money; it just needs to spend it more wisely and efficiently," says Riggs. To that end, he supports a balanced-budget constitutional amendment, a line item veto for the President, and a reduction of defense spending as the cold war thaws.

Mark Vanderbilt, 29, was the youngest candidate in state Congressional races in '88. An avid bicyclist, he's preparing to bike down from his Willits home to bring his message of right rock Republicanism with a North Coast twist. Vanderbilt is strongly anti-abortion and against foreign aid, but he'd also like to see a San Francisco-Willits BART route, private old-growth timber lands traded for second-growth federal lands, and tax credits for alternative fuels.

Vanderbilt has some name recognition, but that probably won't be enough, say Republican leaders. What Vanderbilt, a computer programmer, doesn't have is money and the kind of connections to the district's monies that Frank Riggs has.

Tom Lynch, 34, the Guerneville contractor and clean-water activist, has a demonstrated ability to attract media attention. As "Manure Man" in overalls and Groucho mustache, he quickly attracted national attention to Santa Rosa's sewage spill in 1985. In recent years he has worked to maintain a dialogue between the River and Santa Rosa over water problems, and last year he almost, but not quite announced his candidacy for the Santa Rosa City Council.

Lynch continues to display two sides. One side, the activist, says that if he becomes the North Coast's congressman, he'd join with mill workers and chain himself to redwood logs being shipped to Asian ports. The other, more contemplative side works and reworks position papers on conservation, education and national defense. "I'm a fiscal conservative with liberal social values," says Lynch. "I don't think that the government's role should be so much to take care of people as to make opportunities for people to take care of themselves."

Lynch has virtually no access to traditional Republican money sources, and county Republican leaders say they know little about him except what they have read in the newspapers.

Lionel Gambill, the only Democrat to declare so far, finished second in a four-man primary race with Bosco last time. Gambill says that campaigning in '88 enabled him to make contacts throughout the vast 1st Congressional District.

Now he's pursuing a new issue-oriented strategy to get himself before the public eye. Starting next month, Gambill plans to hold a series of forums up and down the North Coast. The candidate has gathered together a group of experts who will speak on the district's most pressing issues: offshore oil, forestry, transportation and economics. These will not be show-and-tell events, Gambill says; the public will also be invited to participate—a preview, he hopes, of his congressional style.

Gambill says that the grass-roots battle against offshore oil is a "model" of the new kind of politics that he espouses.

Two major themes will run through Gambill's campaign: growing poverty and the deteriorating environment. Gambill charges that the Bush administration is continuing the Reagan shift in economic priorities that is accelerating poverty and homelessness. "There's a growing disappearance of the middle class - we're on our way to a feudal society. At the same time, we're plundering our environment."

He faults Congress in general and Bosco in particular with letting conservative interests have their way. Bosco's siding with the Reagan and Bush administrations in support of the death-squad-tyed government of El Salvador is one example, he says. "Bosco has failed to respond in an appropriate way. He's just going along with what they are doing."

Last time out, Gambill ran his campaign on a shoestring, about $2000. So far he hasn't tapped into any angels wishing to back his candidacy. Lynch also would have severe money problems, with few Republicans willing to gamble on a decidedly different candidate.

Vanderbilt has pressed the flesh in Washington conservative circles and he could be in line for some donations; last time, however, his pleas for aid were assiduously ignored by the party apparatus. Riggs has friends with deep pockets, including his business partner Kirk Veale, one of the richest men in the county. Republicans add that a good showing in the primary could open up the party's national coffers if Bosco looks beatable. As an incumbent, Bosco has never had any trouble raising money.

Activists from both parties see a successful challenge to Bosco as a Herculean Task, just given the nature of expensive, media-driven campaigning, and the fact that Bosco is an incumbent.

"These days anyone who runs against an incumbent is seen as some kind of weird lunatic," says one Republican. Another Republican thinks that even Riggs is running mainly to put himself in a strong position in a newly carved-out district that could come out of reapportionment in 1992.

Yet there is an outside chance that, given the right set of circumstances, Bosco could find himself in trouble. Bosco was able to extricate himself from his unpopular support of limited North Coast offshore-oil drilling, when the Exxon Valdez befouled Alaskan waters. Timber may be the next big environmental issue. Already Mendocino County leaders have recognized that overharvesting has jeopardized the local economy, but similar problems seem farther off in Humboldt County, where a forestry war is waging. Bosco has proposed creating new forest reserves, but he has adamantly opposed restricting timber exports and he has refused to join with other congressmen in opposing the harvesting of old-growth forests. Mill closures would hurt him most, but continued publicity about the regions (and the globe's) depleted forest resources will put Bosco on the defensive.

Then there is the sleaze factor. Already Bosco's opponents are bandying around copies of Steve Pizzo's and Mary Fricker's investigation into the savings and loan scandal, Inside Job. The book does not accuse Bosco of wrongdoing, but he implies that the congressman was the beneficiary of sweetheart loans. Ethics questions have been raised in previous campaigns and they have not gone very far, but they have never been cleverly and expensively advanced in a media campaign. Riggs has already indicated that he's ready to exploit questions about Bosco's finances.

But still, can a Republican beat a Democrat in a Democratic district? If he's Frank Riggs, maybe. Riggs could be the beneficiary of a strange bedfellow coalition: Republican moderates and Democratic progressives. If Riggs wins the Republican nomination, he'll have the pricey soapbox denied Bosco's former opponents. Pro-choice pronouncements could help Riggs win over women Democrats (Bosco has voted against abortion funds except in the case of incest and rape).

A strong stand on offshore oil and timber issues would bring in the increasing number of voters concerned with the environment. And progressive Democrats may be willing to trade in Bosco for Riggs—at least for two years—with the thought that it might be easier to get rid of a Republican moderate who disappoints than a Democratic one who frustrates.

Lynch bows out of congressional race, endorses Riggs

"THE PAPER"
MARCH 14

Windsor developer Frank Riggs suddenly emerged as the undisputed Republican front-runner in the challenge to the re-election bid of Rep. Doug Bosco with the withdrawal of Guerneville activist Tom Lynch from the race this week.

Lynch, who was running on a progressive platform, said that he endorses Riggs and will spearhead an effort to attract crossover Democrats and independents to Riggs.

Last month, conservative Mark Vanderbilt, who carried the GOP's flag against Bosco two years ago, dropped out of the race to run for a seat on the State Board of Equalization. That only leaves Riggs and Jim Chess of Sebastopol in the race. Chess, a virtual political unknown said Wednesday that he's still running, though some party regulars are pressing for him to pull out.

Bosco now may face his first serious challenge from the Republican Party since he was first elected to office in 1982. Instead of facing penniless right-wingers, Bosco, the moderate Democrat, will go head-on with a moderate Republican with some financial backing who may be able to attract national GOP money.

But Riggs is banking even more heavily on getting the backing of disenchanted progressives. "I think I can forge a consensus," said Riggs Sunday at low-key meeting with reporters at Lynch's home in Guerneville. "The good news is that we have a common goal. What we are trying to do is define a sustainable future."

Lynch said that he's committed to spreading the message to progressives that "party affiliation is not the measure of the man. Frank Riggs will provide leadership as well as send a message to Washington, D.C., that Democrats can't sit back and count on the progressive vote and that Republicans can be progressive."

Riggs said he's planning a campaign whose

major themes are ethics in government and environmentalism, which he terms "the mega-trend of the '90s." He said he will ask tough questions about Bosco's financial gains while in office and needle the congressman about his "poor environmental record."

Riggs has so far mixed a blend of populism and mainstream Republicanism into his campaign pronouncements. On specific 1st District issues he is against oil drilling off the North Coast, wants to end timber clearcuts, and favors an extra lane for Highway 101 only for high vehicle occupancy. Fiscally conservative, he opposes new taxes, except maybe for education or infrastructure, and he wants to see a balanced-budget amendment.

Nick Tibbets, a Bosco aide, downplayed Riggs' chances with crossover voters. "It's not like he's going to get labor Democrats; he's going after the left-wing Democrats. And the more he does that, the more Republicans are going to ask, 'Who is this guy?'"

Tibbets said Riggs is going to have a tough time explaining his conservative political ties to Democrats and his progressive appeal to Republicans. "Frank is not going to be able to be all things to all people."

The national Republican bankrollers are not going to be especially interested in this race for two reasons, said Tibbets. First, they'll be concentrating on defending the vacated 14th District seat of Rep. Norm Shumway, and second, "they see Doug as someone they can talk to."

Locally, some of the North Coast's major Republican contributors are behind Bosco, admitted Riggs. Support is coming, however, from county Republicans throughout the district, he said. He projected that it will take a $300,000 war chest to unseat Bosco.

Frank Riggs opposes fisherman subsidies

Favors PFMC reform

by Kathle Morgan

"I am opposed to any idea of direct compensation payments because what it really amounts to is supplemental unemployment insurance. Or supplemental welfare." So says Frank Riggs, one of the Republicans opposing Doug Bosco in this year's election to the House of Representatives. Riggs doesn't believe that the subsidies to fishermen proposed by Congressman Bosco (Signal, January 10, 1990) are the best way of righting the wrongs created by the policies of the Pacific Fishery Management Council. "I don't want to appear unsympathetic to the fishermen's concerns because I think their concerns are legitimate. Their claims have validity."

Riggs divides the issue into two parts. One is the short run, the immediate needs, of the trolling fleet. The other, long-term, would amend the Magnuson Act, which created the Fishery Management Councils nationwide.

"Bosco should be in a position to influence the latter, as a member of the House Fisheries Sub-Committee, and concomitantly take some of the responsibility, inasmuch as he was serving in the House when the Magnuson Act was adopted and had a chance to influence the direction of that legislation at that time. I think in terms of the long term redress or mitigation, there are some changes that experience now dictates to us are necessary, not the least of which would be to allow the industry greater representation on the Council and input to the Council."

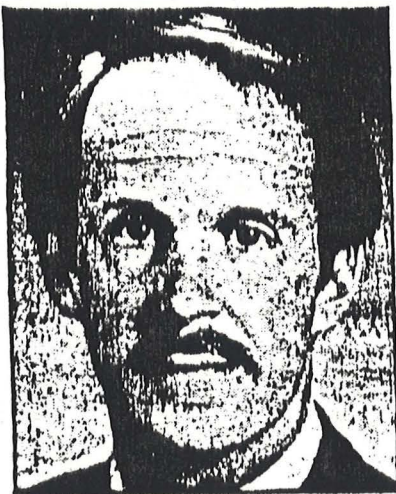

In addition to increasing industry representation on the PFMC, Riggs says that he would like to see relaxation of the Council's restrictive regulations.

Riggs, who has for the past three and one-half years represented the north coast on the state Job Training Coordinating Council, believes that "we have an ample safety net that is available through public sector programs that provide benefits and services. I will support the request, if it comes for a large grant—these are grant allocations that are made—these are federal funds come right to the State of California from the federal Department of Labor and that are passed through the private industry councils to serve people.

"I just can't go along with the notion of supplemental welfare. I don't even know where we'd begin to draw the line. This wouldn't be sound legislation. It wouldn't be good public policy in that it would establish a very poor precedent in terms of the proper governmental response for these sort of circumstances when they arise in other industries.

"My suggestion to Mr. Bosco would be, particularly since he is sitting on the House Fisheries Committee, to get it back together and focus where he should focus, which is on the creation of prudent legislation and public policy that will address the long term concerns which are perhaps unreasonable restrictions placed on the industry."

Frank Riggs

Congressional race heats up

By Mark Rathjen
Times-Standard staff writer

EUREKA — The pace quickened a bit this week in the race for Congress from California's 1st District.

Republican Frank Riggs, a Sonoma County developer, was in town Thursday to file nomination petitions, play up his pro-environment stand and blast incumbent Doug Bosco, D-Sebastopol.

On environmental issues, Riggs restated his opposition to offshore oil and gas exploration and his willingness to sponsor legislation banning drilling off the California coast.

"My position on the timber controversy," Riggs said "is one of cutting within growth rates — a sustainable yield program."

However, Riggs said he opposes four proposed ballot initiatives that would place stricter restrictions on the timber industry.

"While I sympathize with the concerns that precipitated the environmental initiatives, they go too far," Riggs said. "I don't believe it's necessary to put more productive forest land under public preserve."

However, Riggs said he might support trading public land for environmentally valuable private land, such as the Headwaters Forest 12 miles southeast of Eureka.

Riggs also criticized the recent timber summits between Bosco, Assemblyman Dan Hauser, state Sen. Barry Keene and the heads of Pacific Lumber Co. and Louisiana-Pacific Corp.

"I think it's election-year grandstanding at its worst," he said. "It smacks of a backroom deal."

Riggs said agreements on old-growth harvesting and timber exports worked out at the summits aren't likely to last because the discussions did not include "reasonable and responsible conservationists."

"I'm not talking about the radical element that wants to dress up in costumes," he said. "I'm talking about responsible people who are leaders of the environmental movement. They were purposely excluded from these talks."

Bosco aide Bruce Taylor said the timber summit was not intended to be a final solution to problems involving the local timber industry. However, agreements reached at the summit, such as a two-year moratorium on cutting in the Headwaters Forest southeast of Eureka, will allow more time to work out permanent solutions, Taylor said.

Riggs accused Bosco of being inconsistent in his positions on issues.

"He has committed classic flip-flops on everything from offshore oil to most recently the Panama invasion," Riggs said. "I think Bosco's only guide is a wet finger."

Riggs also accused Bosco of relying heavily on special interest groups for campaign financing.

"There is no doubt in my mind that most of his money will be from outside of the district," he said.

Riggs repeated his earlier accusation that Bosco has violated ethical standards through his dealings with the former operators of two failed Sonoma County savings and loans.

Riggs said Bosco has accepted thousands of dollars in campaign contributions and personal loans from the thrifts and once threatened to have federal regulators investigated when they moved to close one of the S&Ls.

Taylor denied that the congressman did anything unethical in his dealings with the thrifts. He also challenged Riggs to either take his accusations to House ethics investigators or stop making the charges.

Riggs faces two Republican opponents, Tom Lynch of Guerneville and James Chess of Sebastopol.

Riggs said he has no doubt that he is the front-runner in the race for the GOP nomination.

DOUG BOSCO
Democratic incumbent

Bosco faces real challenger in Riggs

By Harry V. Martin

Congressman Doug Bosco is not going to have an easy time of it this year — he has a serious challenger in the name of Frank Riggs. Bosco is running unopposed for the Democratic nomination for Congress. Riggs is probably the only serious Republican challenger in the race.

Riggs has served as a gubernatorial appointee to the State Job Training Coordinating Council for nearly five years, served on the executive board for the Governor's Committee for Employment of Disabled Persons, a four-year member and two-term president of the Windsor Union School District Board of Trustees, and numerous political-related committees.

Riggs feels that Bosco is not accessible to his constituents and that he is merely a career politician. "He looks, talks and dresses like a politician," Riggs stated. He calls Bosco synical and a reactionary. Riggs promises to represent the "real life" of the First Congress.

District — the people, small businesses and environmental interests. He promises to be accessible and to have a proactive approach to government.

The candidate does not believe that America is investing in its future. He feels that investment should be placed in education and the infrastructure of the nation — guaranteeing our youth that America will be strong tomorrow. His background in education, he feels, will aid in that effort to invest in the learning process for our children. His experience in creating jobs throughout the state also provides the vital background for investing in jobs and job training. That investment is also directed toward a stronger economy, a cleaner environment, housing and drug use abatement.

He contrasts himself with Bosco by stating that Boscoe has lacked leadership and vision.

Riggs is also a former police officer, having served for six years in Santa Barbara and in Healdsburg, as well as being a deputy sheriff in Sonoma County. He was a Military Police investigator for three years with the U.S. Army Drug Strike Force.

Riggs sympathy for the small businessperson comes from his operating his own business — a property development and home building company. He is also a founder of the Sonoma National Bank.

In Napa County, Riggs has appointed Diane Mitchell as his countywide chairperson. More persons will be named to his committee at a later date.

Riggs is a fighter and it is expected that he and Bosco will take off the gloves after the June primary.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Pleas Shorts was absent.

III. Agenda was approved as amended.

IV. Minutes were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that he went to a modern dance production today and he also mentioned that Maria Bushey did a great job at the Blood Drive. Dave added that he was amazed at how fast the Boat Dance tickets went.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that the CalSACC forms were sent in Tuesday, April 10th, and Deborah Wootten is also going to CalSACC, paid by the district. Bob also mentioned that the SRJC bus will be entered in the Day Under the Oaks Rose Parade, so anyone interested is invited to help decorate the bus. In addition, Bob thanked Ronda for the great job she has done as advisor for the Blood Drive and Elections Committee.

Ronda reported that 57 pints of blood were donated today. Also, the election brochures are at graphics and will be ready next week.

C. Boat Dance: Angela reported that the Boat Dance tickets sold out in an hour and a half and the Associated Students grossed $3453. SSU had a hold up with publicity so we have not received any posters from them yet. Mark expressed his concern about booking a bigger boat next year, and Dave suggested that we keep track of how many more students want to go to make sure a bigger boat is necessary for next year.

D. AIDS Awareness Week: E.C. reported that the attendance at the AAW seminars has been pretty low overall this week, but we should not be discouraged because our job is to make these workshops available to those students who are concerned. M. Scott mentioned that these seminars have become traditional and may be more effective if most of them were scheduled on one day. E.C. added that the committee has also received three AIDS essays and are accepting essays until Friday, April 13th, 5:00pm.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. Graduation Speaker Committee Representative: Bob mentioned that both Trish Martinez and Mave Brown have expressed some interest about sitting on the Graduation Speaker Committee. Executive Cabinet discussed these two candidates. It was moved to appoint Mave Brown as the student representative to the Graduation Speaker Committee.

M/S/C

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Student Obligation to Instructors and the College: Dave passed out a copy of the "Proposed Student Obligation to Instructors and the College" for Executive Cabinet to look over and discuss.

It was decided by consensus to split the document and to keep the original intent which was a response to Policy 3.1.6; and dividing the document, #7 and #10 have been removed. #5 has been reworded to say, "Complete class assignments to the best of one's ability," and #6 has been reworded to say, "Seek appropriate instructional support services when the need arises." In addition, a new #7 and #8 were added as follows: "Confidentially evaluate the instructor to the extent the student feels necessary through established processes," and, "To drop his or her classes."

It was moved to approve the above mentioned changes in the "Proposed Student Obligation to Instructors and the College."

M/S/C

B. Day Under the Oaks Golf Tournament: M. Scott mentioned that the price of the golf balls for Day Under the Oaks has gone up because of tax and shipping. It was moved to allocate $35, out of Public Relations, for the Day Under the Oaks golf balls.

M/S/C

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Christian Haren: M. Scott mentioned that there is a great interest in having Christian Haren back on campus to speak about AIDS.

It was moved to sponsor Christian Haren to come on campus and speak either May 8th or 10th, at 12:30pm in Newman Auditorium.

M/S/C

B. Pencils: Ronda mentioned that the Career Planning and Placement Center are requesting 350 Associated Students pencils to give out as prizes at Day Under the Oaks. It was decided to take up this issue at the next Executive Cabinet meeting.

C. Dr. Mikalson's Retirement Dinner: Dave mentioned that all of Executive Cabinet received an invitation to Dr. Mikalson's Retirement Dinner. Executive Cabinet discussed the possibility of paying for dinner for the AS President and a guest.

It was moved to allocate $60, out of Executive Cabinet, for the AS President and a guest to attend Dr. Mikalson's Retirement Dinner.

M/S/C

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Executive Cabinet Meeting: It was decided to not have an Executive Cabinet meeting next week during Spring Break.

B. Cinco de Mayo Fest: Dave reminded everyone to sign-up if they plan on attending his Cinco de Mayo Fest.

C. Election Polls: Ronda announced that there is a sign-up sheet for people, who are not running for office, to work the election polls.

D. Boat Dance: Angela thanked Mary for her help with the Boat Dance.

E. AIDS Awareness Week: E.C. thanked everyone who has helped out with AAW.

F. Executive Cabinet: Mark thanked Executive Cabinet for being such a great group to work with.

G. San Diego: Cheryl announced that she is going to San Diego next week!

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 5:00.

President: Dave reported that Amy Haddix went to Santa Clara to represent us at a Cal Sacc Conference but the meeting had been changed without our knowledge. Dave thanked Amy for her dedication. The speeches went great the whole process went very good. Congratulated Sara and the Elections Comm. for the hard work they have done and the time and dedication that the candidates have spent. Dave went to S.F on Sunday for Earth Day and had a great time. Dave discussed the book, 50 Simple Things You Can Do To Save The Earth, that Dianne Smith had recommended. You can purchase this book in our Bookstore.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that this was one of the best election assemblies that we have had. The candidates really did take the time to say some great things. Bob thanked the candidates, Sara, the Elections Comm. , and Mave the MC. Great Job!! At the Good Guys Plaza you can rent a tux for a good price until May 1st for the Boat dance if you are thinking about getting one. Welcome back to Earth Week.

Ronda thanked the candidates and Mave the MC. To those of you who are not running for an office we need you to run the polls. We really need CSA support. Welcome back!!

C. ICC: M. Scott reported that the Burt Norton Literary Society will be having a speaker on May 2nd from 4:30 - 6:30. United Native

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS
ACADEMIC YEAR 1990-91
ELECTION BROCHURE

APRIL 25 & 26, 1990

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY

10 a.m.-3:15 p.m. & 6-9 p.m.

COOP PATIO

PRESIDENT

MARK VAN GORDER

With the induction of the new Junior College President, at the beginning of a new decade, I have hopes of the College Student Assembly speaking for the students with an insightful and effective voice. However, the voice can only be as strong as the men and women that stand behind the voice. The student community of this campus often speaks together, now it is for us to stand together to accomplish our significant goals.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

MARY GIOVANDO

In running for Executive Vice President, I hope to convince students of SRJC that I am prepared to fully dedicate myself to this office. Because of my experience as Corresponding Secretary this year, I feel that I am aware of the amount of commitment required to be a successful representative of the students. If elected to this position, my goal will be to involve the students and assist the President when needed.

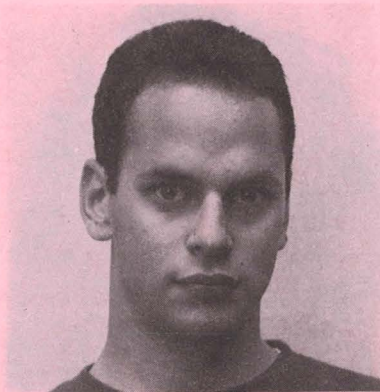

JOHN HAMBLIN

During my three semesters of involvement in College Student Assembly I've desired to do more than just represent the students. And, as Executive Vice President I feel I can do that best. In the past year I've been working to get a better understanding of what the Executive Vice Presidency involves. And, at this time I am ready to do my best to take on the responsibilities and challenges as Executive Vice President.

VICE PRESIDENT

MICHAEL DOLIN

The Associated Student Body is an important and powerful voice at the Santa Rosa Junior College. My experience in student government as a Freshmen Representative to the Executive Cabinet has given me the opportunity to make sure that students' interests are well represented. The issues that I'm concerned with include the environment, student homelessness, adequate parking and administrative fiscal responsibility. These issues represent more than just political promises to me - I am dedicated to them.

MARIAN BUCK

LET THE QUALIFICATIONS STAND ALONE:

- * Global Awareness In Action (Vice President)
- * Environmental Issues Committee
- * College Student Assembly
- * Inter Club Council

Inter Club Council is the main body the Vice President presides over. No other candidate (not even one) knows Inter Club Council like I do.

I care about this school, the students, and the environment. I believe all three can and must be brought closer together. I care about our future. "Do the right thing."

TREASURER

MERYL DE LA CRUZ

I am currently the Associated Students' Recording Secretary and am an active member of the Executive Cabinet. I have been involved in College Student Assembly for two years. My goal in working with the College Student Assembly is to get more students involved and keep the Student Body aware of the issues that affect our campus. Take advantage of your right to vote and make a difference.

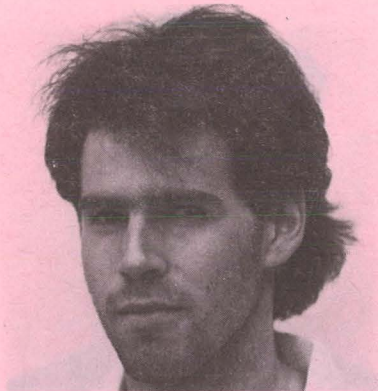

RECORDING SECRETARY

ALLISON DIXON

MINUTES:

- I. The Elections were called to order April 25th & 26th.
- II. Absent: NONE.
- III. REPORTS:
 - A. Recording Secretary candidate Allison Dixon listed qualifications from past experience in student governments and clubs to her current positions as ICC Secretary and Survey Commissioner. She stated she would do a complete and thorough job if elected.
- IV. ANNOUNCEMENTS:
 - A. Vote Allison Dixon, Recording Secretary.

NATHANIEL WITTEN

For all the students out there who endorsed my petition, you owe me my eternal gratitude. It is going to be quite an experience running for office, we'll see if I've got what it takes. Look for my campaign posters within the week. If I win the race, you will be getting a hell of a motivated secretary.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

CHARLES SMYTH

Hi, I'm Charles Smyth, and I'm running for Corresponding Secretary. I'm an active member in the College Student Assembly, and am very familiar with both the Assembly and the Executive Board, and want to become more involved with the working structure representing the Associated Student Body. Without the students there is no college and I want to represent you as Corresponding Secretary.

FRESHMAN REPRESENTATIVES

MARIA BUSHEY

Entering into a new environment can be both exciting and overwhelming. When one is surrounded by more than 20,000 strangers the experience may even become a little scary. Knowing that there is someone within the system representing that fear can sometimes help lessen that fear. As Freshman Representative I intend to represent the Freshman population to the best of my abilities. I will do so through monthly surveys and a lot of hard work.

FRANCISCO "PACO" STANLEY

to conclude the old, and commence the new. The time is now stand for freshman Rep. My abilities as a Rep. are dedication to the things I hold true, I believe in this ASB, and the power of the students, teamwork and Leadership is what I will be to are pirors. Influence....I Influence most everything, exespt your taxes: my promise to you is thous; vertue, mine, honor, the time is now, I change.

SOPHOMORE REPRESENTATIVE

AMY HADDIX

Sophomore Representative, my goals would be multifaceted. I am working with a committee to get computers installed in the library for student use. As Legislative Commissioner, I can benefit students by conveying their opinions to the SALSACC - a student body that has a voice in the State Senate. The problem of parking at SRJC has no immediate solution. Yet, I would maintain contact with the administration in order to keep students informed of their options.

DAN NIRDLINGER

My name is Dan Nirdlinger and I am running for reelection as sophomore representative to College Student Assembly for the Academic School Year of 90/91. Arriving at SRJC in the fall of 1987 as a freshman I was appointed Sophomore Representative. Since then I have been reelected as Freshman and Sophomore Representatives. I plan to continue my involvement in college Student Assembly and would appreciate your support for another term.

BRENDA SMITH

Implementation of change is what makes the difference, what can I do as your Sophomore Representative to support S.R.J.C.'s continued success? Currently, I am your Commissioner at Large actively involved on the Environmental Issues Committee in which we're establishing a Recycling Program on campus! This is exciting to me and I wish to passionately continue to support positive environmental changes as well as student academic development to emanate an atmosphere of vitality and strength!

M. SCOTT MOORE

Being a sophomore Rep. in the past and currently serving as AS Vice President I will bring to this position valuable experience and knowledge of how Student Government works. Combined with my dedication to and enthusiasm for the advocacy of student interests I feel that I will be a valuable asset to the students of Santa Rosa Jr. College in the following year. Please come out and vote.

OLENA BENWAY

I've wanted to be an active member in Student Government since the Fall of 88. Now that I have finally had the guts to join, I've decided to be a Sophomore Representative. I've served as an ICC Rep. for three semesters and I now want to get more involved. So when you vote remember there is a right way, a wrong way, and a Benway.

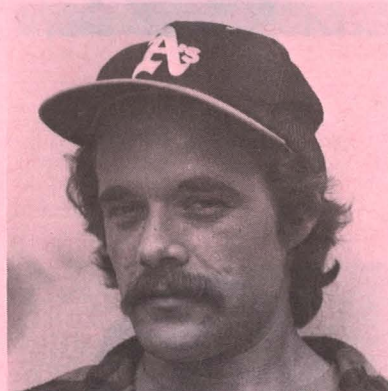

KEVIN SHEEHAN

My name is Kevin Sheehan and I'm running for Sophomore Representative.

Presently I am working towards getting installed a computerized car-pooling system for students and faculty. I know a lot of you are tired of playing musical cars, so am I, but I decided to do something about it. I hope to have it working before the fall 1990 semester.

Show your support for the computerized car-pooling program by electing me your Sophomore Representative.

STUDENT TRUSTEE

MORGAN MACK-ROSE

Mom always said "Keep it simple, Morgan." so, here it goes confident that I would make an accurate representative of the student body as Student Trustee. Why? Because I eat, sleep, work, and play on campus. I am a Kent Hall council member and resident. I'm also treasurer of A.G.S. and committee chair for G.A.I.A. I'm employed by the Department of Social Sciences and volunteer at the Sonoma County Peace and Justice Center. Don't laugh, but I'm also active in the music department as a trombonist. I am in constant contact with the student body and am easily accessible to the students. However, in my opinion, the list of activities isn't enough to make an effective Student Trustee. By meeting with the current student trustee and several faculty members, I have tried to familiarize myself with the inner workings of the Board. My goal is to be effective.

PLEAS SHORTS

During my past four years at the Santa Rosa Junior College, I have actively participated in student government. My duties and responsibilities have included serving as Commissioner of the Entertainment, Drug and Alcohol Awareness Program, and the Minority Program.

During these four years I have taken great pride in coordinating and administering the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Program for the student body.

In the past year I have served as your Executive-Vice President in the associated student body, which I have found to be a rewarding and educational experience. I feel the key word is involvement. As your Student Trustee, I will work with the Board of Trustees, with our college President, and with the faculty and staff members, but mostly with you, the student body. The Santa Rosa Junior College is one of the best Junior Colleges in the nation.

THE SRJC PARKING PROBLEM IS GETTING MORE SERIOUS! NOW I AM SURE YOU DO NOT THINK THAT IS A VERY PROFOUND STATEMENT GIVEN YOUR DAILY EXPERIENCES. HOWEVER, THE CITY COUNCIL IS NOW GETTING INVOLVED AND WILL PROBABLY ISSUE SOME SORT OF RESIDENTIAL PARKING PERMIT PROGRAM FOR THE RESIDENTS IMMEDIATELY NORTH OF ELLIOTT AVENUE. THIS COULD MEAN THAT 500 ON-STREET PARKING SPACES ARE GOING TO BE IMPACTED (THIS IS WHERE A GREAT MANY FACULTY, STAFF AND STUDENTS WORK). THOUGH THE COLLEGE HAS SPENT IN EXCESS OF $1.5 MILLION OVER THE LAST FEW YEARS TO IMPROVE THE PARKING SITUATION, WE ARE CONTINUALLY FALLING BEHIND. THIS IS RELATED TO TWO THINGS: 1) THE SUCCESS OF THIS INSTITUTION (PEOPLE KEEP WANTING TO COME HERE) AND 2) THE RAPIDLY EXPANDING POPULATION OF SANTA ROSA AND THROUGHOUT SONOMA COUNTY DIRECTLY IMPACTS ON THE JC AND THE ELLIOTT AVENUE NEIGHBORHOOD. WE TYPICALLY SERVE ABOUT 8 TO 10% OF THE TOTAL COUNTY POPULATION IN EACH SEMESTER AND ABOUT 16 TO 18% OF THE SANTA ROSA POPULATION. THUS AS THEY GROW WE GROW.

IN AN ATTEMPT TO KEEP PACE WITH THE PARKING SITUATION, THE PARKING COMMITTEE RECENTLY HELD A SPECIAL "BRAIN-STORMING SESSION" IN ORDER TO SEEK VIABLE ALTERNATIVE SOLUTIONS TO THE PROBLEM. WHAT FOLLOWS IS A COMPILATION OF THOSE THOUGHTS. I AM ASKING YOU TO REVIEW THE LIST AND THEN GIVE ME YOUR FAVORITE OR 5 SOLUTIONS. PLEASE SEND TO ME BY MAY 4TH.

ALSO, PLEASE NOTE THAT THE JUNIOR COLLEGE'S POSITION IS THAT THIS IS A COMMUNITY PROBLEM (COMMUNITY DEFINED AS THE JC, THE CITY AND THE NEIGHBORHOOD). THE CITY BELIEVES THIS IS SOLELY A JUNIOR COLLEGE PROBLEM AND RESPONSIBILITY. THOUGH I HAVE AN OPINION ON THAT SHORT-SIGHTED THINKING ON THE PART OF SOME COUNCIL MEMBERS, I WILL RESERVE IT UNTIL LATER. ALSO, WE WILL SOON BE MAKING AVAILABLE A VIDEOTAPE OF LAST TUESDAY'S COUNCIL MEETING WHICH CENTERED SOLELY ON THE JC PARKING SITUATION. IT IS INTERESTING TO LISTEN TO WHAT THE NEIGHBORS AND THE COUNCIL FOLKS HAVE TO SAY. SHOULD YOU WISH TO BORROW, PLEASE LET ME KNOW.

THE FOLLOWING ARE IN NO PRIORITY ORDER, PLEASE GIVE US THE MOST VIABLE 3 OR 5 SUGGESTIONS (AND ADD ANY THAT YOU THINK MAY BE USEFUL):

- PRIORITY PARKING FOR CARPOOLS
- ADDITION OF MORE AFTERNOON CLASSES (SPREAD OUT THE CLASS SCHEDULE)
- LITTLE SERVICE TO OFF-CAMPUS PARKING
- PARTICIPATION IN PARKING PLANNING WITH NEIGHBORS, CITY AND STUDENTS
- FORM A COMMITTEE WHICH WOULD MEET ON A REGULAR BASIS, ADDRESSING THE COLLEGE'S GROWTH
- INVITATION TO CITY TO BECOME MEMBERS OF PARKING COMMITTEE
- INVITATION TO NEIGHBORS TO BECOME MEMBERS OF PARKING COMMITTEE
- 1. MAKE SURE RECREATING CARS, HIGH BRIDGE TOLL, NIGHTTIME, ETC.
- 2. ADVISE LEGISLATION TO RELATE TO AREA AROUND
- 3. IMPROVE BUS SERVICE
- 4. IMPROVE FREEWAY ACCESS
- 5. SINGLE LANE ON FREEWAY TRAFFIC MEDIATED BY FIRST IN FIRST OUT PARKING LOT FOR SHUTTLE SERVICE

Whereas, the Santa Rosa Junior College Associated Students wish to promote a much safer and healthier environment by acknowledging and supporting campus wide (and world wide) environmental issues; and

Whereas, one of the Associated Students goals is to address Environmental Issues; and

Whereas, paper purchased by the Student Activities Office and the Associated Students is not recycled; and

Whereas, the Santa Rosa Junior College does not currently have a comprehensive recycling plan,

NOW, THEREFORE LET IT BE RESOLVED, that the Associated Students of the Santa Rosa Junior College:

(1) Purchase paper products in place of Styrofoam.

(2) Purchase the majority of its paper supply recycled.

(3) Recognize the importance of recycling by supporting a comprehensive recycling program on campus.

4) To conduct an Educational Environmental Awareness week

MEETING #15
April 25, 1990

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda was approved as amended.

IV. Minutes #14 and #13 were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that accreditation is due by May 1st. Also, Mark did an excellent job speaking on the parking issue at the Santa Rosa City Council meeting last night.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that the elections are going well because of the great organization by the committee and the student poll booth workers.

C. Day Under the Oaks: M. Scott reported that the Associated Students have received their confirmation concerning the selling of focaccia at Day Under the Oaks.

D. Golf Balls: M. Scott reported that he had to change the emblem on the Day Under the Oaks Golf Balls to the SRJC logo instead of the Bear Cub because the Bear Cub is too detailed and came out as a blob.

E. Boat Dance: Angela reported that Sonoma State University grossed $1056 on their sale of Boat Dance tickets. Therefore, the total amount grossed from ticket sales is $4509. That makes a profit of $340. Angela also mentioned that the Associated Students are buying some wrist bands from Windsor Waterworks in order to designate those either under or over 21 years of age.

F. Parking Committee: Mark reported that the Parking Committee meeting, regarding the Albany neighborhood parking lots, went well - brainstorming ideas. At the City Council Meeting last night, the parking problem was discussed and the suggestion of a two-hour parking system was brought up regarding the Albany neighborhood, in addition to other options. Mark also expressed some concern with ~~dealing with the City Council because of~~ the view ^{among some} amongst council members, Burton and Hulsman, that the the parking problem was solely the J.C.'s problem.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. ASBOOTM: It was decided by consensus to approve Sara Dose as ASBOOTM for the month of April.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Environmental Resolution: Dave passed out to Executive Cabinet a copy of an Environmental Resolution that C. King and Jennifer Aldridge drew up. The resolution is for CSA to view on Monday, April 30th. Executive Cabinet proofread the resolution.

B. Pencils: Mike mentioned that the Career Planning Center wants 350 pencils for Day Under the Oaks prizes. They believe that this would be good publicity for the Associated Students.

It was moved to donate 175 pencils to The Career Planning and Placement Center for game prizes for Day Under the Oaks.

M/S/C

C. Day Under the Oaks: Pleas attended the Day Under the Oaks committee meeting this morning and he mentioned that Frank from maintenance needs some students to help decorate the SRJC bus for the Rose Parade on Saturday, May 18th. It was decided to have Pleas pass around a sign-up sheet at CSA on Monday, April 30th.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. CSA Meeting at College Farm: Dave suggested that CSA hold a meeting at the College Farm on Monday, May 7th. Executive Cabinet agreed that May 7th, would be a good day to visit the farm.

B. Dance Subsidy: Tony Gallegos, ICC representative for M.E.Ch.A., came to Executive Cabinet to ask for an allocation of $200 for their Cinco de Mayo Dance. It was moved to recommend to CSA to allocate $200, out of Assemblies for M.E.Ch.A.'s Cinco de Mayo dance.

M/S/C

C. Associated Students Scholarships: Bob mentioned that it is almost time to select CSA members to receive a scholarship for their hard work this year. It was moved to recommend to CSA that the Associated Students sponsor a scholarship for three people at $200, out of Spring Special Allocations.

M/S/C

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Thursday Night Market: M. Scott announced that Thursday Night Market begins in eight days on May 3rd.

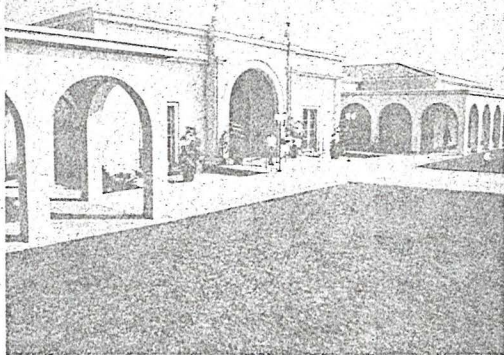

B. Spring Concert: E.C. announced that the Spring Concert is not going to happen this year because time constraints.

C. Sheriff Debate: Mark announced that there is a Sheriff debate tonight between Michaelson and Ihde in Newman Auditorium.

X. ADJOURNMENT

It was moved to adjourn the meeting at 4:30.

M/S/C

University of San Diego campus.

Workshop Site

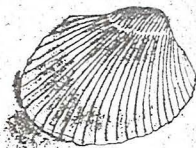

"The place is beautiful."

- 1989 Leadership West delegate

The University of San Diego's 180 acre campus commands inspiring views of the Pacific Ocean, Mission Bay, San Diego harbor and the surrounding hills. Its 16th century Spanish Renaissance architecture makes the campus unique and picturesque. An independent, Catholic, coeducational university, the University of San Diego is within 15 minutes of the San Diego airport, as well as some of the city's major attractions.

Workshop educational sessions will be held in the University Center, a 75,000 square foot facility that houses the campus dining services, a delicatessen, creamery, and mini market. The center is also home to several comfortable lounges, a game room, TV room, meeting rooms and administrative offices for student government and student affairs.

Delegates will be housed in San Dimas Missions "A," traditional Spanish style buildings with wide arches, stucco walls and red rooftops. Rooms are arranged in suites with four bedrooms and two baths adjoining a central lounge.

Registration

The Leadership West Workshop is open to all interested individuals, both NACA members and non-members, on a first-come, first-served basis. The workshop will be limited to 80 delegates.

The registration fee is $325 for members and $390 for non-members until May 25, 1990. After that date the fee increases to $390 for members and $468 for non-members. Non-members who join NACA prior to October 1, 1990, may apply the additional charge for the workshop toward the cost of their membership.

The registration fee includes tuition, lodging, most meals and educational materials. Refunds will be made only for requests received by May 25, 1990; however, $25 will be deducted for administrative costs.

A delegate packet, including a workshop schedule, housing information and other details will be mailed to delegates' campuses upon receipt of registration forms. Delegates may check-in between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m. on June 16. The closing activity will be over by 11 a.m. on June 20.

A $30 deposit for keys and meal tickets will be required at check-in and refunded when keys are returned at the end of the workshop. In addition, delegates will need cash for one dinner on their own, incidentals and souvenirs.

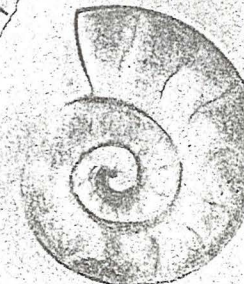

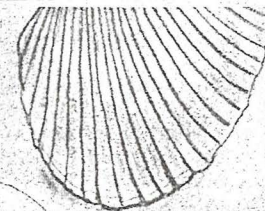

Workshop registration must be made in writing; reservations and registration may not be completed by telephone. Schools that need invoicing for payment should make this request when they send in their registration. A purchase order number is required on all invoice requests.

LEADERSHIP WEST WORKSHOP

JUNE 16-20, 1990
UNIVERSITY OF SAN DIEGO
SAN DIEGO,
CALIFORNIA

WORKSHOPS

"This was absolutely the best money that my school could have spent. The program is fabulous and I have learned so much."

"I would have paid for it somehow myself if I would have known how rewarding this has been for me, not only in my leadership roles but in my everyday life."

- 1989 Leadership West delegates

The 1990 Leadership West Workshop offers delegates an intensive educational experience for the development and improvement of practical leadership skills. Both students and staff will learn basic skills to help them be more effective in meeting the challenges and demands they face daily on campus.

In this proven educational program, students and staff will work together to learn practical management skills. Delegates will identify their personal leadership styles and learn leadership strategies they can put to use right away on their campuses.

Delegates will benefit from major sessions on selected leadership topics. Portions of each session will be devoted to small group discussions to process workshop concepts and develop strategies for back-home application of the skills and concepts learned. Several interactive structured exercises will be used to give delegates hands-on experience with different aspects of leadership. Delegates will also learn how to facilitate these exercises for their own organizations.

The workshop provides an opportunity to establish an information and support network of colleagues from campuses across the country with whom to share resources, program ideas, and problem-solving strategies. Each delegate will receive a reference notebook containing educational materials on workshop topic areas and delegate information.

Workshop Sessions

"What I've learned both from the core staff and from my peers is invaluable information which I will utilize throughout my college career."

"I learned new ideas that can be immediately implemented."

- 1989 Leadership West delegates

Educational sessions offered at Leadership West will address key concepts of selected leadership topics for novice and intermediate leaders. The list of topics includes:

- goal setting
- time management
- committee management

- volunteer recruitment and retention
- team building
- meeting management
- delegation skills
- situational leadership
- effectively dealing with campus administration

Five core workshops will be presented to all delegates which will form the foundation of the educational program. Delegates will also be able to select from a menu of special interest sessions to complement the core workshops.

Workshop Staff

"Core staff was awesome."

- 1989 Leadership West delegate

The facilitators for Leadership West were chosen for their expertise in the field of leadership development. They have diverse skills and backgrounds to offer delegates a well-balanced workshop program.

The workshop educational coordinator is Barry Nelson, director of student activities, University of Chicago (IL). Host coordinators for the workshop are L. Reuben Mitchell, assistant director of student activities, and Carol Lyman, director of student activities, University of San Diego (CA). Three additional professionals with leadership training experience who will serve as facilitators will be announced later.

Special Activities

"I have been to many conferences and this was the best yet. The balance of fun and workshops was perfect."

- 1989 Leadership West delegate

Delegates will enjoy LaJolla Beach, the site of a traditional California barbecue complete with beach games and lots of fun. An afternoon of free time will allow participants to choose from visits to many local sites including the San Diego Zoo, Sea World, Mission Bay, and shopping at Horton Plaza, Old Town, and Seaport Village.

Multicultural Scholarships

Scholarships to cover workshop registration costs are available for members of the black, Hispanic, Asian Pacific American or native American ethnic minorities. Up to three scholarships are awarded annually on a competitive basis. Application deadline is May 1, 1990. For additional information and an application contact the NACA Educational Foundation, P.O. MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:20.

II. Absent were : Pleas Shorts, Amy O'Brian, Amy Haddix, Sean Kaslar, Pinida Lachman, Ed Mugge, ~~Brenda Smith~~, and Steve Gallagher.

III. The agenda was approved as amended.

IV. The minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

President: Dave reported that next week we will have a tour at the JC College Farm and have a short CSA meeting at the farm. Dave had a great time at Cal SACC and fun at Great America. Dave had a chance to see Santa Clara's elections and is glad to see how good of a job we do on our elections. If you are going to Dave's Event this Saturday you can sign up for the potluck on Dave's window.

B. Advisors: Bob handed out a memo from Cindy Frank concerning the DUO posters. If you have somewhere you would want to put up a poster contact the front desk at Bailey hall. The Cinco DE Mayo event will be in the area between the Library and Emeritus it will be catered by Fonseca's. Tomorrow night three people will be competing for a the Montgomery Village Lions Club Scholarship. They are M. Scott Moore, Deborah Wootten, and Mave Brown. Wed. May 9th at 7:00 am. the Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce is having a breakfast honoring a student of the month and they will be recognizing Pleas Shorts.

Ronda reported that the Election Brochures are at the front counter. The election went very well. The candidates handled the election process very maturely. Ronda thanked Sara and her wonderful committee. The Boat Dance is next weekend please act responsibly.

C. ICC: M. Scott reported that the Burt Norton Library Society will be having a speaker on May 2nd from 4:30 - 6:30. Showing Henry IV on May 12th. GAIA will have a speaker on May 30th. Christian Fellowship May 27th. Able explorer picnic May 1st.

D. Boat Dance: Angela reported that Sonoma State made $11056.00 from their ticket sales and the profit so far is $340.05.

E. A.G.S Convention: Tom thanked CSA for matching funds to send Tom to the AGS Convention. He gave details of the Convention.

F. CWC Scholarship: Deborah Wootten reported that Clare Masey is the new Scholarship Manager. Deborah explained what they discussed in the meeting. Deborah also expressed how great of an opportunity it was to be able to attend the Cal SACC Convention. She thanked Amy and our Advisors for giving her the opportunity to go.

G. Human Race: Linda reported that today is the last day of the deadline for donations. The Captains of the teams all stood up and were recognized. The total of donations is $904.00!!!! If you are still interested in raising money you can still do so. Linda passed around a sign-up sheet if you want to walk or run. You need to turn in your registration sheet into Linda's box.

H. Parking: MVG reported that in the last parking meeting they had a brainstorm and came up with a list of ideas. Mark passed out the list. At the city council meeting it was interesting listening to some of the views of some of the councilmen. Some of the ^{men} feel the parking issue is not their problem but the JC'S problem. Mark thanked us for sending him to Cal SACC he has a bunch of information for the Environmental Comm.

I. Study Room Resolution: John reported that things are happening with the resolution. He read the reply from Curt Groninga. Now all we need to do is to apply for the space.

J. Arts and Lectures: Maria passed around a final report of the budget for the French Film Week. A Brainstorm list will be up on the bulletin board if you have any ideas for this committee.

K. Tour Guides: Pleas reported that he needs help giving tours. If you are available sign up on the list your available times.

L. Floats: Bea Collins from the Alumni Association told us what kind of decorations will be on the bus. They need help making flowers for the bus. On wed. May 9th, they will have a flower making party. If you want to make some at home they will have some available in the SAO.

M. Elections: Sara thanked everyone for helping out with the elections. She thanked the committee and Bob and Ronda for all the hard work. She thanked the candidates for getting so involved the voter turnout was the 5th highest since 1969. On may 14th is the candidate welcome reception. The committee needs to stay after for another meeting.

N. DUO: M Scott reported that the logo on the golf balls was changed to the college logo. The bear logo did not work.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that Earth Week is going good and the band was great today. Dave and Jennifer Aldridge have met with Jay Carpenter and Curt Groninga concerning the recycling program that the Associated Students want to establish on campus. Dave also mentioned that Nancy Moorehead has offered to purchase three or four cement canisters for recycling at $300 per can.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that the CSA trip to the College Farm is happening on Monday, May 7th. The tour is at 3:30pm and in practice a short CSA meeting has followed focusing on business items. He also mentioned that there will be a NACA workshop at USF on Saturday, May 5th, for all those interested in attending.

Ronda reported that students can now sign-up to work fall registration in August and in doing so they could have priority registration for the next couple weeks. Ronda also mentioned that tonight at 5:00pm is a Spirit Team information meeting and instructional sessions are beginning this weekend.

C. MVLC Scholarship: M. Scott reported that he enjoyed attending the Montgomery Village Lions Club dinner last night in which he, Deborah Wootten, and Darin Brown made speeches, competing for a $1000 scholarship. Darin Brown was awarded the scholarship.

D. CalSACC: Bob reported that since the state-wide advisor for CalSACC works at the College of Marin, the SRJC Associated Students should have an excellent means of to keep informed regarding CalSACC events.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. A.S. Scholarship: Darin Brown came to Executive Cabinet and expressed his concern about Mark and M. Scott sitting on the A.S. Scholarship committee because Darin feels that they are eligible for the scholarship and would like to take the place of one of them in order to give them the opportunity to possibly receive the scholarship.

It was moved to replace M. Scott and Mark, with their consent, with Darin Brown and Allison Dixon to sit on the A.S. Scholarship Committee.

M/S/C

B. Budget Committee: Executive Cabinet discussed the procedures that were followed on Tuesday, May 1st, concerning Mark's late arrival to the meeting.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Mikalson's Retirement: Executive Cabinet discussed what kind of gift we could get for Roy Mikalson at his retirement dinner.

It was moved to allocate up to $150, out of Spring Special Allocations, for a gift for Dr. Mikalson's retirement dinner.

M/S/C

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. Budget: Executive Cabinet discussed some of the topics that were brought up in the Budget Committee.

It was moved to recommend to CSA the 1990-91 Associated Students Budget on the condition of receiving a rational from Child Care, Theater Arts, and First Leaves.

M/S/C

B. Maggini Hall Dedication: Bob mentioned that the Maggini Hall Dedication is next Thursday, May 10th, at 2:00pm. In addition, 5-10 students are needed to help out with serving.

C. NACA San Diego: Bob mentioned that Leadership West is coming up quick and decisions are going to have to be made regarding who the C.S.A. will send to this workshop on June 16-20th, in San Diego.

D. AIDS Awareness Committee: E.C. talked about the AIDS Awareness essay contest and the fact that the committee needs $25 allocated for first prize and $15 allocated for second prize.

It was moved to allocate $25 for a first prize and $15 for a second prize for the AIDS Awareness Week essay contest.

M/S/C There was one abstention.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. Cinco de Mayo: Pleas announced that MEChA is having a student panel on Friday from 1:00-2:30, and their luncheon event will take place from 11:30-12:30 in front of Emeritus. MEChA is also sponsoring a dance in the coop on Friday night.

SECOND DRAFT OF MENTAL HEALTH PROPOSAL 3/90

BACKGROUND

Recent newspaper headlines and editorials highlight the crisis in mental health services throughout the state of California. In Sonoma County, 1988-89 budget cutbacks forced suspension of the inter agency agreement that had afforded SRJC students on-campus access to a mental health professional. In fact, the over burdened mental health system frequently uses the community college as part of client treatment plans. Three to six week waiting lists are the norm for the county's outpatient mental health services, and the sliding scales and waiting lists of local non-profit agencies render these services beyond the reach of many of our students. Further, the rates charged by private mental health providers range from $50-$80 an hour, and, as SRJC employees will appreciate, private insurance plans either do not cover or cover only a fraction of the cost of mental health services. In short, "no cost" mental health services are severely limited, and low cost services are often not readily available for individuals in crisis in Sonoma County.

SRJC experiences the lack of mental health services in a variety of ways. Health Services, without benefit of an on-site mental health professional, is daily faced with student requests for emotional intervention. The College Nurses are skilled in responding to the "cry for help" which often presents in the guise of a physical complaint or request for information, but such attention to one student has significant impact on the others who are ill or injured and waiting to be seen. The Counseling Department, with 18 full-time counselors to serve a total enrollment of over 32,000, does provide personal counseling within the context of advising appointments, but, in spite of the department's philosophical commitment, sheer volume of programming and guidance activities precludes full-scale attention to personal counseling needs. All who work with students recognize the human consequences and the retention implications of unmet counseling needs. As students experience personal crisis, motivation and dedication to academic achievement succumb to the pressures of coping with such issues as depression, anxiety, domestic violence, dysfunctional relationships and substance abuse. As our enrollment increases exponentially, the need for personal counseling to help students resolve social and psychological impediments to strong academic functioning grows rapidly.

Problems that need immediate intervention, if left unsolved, can escalate into more severe behavior manifestations of distress. Campus Police has noted a steady increase in the incidence of disruptive and inappropriate behavior, and topics related to coping with difficult and/or disruptive individuals have been among the most requested staff development activities. Dealing with such challenging situations strains our human and economic resources and highlights the need for prevention activities and the availability of additional professional assistance in meeting psychological needs.

In its mission statement, Santa Rosa Junior College recognizes the need to eliminate "economic, psychological and physical barriers to college attendance" and acknowledges the responsibility to meet the "special needs of the community" by "taking into consideration the constantly changing requirements of the area served by the College". The Chancellor's Office Task Force Report, "Responding to an Emergent Need: Serving Students with Psychological Disabilities", describes a growing community college constituency, the psychologically disabled student, and exhorts the system to develop programmatic responses to the issues inherent to serving this population. Individual community college response to student mental health needs is varied, reflecting differences in institutional philosophy, community resources, expressed need and funding sources. Growing concern regarding the number of students in crisis or in pain who go unserved reflects the challenge of honoring our commitment to "open door" vs "revolving door" enrollment. Most of the campuses of the California State University and the University of California systems recognize the need to provide psychological services as part of meeting the mandate to assist students to meet their educational objectives and realize their academic potential.

INTENT

A mental health consultation program at Santa Rosa Junior College would focus on those students with emotional/psychological health needs which negatively impact either their academic success or the functioning of the institution. Such a resource would join in partnership with the Counseling Department, Health Services and community providers to present a continuum of options that would promote individual student retention and success as well as the smooth operation of the institution's crisis response mechanism. The projected program would include three components:

1. Prevention activities
2. Early intervention
3. Staff consultation and support

Prevention activities are a cost-effective means for supporting the institution's instructional goals. Support groups, classroom presentations and mental health awareness events would reach many students, assisting them in mental health promotion as they address issues in their lives before they reach crisis proportion.

Early and short-term intervention would assist students in problem-solving as well as accessing appropriate community resources in a timely manner. A designated mental health position on campus would minimize lost instructional time and serve those students with acute psychological need who might otherwise face long waits for assessment and treatment.

Staff consultation and support on a routine basis and in urgent situations would provide assistance to other college employees who are confronted with situations requiring expertise in coping with overt student mental health needs. The challenge of serving a large and diverse public often falls heavily on the shoulders of those who staff the "front-lines", and support for such systematic staff development has been forthcoming from all campus employee groups. Faculty and staff who are charged with more in-depth responsibility in meeting student emotional crisis would have new and valuable opportunities for co-professional consultation and case conferencing. In short, such a position has the potential to greatly enhance the skill and the comfort with which we serve our students.

PLAN PROPOSAL

We propose that SRJC enter into a contractual agreement with a licensed mental health professional to implement a two year pilot program. The intent of this position would be to insure prompt recognition of those students who are not coping effectively and provide timely crisis and/or therapeutic intervention. Housed in and administered through Health Services this practitioner would, in partnership with the Counseling Department and community resources, work twenty hours a week to serve SRJC students in the following three ways:

A. Prevention:

1. Coordinate mental health awareness activities and publications
2. Organize and co-facilitate campus support groups with Health Services, Counseling Department and other campus departments as needed.
3. Serve as instructional resource for classroom presentations regarding mental health.

B. Early Intervention

1. Provide evaluation and short-term individual therapy to students as necessary and/or appropriate upon referral by College Nurses, Counseling or other related departments.
2. Organize and facilitate short-term therapy groups as appropriate.
3. Provide liaison with community mental health care providers to maintain up to date referral rosters and assist students in resource finding.

C. Staff Consultation and Support

1. Provide case conferencing with Health Services and Counseling Department.
2. Provide staff development support to regular and student employees who regularly and/or episodically must cope with student emotional crisis, ie Campus Police, Resident Advisors.
3. Provide direct assistance to Dean of Student Services in devising strategies to deal with students' exhibiting disruptive behavior.
4. Provide direct assistance, when available, in crisis intervention and support to those on campus responsible for crisis response.
5. Provide supervision of post-graduate counseling interns as necessary and/or desirable to meet direct service demands.

Funding for this two year pilot would be provided by the budgetary surplus from the first year's experience with the health fee. This money on hand would pay for the contract services of a licensed mental health professional with broad-based clinical, educational and supervisory experience. Precluded from spending this income outside of Health Services, the District would be utilizing these monies to directly meet unmet student needs on a variety of levels.

The World Health Organization defines health as... "a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being and not merely the absence of disease and infirmity." Given this definition, the described unmet needs and the District's commitment to student success, we submit this plan and ask for your support.

F. Shared Governance: Amy reported that we as an association and the faculty should be commended for fulfilling most of the prerequisites on AB 1725. Amy explained what the bill pertained to and that on our campus we have already adopted most of the items that other schools are trying to achieve.

G. Art and lectures: Maria gave some ideas of what kind of lectures and programs that the Arts and Lectures Committee is looking at for next year.

H. Hot dog Day : Alli and Nathaniel thanked everyone who signed up to help at Hot Dog Day a week from this Wednesday.

I. Human Race: Linda reported that we had 8 runners or walkers for the race and Mark and Scott watched the tents the night before. CSA has raised $950 and we can start collecting and turning in our money by the end of the week. GREAT JOB!!! Everyone thanked Linda.

J. Scholarships: Bob reported there were 3 students nominated for the Montgomery Village Lions Club Scholarship they were: M. Scott Moore, Mave Brown, and Deborah Wooten. Scott and Deborah got a $100 scholarship and Mave got a $1000 scholarship. The Eugene S. Canevari Scholarship was presented to Pleas Shorts. The $200 Associated Student Scholarships were presented to: Dave Fvette, Mark Van Gorder, and Mary Giovando.

K. Christian Haran: Maria Bushey reported that Christian Haran was here last Tuesday. We had 100 people attend and that was 3 times as many as last time. M. Scott Moore won the AIDS Awareness Week Essay Contest. He mailed his essay to Christain and Christian mailed it to UCLA and UCLA will be starting a movement for AIDS.

L. DUO: Day Under the Oaks is this Sunday and CSA has a booth and will be selling focaccia. We need people to work the ASB Booth.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. There were no appointments.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. ASB Budget: Angela reported that the budget was not in its final form yet.

It was moved to postpone the motion until next week.

M/S/C

1 abstention

B. DUO Budget: Angela presented the DUO Budget for focaccia that Executive Cabinet had recommended.

It was moved to allocate $589, out of Spring Special Allocations, for the ASB concession stand at DUO.

M/S/C

C. DUO Golf Tournament: Mark mentioned that Executive Cabinet approved the allocation of $40, out of Spring Special Allocations, to pay for 1/2 the funds for four CSA members to play in the golf tournament. The selection will be done by lottery.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. NACA Leadership West: Dave read the motion that was presented in Executive Cabinet. It was moved to send the following people to the NACA Leadership West Conference in San Diego in June: Mark Van Gorder, Mary Giovando, Brian Buck, Cheryl De La Cruz, M. Scott Moore, Michael Dolin, John Hamblin, Ronda Lewman, and Pleas Shorts.

It was moved to allocate $4122 out of Designated Surplus to send the delegates recommended by Executive Cabinet to Leadership West.

M/S/C

8 abstentions

CSA discussed the number of people and who we have recommended to send to the NACA Leadership Conference.

B. Arts and Lectures: A representative from the Arts and Lectures Committee explained that Dr. George Breslower, a professor at Berkeley does lectures. The Arts and Lectures Committee usually pays the speakers $500 and this professor wants $1000 to speak. He asked if we could contribute some funds for this speaker.

It was moved to Allocate $300 out of Spring Special Allocations to the Arts and Lectures Committee for Dr. Breslower's speaker fee.

M/S/C

C. Banquet: We discussed some ideas for the CSA Banquet in May 21st, after CSA. CSA suggested some ideas and M. Scott will look into it.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

- A. Elections: Sara thanked everyone who helped out at the reception - especially Linda , Ronda, and Nancy.
- B. Michael announced that Thursday will be a very important Typewriter/Mac Committee meeting.
- C. Mark Van Gorder announced that he appreciated everything that everyone has done this year. He thanked everyone for all their hard work and hoped that all who are here next will sign an application to join CSA.
- D. Sara announced that there is still a cake left from the reception.
- E. Ronda thanked Mark and Pleas for judging the cheerleader tryouts. Ronda named the new cheerleaders.

X. ADJOURNMENT

- A. It was moved to adjourn at 4:59.

Lack of leadership blamed for America's ailments

Inertia rules in Washington

By JACK NELSON
Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON — From the Bush White House to the predominantly Democratic halls of Congress, the federal government is engaged in a retreat from leadership, sidestepping an array of politically difficult long-term problems that shadow the nation's future.

On the economy and education, on health care and poverty, on the deteriorating condition of roads, bridges and basic facilities, on a growing list of other festering issues and budding crises, Congress and the executive branch have repeatedly understated the magnitude of problems and settled for partial responses instead of seeking effective long-term action.

Those stark judgments, shared by a substantial number of officials in both parties, stand in sharp contrast to the rosy litany of progress that many Washington politicians recite in public: unemployment at rock-bottom levels, double-digit inflation banished, record numbers of young people in college, the economy creating thousands of new jobs each month.

Yet even some inside the Bush administration have begun to worry that today's politically palatable policies will prove inadequate for the future. What stirs the politicians' concern is the failure of national leaders to take political risks and mount comprehensive attacks on problems that threaten the quality of life in the next century.

Similar apprehensions can be found among business leaders, ordinary citizens and scholars and other experts across the land.

"The challenge facing the nation's leaders today is to take some very strong initiatives to prevent some of our serious problems from turning into disasters," said...

EMPIRE LEADERS RESPOND

DIRECTOR OF SONOMA COUNTY'S ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT BOARD

Stone

Stone compares public awareness of the nation's problems to earthquake preparedness — people don't pay attention to what needs to be done until they're threatened or in pain.

"The incentive to get involved in changing things isn't there. We've had this artificial prosperity through the federal deficit and the average American never had it so good."

When the time comes that foreign engineers are getting the prized jobs in America, when U.S. companies are moving their operations offshore to evade regulatory requirements and environmental standards, when career opportunities for American youth diminish — then the pinch will be felt but may result in a generation without hope.

"We haven't the resources for quick or one-sided solutions. We need the cooperation of business and labor, environmentalists and developers, local and federal government officials.

"Incentives for leadership just aren't there, and that's the issue people need to address. And the costs are too great. Scrutiny from the media is so vicious and so intense. We expect our leaders to be better than we are and we scorn them if they're not."

George Ortiz

DIRECTOR, CALIFORNIA HUMAN DEVELOPMENT CORP.

Ortiz

"Well, I represent the poor and I deal with the effects of a decade of bad leadership, especially from the Reagan

White House.

"You ever been to Washington? You see social devastation at the heart of our country and now it typifies the situation all around the country.

"Look at the families on the streets, barely surviving. Look at the farmworkers who come by the thousands every harvest time to pick our wealth and we don't provide diddy for them. They make our harvest possible and we make them live under our bridges.

"They enrich our land, but we treat them like hell and that's one place where the lack of leadership shows. I don't see anything, locally to federal, that has any real impact on improving their lives.

"We're talking about one out of five of the poor is a child. And half of them are black, so racism in America is alive and well.

"The solutions Bush proposes are focused on volunteering which is asinine to begin with. Then he says we'll have housing vouchers which assumes there will be apartments and homes to accommodate this kind of a system, which isn't the case in most cities.

"For poor people, the situation is appalling."

Keith Woods

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, SANTA ROSA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Woods

"Deep inside me, I fear we are a nation in decline."

Public attention to national issues flares up about every 10 years, he said. "Unfortunately, nothing is done and I think the problems are getting worse."

Compounding the problems is the public's "status quo mentality."

"If we count up the people who actually vote, who get involved and keep abreast of issues and try to understand them, I think we have a very small percentage. It's easier for Joe Sixpack to go about the rest of his life without looking at problems if he's living reasonably well."

Woods perceives a "leadership Bermuda Triangle" in America, in which well intentioned, good people who are elected to office disappear, either "corrupted or somehow sucked into the system."

The people he asks to name our great leaders often "go back as far as Truman or FDR — inspirational, motivational, visionary, compassionate."

He suggests the task of leading our nation may have outpaced the ability of people to manage it. "I'm no constitutional expert, but I doubt the framers of the document could have envisaged our country as it is today. Their concepts were sound, but I think the citizen-politicians they counted on to be leaders are now politician-politicians."

Judith Bauman

BOARD MEMBER, SANTA ROSA SCHOOL DISTRICT

Bauman

The children of California are paying "an incredibly high price for the problems they're living with — poverty, homelessness and violence."

And not even the public schools, whose fluid structure historically has allowed children to make the most of their potential, can overcome the effects of society's worst daily dilemmas.

"These problems are much more general than anything the schools can remedy," she said.

Bauman sees very serious effects looming from a lack of leadership on both the national and state levels.

In the area of schools, California's low per capita expenditure on education not only shorts the students but is extremely wearing on the teachers and administrators who try to maintain educational standards.

"This is one area where money can make a difference."

State budgeting for education and the educational code have been continually added to until they've become "absolutely Byzantine" and unmanageable. They need to be examined thoroughly and totally revamped, she said.

To turn things around, she encourages citizens to be active in local schools, to be more concerned about issues affecting children and to look beyond the status quo.

country faces "a failure of political leadership," said Felix G. Rohatyn, the prominent financier who headed the government effort to restructure New York City's finances during the 1970s. The country's leaders "are intelligent, they're sincere and they're patriotic and they know what the problems are," Rohatyn said. But, he charged, on many of those issues they are avoiding strong action.

Unquestionably, enormous unmet needs clutter the landscape, many of them draining money away from investment in future productivity.

Obligated to spend billions of dollars to bail out the savings and loan industry, for instance, the government soon will be called upon to spend billions more to dispose of commercial nuclear wastes, which is a problem successive presidents and Congresses have neglected. Similarly, Secretary of Transportation Samuel K. Skinner says $80 billion will be needed just to repair decaying highway bridges.

Moreover, profound structural dangers wait over the economic horizon. Productivity growth is barely half of what it was in the 1950s and 1960s, for example. The richest country in the world does not save enough to support its own investment in productive equipment, and is relying instead on foreign investment.

Allen Nishikawa

SOCIAL ACTIVIST AND COUNTY AIDS COMMISSIONER

Nishikawa

Allen Nishikawa especially agrees with economist Paul Krugman's assessment that Americans' diminished expectations contribute to a national lack of leadership.

Too many times, he says, are Americans willing to let someone else take care of problems.

"It's kind of frightening, seeing people accept a 'charge account' philosophy of government in which you put off the costs until later and put off doing what's necessary.

"We're not making it easy for women to enter the job market, we're not taking care of our children, we're not providing prenatal care. These are things that we must do now or in five, 10, 15 years we may find the whole system won't work very well.

"It's critical that each of us has a focused sense of social responsibility. Maybe we can't save the whole world, but we can take action within our own school district or beautify our neighborhood, and take responsibility for ourselves and our families and our communities when it comes to the subject of AIDS."

If each American worked actively to make the country a better place to live, Nishikawa said, "I think we'd see more of those 'thousand points of light' the president talks about. And we'd be in a strong position to play an active role

Dan Jaffe

MANAGING PARTNER, COPPERFIELD'S BOOKS, PETALUMA

Jaffe

"We've had a habit of not spending money to intercept problems and having them blow up in our face. I'm especially concerned about our not taking care of our children, our greatest resource, before they become dropouts, drug addicts and criminals."

Until people want to care for each other — not just their family or neighbors — not much will change, he said.

"I think Bush is losing his window of opportunity to accomplish political, military and economic changes on a global scale. He's letting Gorbachev's power slip away just when he needs the support of the rest of the world.

"Unfortunately, until some poll tells them what's the popular thing to do, our leaders are afraid to take a position."

Brian Sobel

PETALUMA COUNCILMAN, BUSINESSMAN

Sobel

Sobel sees no new candidates for "Profiles in Courage."

He has enduring faith in America's people rallying in times of crisis, however, in the cautious "meat and potatoes" approach of George Bush to the nation's problems, and the possibility that politics can again become an honored profession.

Few real leaders willingly take a stand these days, he notes, but he commends as rare examples conservative Illinois Rep. Henry Hyde and liberal California Rep. Barbara Boxer.

"I may disagree with them on some issues, but they're gutsy and they don't let the system get them down."

Sobel fears today's leaders are suffering "paralysis by analysis," an overwhelming new complexity of bureaucracy from budgets to spending programs.

He would extend the terms of both congressional representatives and California Assembly members to improve their effectiveness. Four-year terms, he said, would allow a legislator to "say 'no' to the gun lobby in your second year and still possibly survive."

He hopes for greater exposure of relevant issues during political campaigns and a turn from politicians' reliance on "Willie Horton" tactics.

Andy Merrifield

Political science lecturer and coordinator of graduate program in public administration, Sonoma State University.

Merrifield

George Bush is a president who reads the polls and is unlikely to act decisively when he needn't, Merrifield says. He lacks the ideological drive of Ronald Reagan, the technical expertise and intellectual vigor of Jimmy Carter. What's more he has re-election, a BIG re-election; in mind and is careful not to irritate more people than he can please.

"He can get away with it because there is no Democratic alternative, no one with a Big View," Merrifield said. Most Democrats are becoming "pale Republicans" and the only interesting voice who speaks of long-range policy is Jesse Jackson, who is needlessly written off as having no administrative experience.

Change in national policies is needed but it won't come until the middle class feels the pinch. "It's like unemployment — at 5 percent everyone knows there are people out of work but at 8 or 10 percent we know people out of work and we want change."

Drastic change is needed and it's going to be extraordinarily costly, either in dollars or shifting burdens, he said. "For example, our health care mess will take drastic reorganization. America's per capita expenses for health care are the highest in the world yet the care is the worst in the advanced countries.

"It will take someone with a substantial amount of courage to lead the way," Merrifield said. "A leader may emerge — and it may be George Bush — if we have a disaster."

Ken Blackman

SANTA ROSA CITY MANAGER

Blackman

"I'm not aware of too many people with the political courage to take unpopular views," and politicians, like the rest of the public, are guided by perceptions. If they get their 15-second soundbite on television with a new proposal — or even a few minutes on "Nightline" — and they see no immediate response, the idea may disappear.

"That's the atmosphere political people work in at this point and it's just not conducive to leadership," he said. "Look what happened to the catastrophic health care issue — a couple of coughs and a burp from the public and it was changed."

Under today's public scrutiny through the media, policy makers are less inclined to work without a consensus backing. And yet the same media, in some instances, can provide leadership where needed, he said.

"Look at Warm Springs Dam; it was validated and made real by the sustained attention of the media that pulled together a variety of agencies and entities when individually it was a project with expenditures far beyond the means of any one of them."

Blackman said problems have to be perceived as real and then they are met aggressively by the private sector.

"With all the changes taking place in the world now, I imagine it's difficult for our leaders to settle on a 'right' policy. When you're in the middle of something, it's difficult to tell if you're going too slow or too fast."

found President Bush retains an unusually high approval rating of 70 percent. A large majority of Americans say they do not support the current administration.

tested and revered in times of crisis and if ever there was a period when crisis doesn't describe the situation, this is it."

Wirthlin, who has done polling for both Ronald Reagan and Bush, during the past two

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:10.

II. Everyone was present.

III. Agenda was approved as amended.

IV. Minutes were approved.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that Monday was his last Board of Trustees meeting and it went well, etc. Reminder: Tomorrow begins the annual fertility rites in the Southern Philippines Island.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that the Board Meeting was nice and long on Monday and Dave gave a good farewell and the Board really showed their appreciation for Dave's leadership these past years. Bob also mentioned that Point Bonita is confirmed for the CSA Fall Retreat and SRJC CSA may also be able to "blend an agenda with San Jose State," who will also be there at the same time.

Ronda reported that the theme for Hot Dog Day on Wednesday, May 23rd, is "Day at the Beach."

C. Student Lounge Registration Phones: Bob met with Bev Johnson and Ricardo Navarrette concerning the installation of three to five touch-tone phones to aid students in phone registration for the fall semester. Executive Cabinet discussed this issue.

D. Recycling Containers: Bob mentioned that he talked to Nancy Moorehead concerning the purchasing of recycling containers. It was suggested that we take Nancy up on this offer. Dave added that Jennifer Aldridge (Environmental Issues Co-chair) is trying to contact Nancy.

E. DUO Golf Balls: M. Scott reported that there was a mess up with the Day Under the Oaks Golf Balls that the Associated Students ordered. They now read, "Santa Rosa Junior College" instead of "SRJC Associated Students." However, Executive Cabinet decided to keep the balls and sell them as is.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. ASBOOTM for May: It was decided by consensus to approve Amy Haddix for ASBOOTM for May.

B. ASBOOTM for the year: It was decided by consensus to approve Jennifer Aldridge for ASB Officer of the Year.

C. NACA San Diego: Mike Dolin mentioned the fact that his sister is getting married on June 17th, and he will have to miss the first two days of the retreat, but he still wants to go for the last two days. Executive Cabinet discussed this issue extensively.

It was moved to allow Mike the option of paying half the cost of $458 to attend NACA San Diego.

M/S/F

It was moved to allow Mike the option of paying $325 (the cost of registration) instead of $458, pending that Mike arrives at the school on Sunday night.

M/S/F

It was moved that the Associated Students pay a maximum of $229 to send Mike Dolin to NACA San Diego, with the stipulation that he arrives at the school by Sunday evening, June 17th.

M/S/F

It was moved to vote immediately.

M/S/C

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Funds for CSA Awards: Dave requested that Executive Cabinet allocate $51 for the purchase of additional CSA awards.

It was moved to allocate $51, out of Spring Special Allocations, for the purchase of additional CSA awards.

M/S/C

Dave previously allocated $140, out of Executive Cabinet funds, with Executive Cabinet members' approval.

B. DUO Golf Balls: M. Scott suggested that the Associated Students pass our purchasing discount of the messed up balls onto the consumers.

It was moved to change the selling price of the Golf Balls from $12 to $10 a sleeve.

M/S/C

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. A.V. AS P.A./DUO: Bob mentioned that the AV Department wants to borrow the Associated Students' P.A. System for Day Under the Oaks.

It was moved to allow the Audio Visual Department to borrow the Associated Students' P.A. System for Day Under the Oaks.

M/S/C

B. Recycling Line Item: Dave mentioned that money is coming in from recycling and we need a fund to put it into. Dave also said that Brian Buck needs to be reimbursed $69.08 for the costs involved with the construction of the coop recycling box. It was decided to bring this issue back next meeting with more information.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. CSA Banquet: M. Scott announced that CSA will dine at La Gare French restaurant on Monday, May 21st.

B. New Truck: Mike announced that he got a Mazda truck!

C. Mikalson's Retirement Dinner: Dave announced that he gets to say a three minute speech at Mikalson's Retirement Dinner on Saturday, May 19th.

D. Day Under the Oaks: Pleas reminded Executive Cabinet that Day Under the Oaks is Sunday, May 20th.

E. Alumni Association Breakfast: Mark announced that the Alumni Association Breakfast is Sunday, May 20th, at 8:00am.

MINUTES

I. The meeting was called to order at 3:15.

II. E.C. Gregory was absent.

III. Agenda was approved.

IV. Minutes were approved as amended.

V. REPORTS

A. President: Dave reported that the Associated Students received a letter from MADD thanking us for our donation in Kirsten Venge's name. Dave also mentioned that although he approached his political science test today with much apprehension, he's hoping for a C.

B. Advisors: Bob reported that Hot Dog/Sausage/Chili Day went well today and everything went fast. Bob also mentioned that he turned in his final term paper for his degree and he will be marching on June 1st to get his MPA! In addition, Bob added that the CSA Banquet on Monday evening was great at La Gare and he thanked Ronda again for her hard work this year. Bob is also looking forward to Memorial Day Weekend.

Ronda reported Hot Dog Day - "Day at the Beach" was a great success and she thanked everyone for helping out. Ronda also mentioned that all members of Executive Cabinet should be sure to sign up to work fall arena registration, or else.

C. Faculty Profile: Mary shared some of her new ideas of improving and expanding Faculty Profile for next year. Executive Cabinet gave her some feedback and expressed their opinions.

VI. APPOINTMENTS

A. There were no appointments at this time.

VII. OLD BUSINESS

A. Mac: Dave mentioned that next year's Executive Cabinet should look into posting a correct use of Mac/copy machine information sheet and a policy may be needed to state Associated Students precedence work, so that it is understood by all. M. Scott suggested having a sign-up sheet posted on the Mac. In addition, M. Scott suggested posting a "Tier List" that would designate priority projects of Associated Students/Student Activities Office work. Bob added that a request has been put in with the district for another Mac for Student Activities Office work. Then the Apple IIE at the front desk would then be available for Word Processing.

VIII. NEW BUSINESS

A. La Gare Thank You: Mary mentioned that it would be nice if CSA thanked La Gare French restaurant for their wonderful hospitality on Monday night. It was decided to have Mary send the owners of La Gare French restaurant two Associated Students' t-shirts along with a thank-you card.

B. Dave Summer Thank You: Mark mentioned that it would be nice if someone thanked Dave Summer for everything he has done for the Associated Students' this year. It was decided to have Mark prepare a "Certificate of Appreciation" for Dave Summer, thanking him for his excellent service to the Associated Students.

IX. ANNOUNCEMENTS

A. New Baby: Angela announced that after eight and a half months, her cousin had a baby boy.

B. Campus Police: Mark announced that the Campus Police is having their annual banquet for $21 a pop, on Friday, June 1st.

IN THE BEGINNING was the Plan and then came the assumptions, and the assumptions were without form, and the plan was completely without substance;
and the darkness was upon the face of the employees, and they spoke amongst themselves saying,
"It is a crock of shit and it stinks!"
and the employees went unto their supervisor saying:
"It is a crock of dung and none may abide the odor therefrom."
and the supervisors went unto their managers saying,
"It is a container of excrement and it is very strong, such that none may abide by it."
and the managers went unto their division managers' saying,
"It is a vessel of fertilizer and none may abide by it's strength."
and the division managers went unto their system managers saying,
"It contains that which aids plant growth and it is very strong."
and the system managers went unto the General manager saying,
"It promotes growth and is very powerful!"
and the General manager went unto the Board saying,
"This new plan will actively promote the growth and efficiency of this Organization!"
and the Board looked upon the Plan and saw that it was good, and the Plan was made to become policy!
THIS IS HOW SHIT HAPPENS.
